LANG SLAYERS GET 180 YEARS

FORD COMPANY HELD TARGET OF 'SOAK RICH' TAX

Hearings Concluded by Senate Body.

Gold Suits Approved

The senate yesterday passed a modified form of the administration bill to bar suits on the gold clause. This measure would permit suit against the government for losses through gold clause abrogation for six months after the bill becomes a law. The house had passed the bill in its original form and the measure now must go to conference for adjustment of differences. Details on page 11.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—As the senate finance committee concluded hearings on President Roosevelt's soak the rich tax program today, with the hope of reporting out a bill early next week, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan delivered the opening blast of the Republican opposition on the senate floor. He took the case of the much discussed Ford Motor company, directly employing 150,000 workmen, and predicted this fate:

"Bluntly, it will be driven into the hands of Wall street, or its equivalent; and the money changers, who have striven vainly in years past to achieve this end, and whom this administration says it proposes to drive from the temple, will have been handed the dominion which in no other manner could be obtained."

Whole Program Assailed.

The finance committee, at its last public hearing, heard a severe indictment of the whole tax program by Ellsworth C. Alvord, member of the committee on federal finance of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and former tax expert of the treasury department. Instead of the 270 million dollars proponents of the house bill claim it will produce in revenue, Mr. Alvord said it would "have no permanent effect upon the revenue but will interfere with recovery.

"Of course," said Mr. Alvord, "the increase in the corporation income tax rate will give you more money, but you will lose a proportional amount in your personal income taxes and you will lose what you would have gained if you had not added these taxes."

Mr. Alvord assailed the proposal to write a new tax title such as the proposed inheritance and related gift taxes in a few days and challenged the committee to ask its own legislative counsel whether it could properly be done in less than a year.

Proceed Slowly, Is Advice.

"Give him a year. That's the time we used to take to do it," the witness declared. "And in the old days we used to prepare a revenue measure with the budget before us so it would have some relation to receipts and expenditures."

Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee, facetiously inquired of Mr. Alvord whether the chamber of commerce "would have us write a tax bill that would now balance the budget."

"Our position on balancing the budget is well known," the witness said. "Give us a chance to increase our income and the present law will produce all the revenue you need. The present law is exceedingly high. If any revenue can be produced it will produce it. We must have recovery before there can be more revenue."

Finds Some Consolation.

Senator Harrison found some consolation in the witness' testimony with respect to the corporation excess profits tax, graduated from 5 to 20 per cent, as contained in the house bill. President Roosevelt did not mention the excess profits tax in his message and Senator Harrison does not want to go outside that message, although the alternative is the graduated corporation tax which the house rejected save in principle.

Mr. Alvord quoted Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.] as saying when he was Woodrow Wilson's secretary of the treasury in 1919:

"It [the excess profits tax] encourages wasteful expenditures, puts a premium on overcapitalization, and a penalty on brains, energy, and enterprise, discourages new ventures, and confirms old ventures in their monopolies. In many instances it acts as a consumption tax . . . and has been and will, as long as it is maintained on the statute books, continue to be a material factor in the increased cost of living."

Senator Harrison asked whether Mr.

Naval Workers Led in Revolt by Reds.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 8.—Five persons were killed and between 100 and 200 wounded, many of them seriously, in new pay cut rioting which flared tonight in Toulon, France's principal Mediterranean naval port.

[Other reports put the number of dead in the day's fighting at eight.]

The rioters, mostly naval arsenal workers led by communists, were demonstrating against Premier Pierre Laval's recent economy decrees which slashed salaries of all governmental employés by 10 per cent in an effort to balance the budget and save the franc from devaluation.

The streets of Toulon were being heavily patroled late tonight by armed detachments of the national constabulary and mobile guards, and it was believed the situation was temporarily, at least, under control. Two hundred troops are en route to the city.

Call Reds Ringleaders.

As in previous rioting communists, who succeeded in agitating the workers in the naval arsenal, were pointed to by authorities as the ringleaders. The demonstrators moved from the suburbs late in the afternoon toward the center of the city. They apparently planned to repeat the scenes of pillage of two days ago when they raided cafés along the water front.

The authorities, however, were ready for them this time, not leaving the work of repression to local police, who are suspected of sympathizing with the rioters. Searchlights brought from the naval arsenal were played on the streets and behind the lights the mobile guards opened fire.

The rioters attempted to invade the main railway station and also the gas works. Senegalese tirailleurs guarding the latter repulsed the attackers. Resentment is already being expressed in Paris against the use of blacks to battle Frenchmen.

Other Demonstrations.

It was the most serious demonstration so far against Laval's decrees.

The state of tension was signalized by other demonstrations, especially in naval arsenal ports, where communist propaganda has taken a firm hold.

At Le Havre the seamen's strike remained unsettled. The strikers refused to accept the government's terms, and the liner Champlain, already one day late, was unable to sail on its voyage to America. The 800 disgruntled passengers were seeking passage on boats of other nations.

At Cherbourg communist agitators entered the arsenal and tried to persuade workers who were building a submarine to lay down their tools, but were unsuccessful.

At Lorient, a west coast naval base and shipyard, workers paraded through the town singing the "Internationale."

Brest Remains Restless.

Brest remained restless, but the presence of thirty-five platoons of mobile guards with rifles ready for action had a calming effect on shipping strike demonstrators.

A spokesman for the ministry of interior claimed tonight that nowhere, not even at Toulon, were the rioters at any time the masters of the situation.

Despite the protest uproar of the last few days, Laval continues to pursue his policy of budget balancing.

A new batch of forty-one decrees was signed by President Albert Lebrun tonight and will be published tomorrow. They are expected to have a mollifying effect on the situation, being mainly concerned with bringing down the cost of living.

Seeks to Lower Meat Price.

The chief offensive will be against the price of meat. Laval will attempt to fix by fiat the cost of all ordinary cuts, leaving the luxury meats to the operation of the law of supply and demand. Other decrees are designed to bring down interest rates, which are now excessively high in France, and to get hoarded capital into circulation.

One of the laws abolishes 23 industrial import quotas, but officials did not make immediately known what quotas were affected. Gradual elimination of quotas in an effort to stimulate foreign trade and business recovery has long been forecast.

The opinion of political observers is that the communists have overplayed their hand this week, antagonized the trade union workers by unnecessary violence and frightened the huge middle class. It is believed that consequently the common front for political action, which has existed for a year between the communist and other left wing parties, will be weakened.

ITALIAN CABINET LEADER, 6 OTHERS KILLED IN PLANE

ROME, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Seven Italians, including a cabinet minister and an explorer, were killed last night in an airplane crash on the Egyptian desert while on an inspection flight to Eritrea.

Three passengers and four members of the crew of the commercial plane met death in the disaster, which did not become known until today because the scene was far from any habitation.

They included Luigi Razza, 43, minister of public works who had made a brilliant rise to become one of Premier Mussolini's chief lieutenants, and Raimondo Franchetti, 46, the explorer.

[A London dispatch said Vicenzo Minasi, an Italian consul, and Maj. Raffaele Boetani, the pilot, were among the other victims.]

Razza's mission in Africa, the propaganda ministry said, was connected entirely with civil works. It was believed he was on a tour of inspection of air line and air travel facilities in connection with the establishment of commercial flying service to Italy's East African colonies.

Razza was one of Mussolini's young men brought to the forefront by a recent order of Il Duce's "changing the guard" of Italian administrators. He was made minister of public works Jan. 24, 1935. Previously he had served as a parliamentary deputy from Valentia.

Franchetti was an authority on Africa and Ethiopia, where he had made many expeditions. He also visited the Malay Islands, Indo-China, and Annam.

PARKS OVERTIME IN LOOP, KEEPING COP LONG HOURS

From 6 o'clock last night until the early hours of this morning Policeman Robert L. Norton was posted at State and Madison streets, waiting for a thoughtless motorist to come and get his automobile. This was annoying to Policeman Norton, who was due off duty at midnight.

The automobile, subsequently traced by the license to Louis A. Kanter, a florist at 3702 North Western avenue, was first noticed parked in Madison street near State about 11 a. m. Traffic policemen kept their eyes on it.

As the afternoon shift came on the police passed the word along. In the evening another shift began watching the car. Finally it was decided that a special detail ought to be assigned, and Policeman Norton became the special detail.

A telephone call to Kanter's home elicited the information that he had informed his family he was taking a day off and was going to spend it at the Covenant club, of which he is a member.

At 2:30 a. m. Mr. Kanter appeared and received his ticket. Policeman Norton, heaving a sigh of relief, departed for home.

Green Fears Spread

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—The possibility of a nation-wide strike among WPA workers was expressed by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, here tonight at the close of the day's session of the meeting of the executive council of the organization.

"All day we have been receiving reports from all sections of the country of skilled workers expressing dissatisfaction over the security wage being paid to those who are being transferred from the relief rolls to work projects under the WPA.

"In New York there is every indication that the strike will become city-wide, and there is no telling what proportions it will assume nationally."

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—With 770 men already on strike, the building trades unions tonight pushed forward plans by which their officials calculated, from 10,000 to 15,000 men would be called off Works Progress administration jobs, refusing longer to accept the WPA wage of $93.50 a month.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, in a twice delivered speech, attacked the union arguments as "either an absurd misunderstanding or a most dishonest and unfair perversion of the truth."

In Washington, Harry L. Hopkins, head of the WPA, declared there could be no "strike against relief." He said the work was provided for those who needed relief, but that those who did not want to work did not have to. "What happens to them after that is not our business, but the concern of their states."

In a last minute effort to avert the strike the general told 160 men, representing unions involved in the strike, that the monthly "security pay" rates of $93.50 the WPA was paying were better than they ever had earned even under their best prevailing rate, over a period of five years.

He emphasized his contention that the scale paid for three weeks' work a month, while lower than the prevailing rate as figured in hours, could not, as they argued, open the door for private industry to batter their wage rates down. Instead, he told them, it offered them security, a position from which to resist all efforts by private employers to cut their earnings.

The general pounded the table with his fist, shook his finger at his audience, and stopped now and then to hear and answer questions from the floor.

After an hour and a quarter of it, Johnson left them unchanged and unaffected by his demand that there be no strike. Then he went on the air and made his same speech again.

Meantime the workers already had voted to proceed with a schedule set up July 12. At that time the Central Trades and Labor council had sent out a letter to all locals recommending that they "take proper action, so that under no circumstances will trade unionists be permitted to work at jobs at less than the prevailing rate of wages."

This action had been taken before Johnson appeared. After he left another poll was taken, and it still was a unanimous strike vote.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 8.—After our good-bys were said to the Alexander W. Weddells [he is United States ambassador to Argentina], the Robert Carrs and many other American and Argentine friends who have kept us so pleasantly on the jump our hop to Montevideo, Uruguay, was postponed, because of a dense fog, until tomorrow. This is the trip's first delay on account of the weather. A much needed rain today delighted the nation.

The local zoo, situated in the heart of the city, is attractively landscaped and has buildings which conform architecturally with the styles in the countries where the animals originate. Many birds, peacocks and small animals roam unconfined over the lawns. Children ride llamas. There are excellent South American types.

Twenty years ago Kermit Roosevelt and Hayden Harris were here and the latter bought two King penguins, which live in a warmer latitude than the antarctic Emperor penguins, and took them to New York on shipboard. They lived until one invaded a neighbor's garden and overate unwisely and quite fatally. The other penguin pined and died of some penguinary complaint, probably a broken heart.

Judge Annuls 'Gin' Marriage; Starts a Row

After a turbulent court hearing in which the alleged "marriage mill" in Lake county was severely criticized from the bench, Judge Joseph B. David of the Cook county Superior court yesterday granted a marriage annulment to a red haired Chicago girl who pleaded that she was intoxicated when the ceremony was performed in Waukegan on the night of last May 31.

The ruling, which was not based on the alleged intoxication [Judge David stated that the evidence tended to show the bride was not drunk], and the manner in which the hearing was conducted were condemned last night by State's Attorney Charles E. Mason of Lake county, who attended the court session.

Asks Annulment Be Set Aside.

"I am going to ask the American Bar association and the Chicago Bar association to make an investigation of this case and of Judge David's court," Mr. Mason said. "I am also going to request Attorney General Kerner of Illinois to aid in having this annulment, which was granted when all the evidence showed it should not have been granted, set aside.

"At the personal request of Judge David, and his assurance that I would be treated courteously, I went to the hearing. With me went the officials who were concerned with the marriage, and several witnesses. We were not treated courteously. The officials were not allowed to tell their whole story and the other witnesses were not heard at all—and I had been asked to bring all the evidence I could.

Charges "Cheap Political Stunt."

"Judge David made a circus of his courtroom. He played to the crowd. The Lake county officials, including myself, were given a rotten deal. It was clear that the judge brought us there to embarrass us and have slurs cast on us. When I tried to talk he adjourned court rather than listen to the truths I wanted to expound.

"Judge David used the court to carry out a cheap political stunt."

When Judge David was informed last night of Mr. Mason's announcement that he would ask an investigation the judge said:

"O, let him go to hell. I don't care what he does."

The court hearing yesterday was spirited throughout. The bride, Christine Webb Marti, 22 years old, of the Burton hotel at 1429 North Clark street, created something of a sensation when she admitted that she drank her bourbon straight and didn't like gin. The husband, now a husband no more, is Joseph Marti, a former prize fighter. He was not in court.

Special $5 Night License.

They were joined in holy matrimony—the certificate so states in large letters—by Justice of the Peace Henry Wallenwein of Waukegan after County Clerk Lew A. Hendee of Lake county had issued one of the special licenses he takes home with him at night. [The usual daytime fee to the clerk is $1, but testimony before Judge David showed that he got $5 for this one.]

Much conflict developed in the testimony concerning the way the bride reacted to her liquor, if any. She declared that she knew she was in Waukegan when the knot was tied, but

COURT'S RULING INSURES LIFE IN PRISON FOR PAIR

Mrs. Dunkel Weeps; Companion Grins.

Mrs. Blanche Dunkel, 44 years old, and Mrs. Evelyn Smith, 46 years old, were sentenced yesterday to serve 180 years each at hard labor in the penitentiary for the murder of Mrs. Dunkel's son-in-law, Ervin Lang, 28 year old grocery clerk. The sentences were imposed by Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court, who found the women guilty on Wednesday after hearing the case without a jury.

Mrs. Dunkel, a grandmother, who has been four times married and divorced, wept while the judge read his decision on the punishment; Mrs. Smith, former burlesque strip dancer and laundress, stared calmly ahead.

Judge Harrington told the women that he had considered sending them to the electric chair for the slaying, as demanded by the state, but was of the opinion that such penalties would be "anesthetics" to their consciences and would be an "easy and painless passing from this existence."

Electric Chair Too Easy.

Therefore, he said, he was inflicting the 180 year penalty that would forever remove them from society and would be a "living death, a constant, hourly, daily, and yearly reminder" of the consequences of the cold-blooded killing of Lang, to which both confessed.

The judge further decreed that on each July 6, the anniversary of Lang's death, the women shall spend the day in solitary confinement.

Mrs. Dunkel and Mrs. Smith were locked in the county jail last night. It was considered probable that they would be removed to the women's reformatory at Dwight today if Frank G. Sain, warden of the jail, receives the mittimus papers from Sheriff Toman.

Eligible for Parole in 60 Years.

Under the statute each woman will be eligible for parole only after she has served sixty years of the sentence. Therefore Mrs. Dunkel would have to live to 104 years and Mrs. Smith to 106 years before they could hope for parole. If they had been sentenced to life imprisonment they would have been eligible for parole after serving 20 years of their terms.

Immediately after the sentences were pronounced deputy sheriffs hurried the women to the county jail. Mrs. Dunkel was weeping profusely, her chin quivering and a handkerchief pressed to her face. Mrs. Smith was half smiling. Her first remark as she was being carried down in the elevator was a request for a cigaret, which was supplied.

Expects "a Happy Home."

"I wonder what Blanche is going to do now," she said, smiling. "For myself, I can take it on the chin. I don't care. I have nobody to disgrace and the public can be damned. I think I'll have a better home at Dwight than I ever had before in my life. You can tell anybody that's interested that I'm retiring now."

She was asked if she ever again expected to see her Chinese husband, Harry Jung, who is still at large. Jung aided his wife in disposing of Lang's torso and legs after Mrs. Smith had murdered the youth in her apartment at 731 Barry avenue early on the morning of July 6.

Mrs. Dunkel and Mrs. Smith had plied Lang with liquor and after he fell asleep Mrs. Dunkel left. Mrs. Smith then administered ether to the unconscious grocery clerk and strangled him with a rope. Later she sawed the legs from his body.

A Farewell to Jung.

Jung and Mrs. Smith threw the torso into a swamp near Hammond, where it was discovered on July 9. They hid the legs in a ditch about eight miles south of Hammond, near Munster, Ind. The legs were found July 18.

In response to the question about seeing Jung in the future she said: "Him? No, he'll never show up around me."

"I hear Mrs. Dunkel says she shouldn't have gotten as severe a punishment as I did," Mrs. Smith continued. "Well, she certainly should. If she hadn't lied to me this would never have happened."

By "lying," Mrs. Smith apparently referred to Mrs. Dunkel's statement to her that she [Mrs. Dunkel] was not jealous of Lang. Mrs. Dunkel had at first maintained that she wanted Lang slain because he was not properly attentive to the memory of her daughter Mallie—Lang's wife—who died last Dec. 20, and was keeping company with Miss Josephine McKinley, 23 years old, whom he planned to marry.

In a supplementary confession, revealed Wednesday by the state at the trial, Mrs. Dunkel admitted she had been having relations with Lang in their apartment at 1212 Waveland avenue, beginning within two months after her daughter's death and continuing until July 2, when she had already planned his murder.

Mrs. Dunkel's first remark after she had heard her sentence was: "I'd rather have gotten the chair."

Afterward, as she wept in her cell across the jail corridor from Mrs. Smith, she declared: "I don't think I'll try to live."

Extra bailiffs have been assigned to guard her against the possibility that she may attempt suicide.

Crowds Storm Courtroom.

The courtroom was jammed as the time approached for Judge Harrington to read his decision on the punishment. Hundreds stood outside, unable to gain admittance. As has been the case throughout the trial, most of the spectators were women.

Mrs. Dunkel began to weep as she was led in. Mrs. Smith grinned. Both willingly posed for photographers. Then Judge Harrington entered. He is 38 years old, and this is the first important murder case he has tried, his task being made more difficult because both women waived a jury and he had to pass on the evidence alone.

The two women stood up before the bench. On one side of them was Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty, who prosecuted the case, and on the other side was Public Defender Benjamin Bachrach, counsel for the women.

Bailiffs formed a solid row behind the principals. Then Judge Harrington read his decision, a three page document. After stating formally that the two women had been found guilty, he said:

"After the examination of all of the evidence, ably presented by the state, and the admissions of each of the defendants, I am satisfied that the crime committed by you defendants, and each of you, was one of the most vicious, premeditated assassinations of a human being, coldly plotted and unfeelingly executed.

Punishment Is Twofold.

"The law of Illinois provides as punishment for the crime of murder that 'whoever is guilty of murder shall suffer the punishment of death or imprisonment in the penitentiary for his natural life, or for a term of not less than fourteen years.'

"The purpose of punishment is twofold. First, the physical punishment of the individual for his or her offense against the rules of society. Second, to act as a deterrent for crime and a protection of society from those criminally disposed.

"It appears from the evidence that you defendants throughout the commission of this crime indicated a cold indifference to the possible penalty of death in the electric chair and from the court's observation of your conduct and demeanor in court and on the witness stand, I am of the opinion that infliction of the death penalty and a swift execution would be an anesthetic to your consciences, a relief from the punishment you are now undergoing, and be an easy and painless passing from this existence.

Death Too Merciful.

"The infliction of such a penalty would be mercy to you defendants in the light of the punishment the court has concluded to inflict.

"Blanche Dunkel, you have no past record of infractions of the law prior to the present offense. I am satisfied from all the evidence that you were the prime mover and plotter of the death of Ervin Lang although you took no actual participation in the physical killing, but you are as guilty as the defendant Smith, who actually perpetrated the crime.

"Evelyn Smith, the evidence discloses you as the actual killer; that you were encouraged and easily influenced by the defendant, Blanche Dunkel, to commit this murder without the slightest feeling for the consequences of your act.

"You have been a nomad throughout your life, unrestrained and undisciplined from an early age. Yet, however, your record does not disclose any previous infractions of the law prior to the present case.

"The punishment the court will inflict will be a deterrent to crime and an admonition to the society of criminals that you are suffering a living death, tortured by your consciences, and at work at hard labor behind the gray walls of the penitentiary deprived of your liberty for the balance of your days."

Judge Harrington then imposed sentence on both women.

'100-PLUS' SENTENCES BROUGHT INTO USE BY CRIME WAR OF 1933

The 100 year prison sentences imposed yesterday on Mrs. Blanche Dunkel and Mrs. Evelyn Smith for the murder of Ervin Lang recalled other instances in Cook county within the last two years in which murderers have received long prison terms. As a result of the war on crime begun by the Criminal court judges in 1933 several convicted slayers were sentenced to 199 years.

Such penalties are regarded as more severe than life terms because the prisoners must serve at least one-third of the sentence before being eligible for parole, whereas under life sentences they can be paroled after twenty years.

Only one woman has been sentenced to a 199 year term. She is Mrs. Eleanor Jarman, who was given that penalty by a jury before Judge Philip Finnegan on Sept. 1, 1933. Mrs. Jarman and George Dale and Leo Minnecl were convicted of the murder of Gustave Hoeh, 71 year old haberdasher. Dale was electrocuted and Mrs. Jarman and Minnecl were sentenced to serve 199 years.

Among others serving 199 year sentences are John Bongiorno, convicted by a jury before Judge Harry B. Miller on Sept. 7, 1933, of the murder of Policeman Harry Redlich, and Tony Rocco, convicted by a jury before the late Judge Charles Molthrop on Sept. 22, 1933, of the murder of Policeman Maurice Marcusson.

The Criminal court justices began the organized war on crime following the slaying of Policeman John Sevick by John Scheck in the court of Judge Molthrop on July 24, 1933. Scheck was electrocuted.

GIRL, 19; BOY, 16, AND TWO MEN ADMIT HOLDUPS

Two men, a 19 year old girl, and a 16 year old boy were in police custody last night after admitting that they had been involved in several robberies and "jack-rolling" forays. The prisoners are:

Miss Angeline Hermanski, 19 years old, 1056 North Damen avenue; Louis Domanski, 16 years old, same address; James J. Mackie, 1227 Monroe street, and Joseph Esposito, 3521 Franklin boulevard.

Miss Hermanski was seen early yesterday sitting in an automobile with young Domanski outside of the ice cream parlor of Charles Dumanowski, 1109 North Ashland avenue. Later it was learned that Mackie and Esposito were inside at the time robbing Dumanowski of $40 in cash.

The person who had seen the girl, and whose name the police did not reveal, reported that Miss Hermanski had been there at the time of the robbery. Police arrested her at home, and she confessed, implicating the others. Mackie and Esposito were arrested at their homes, and police found a loaded pistol at each place.

PREPARE TO MOVE BRITONS TO SAFE ETHIOPIAN ZONES

Send "War Instructions" to All Missionaries.

BY WILL BARBER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, Aug. 8.—Instructions for the concentration of all British missionaries at key points in the back country in the event that anti-foreign feeling becomes violent were announced today by the British legation. The missionaries will be guarded in certain towns by Ethiopian troops upon instructions of Emperor Haile Selassie.

The American chargé d'affaires, Cornelius Van H. Engert, said that American missionaries are likely to join the British, but that no instructions have been given since the state department advised Americans to leave Ethiopia on July 5.

Instructions of the British legation were sent to the heads of missions in Addis Ababa to be forwarded without delay, but it will be weeks before some of the missionaries, notably those with the Sudan interior mission, can receive them.

Few Telegraph Wires.

Only a few towns of Ethiopia can be reached by telegraph and many missionaries will not get orders until Ethiopian runners, carrying letters at the end of a notched stick, can plod their way through the mud that is now choking all the roads and trails.

The British measure is only a precaution, and no order for the evacuation of British subjects has been given. There is no reason for alarm at the moment, and if the back country is as calm as Addis Ababa the missionaries are not in immediate danger.

The towns picked out for the concentration of British missionaries are in the west, Lekemti and Gambela, in the north, Dessie and Debra Tabor, and in the south, Soddu and Yerga Alen.

May Flee to Sudan.

The missionaries in the west alternatively can quit Ethiopia by entering the Sudan, and those in the south can go to Kenya colony.

The missionaries in the east will concentrate at Harrar or Diredawa on the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad. In the event of anti-foreign violence there will be a general retirement from Addis Ababa awaiting possible evacuation.

Women missionaries due for leaves were advised to take them either in Addis Ababa or to go home at once, taking their children with them.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Aug. 9 [Friday].—Japan is establishing a legation in Ethiopia in January, according to a decision reached yesterday. Strangely enough, Toshiharu Harima, first secretary of the embassy at Rome, is understood to have been chosen to head the legation as chargé d'affaires.

Harima, who recently was instructed to return to Japan, was chosen, it is understood, because he is well acquainted with the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Ethiopia meanwhile is planning to dispatch a friendly mission to Japan.

MME. AMELITA GALLI-CURCI.

Mme. Amelita Galli-Curci, noted diva, will enter the Henrotin hospital this morning for observation. Hospital officials said she would be the patient of Dr. Arnold H. Kegel, who was out of the city yesterday. The singer's managers in New York announced, according to dispatches, that she would undergo an operation for the removal of a goiter. They said the ailment was discovered when Mme. Galli-Curci was in Japan recently on an around the world concert tour.

The mission is expected to leave Addis Ababa secretly in a short time.

Duce Orders Secret War Drills.

ROME, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini gave strict orders today that gigantic military maneuvers to be held near the Brenner [illegible] be kept secret. More than 500,000 men will take part in the war drills, to be held some time this month along the serried Alpine range.

Il Duce gave his orders for secrecy in response to queries from foreign correspondents for the privilege of witnessing the maneuvers.

"No form of newspaper man will be allowed," said his spokesman, who laughed when asked if photographers would be allowed.

Italy Gets 2 Canadian Ships.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The Italian government, which is organizing a great fleet of troop ships for a probable East African campaign, has acquired the Minnedosa and the Melita, former Canadian Pacific liners, it was learned today.

Robbers Are Polite but Remember Their Business

The police yesterday were searching for two obliging robbers who held up Dr. Stanford T. Bolstead and his wife, Daisy, in their office-residence on the second floor at 2447 Jackson boulevard. The robbers got water for Mrs. Bolstead when she appeared about to faint, refrained from shooting her dog at her request, and fled with $84.

FIREWATER NOT PART OF INDIAN HOME RULE PLAN

Yuma, Ariz., Aug. 8.—(AP)—A craving for forbidden "fire water" and belief the government's new home rule plan exempted them from arrest by white officers were blamed by Sheriff T. H. Newman tonight for an Indian "uprising" reminiscent of the days of the tomahawk.

Fifteen Mojave tribesmen were in jail—nine here and six at Parker—while federal and county officers investigated the outbreak, the first serious trouble between red men and whites in Arizona in nearly 20 years.

A human skull mounted on a stock, found on the property of Constable J. A. Joplin, was regarded by white officers as a grim warning that the feeling among the Mojave braves had not subsided.

The "uprising" flared at Parker Saturday night when Deputy Sheriff Jim Washum arrested a Mojave tribesman on an intoxication charge. About 20 braves, armed with clubs and stones, attacked Washum and freed the prisoner. Constable Joplin went to Washum's aid. A squad of deputy sheriffs from Yuma went to Parker and restored order.

Bomb Exploded in Cuban Cemetery; Hits Mausoleums

(Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.)

HAVANA, Aug. 9.—A bomb exploded tonight in a Santiago cemetery, damaging the mausoleums of Toten Bacardi, son of the founder of the famous rum company, and of Thomas Estrada Palma, the first president of Cuba.

WILEY POST DELAYED BY RAIN IN ALASKA; NEXT HOP UNCERTAIN

JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Steady rainfall held up the "flying vacation" plans of Will Rogers and Wiley Post today. Rogers rushed out to buy a pair of rubbers and a raincoat. Post renewed his friendship with Joe Crosson, Alaska aviator.

Overnight guests of Gov. John W. Troy at the executive mansion, following their eight hour flight here yesterday from Seattle, the round-the-world flyer and the film comedian were still indefinite about their immediate plans.

Cop Arriving for Vacation Meets Bandits First Thing

Having spent a hard week catching robbers and the like, Policeman Roy McCourt of Burlington, Wis., came to Chicago for a few days of vacation. The first people he met were five bandits, who robbed him of $37, and his companion, Wesley Pence, also of Burlington, of $13.50. McCourt told Chicago Lawn police he was driving south in Western avenue when, at 61st street, an automobile with five men, two of them holding shotguns, pulled up and motioned him to the curb. Believing them to be a police squad, he complied without question, only to be told it was "a stickup."

U. S. AGENTS ARE FOUND IN ROLES OF RUM DEALERS

Group Profits on Sales to Ohio Board.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Half a dozen treasury department officials in Ohio and Michigan, who have been operating a private liquor syndicate "on the side," have been called on the carpet before Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. for disciplinary action, inquiry disclosed today.

Carl E. Moore, collector of internal revenue at Cleveland and former campaign manager for Senator Robert J. Bulkley [Dem., O.]; Carl Pollack, deputy collector of customs at Cleveland; Bert Brown, secret service agent at Detroit; a secret service agent in Ohio, and an unnamed Ohio lawyer are five of the persons involved, it was learned.

Profit as Middlemen.

These five, investing little or no capital, formed a syndicate through which they bought liquor from Standard Brands, Inc., and sold it to the Ohio state liquor commission, reaping profits as the middlemen, investigators have found.

The racket was uncovered some weeks ago when J. H. Moyle, commissioner of customs, called unexpectedly at the Cleveland office and was told by one of the clerks that the deputy collector was out of town "on his liquor business," it is reported.

Secretary Morgenthau today promised speedy action on the cases before him as investigators finish looking into certain new angles. It is reported, but not confirmed, that the treasury suspects the officials of operating a beer syndicate as well.

May Lose Jobs.

Dismissal or some less drastic executive action may be taken against the officials, but the treasury is understood to believe that there is no legal infraction for which the five can be prosecuted.

The liquor syndicate is reported to have been formed last year and to have grown out of a meeting between Secret Service Agent Brown and the Ohio secret service man. Brown, who has figured also in the investigation of war department contracts by the house military affairs committee, is reported to have remarked that Standard Brands was finding difficulty in selling its products to the Ohio state liquor commission, sole purveyor of liquor in the state.

Upon returning to Cleveland, the Ohio agent took the question up with Pollack, who was a good friend of the chairman of the state liquor commission. Pollack in turn discussed it with Moore, and the three of them consulted a lawyer.

No Money Invested.

Formation of a syndicate of which Brown, Pollack, Moore, the lawyer, and the Ohio secret service man were members was the upshot. None of them invested any money. They bought liquor from Standard Brands and resold it to the Ohio State Liquor commission, netting a middleman's profit.

Brown, in Detroit, received 18 per cent of the net and the rest was split among the Ohioans. In addition the Ohio officials made several trips, all on government time, in connection with their liquor business, receiving compensation from the syndicate for their special work.

Complaints by Brown that he was not receiving a fair share led to dissolution of the syndicate early this year and substitution of a closed corporation in which each of the five officials, or some one connected with them, held stock. Thereafter the profits were split 20 per cent to each member.

Hides Behind Wife.

This stock is being used by some of the implicated officials in an effort to explain away their connections with the enterprise. One of the five declares that he had no knowledge of the stock, which was in his wife's name.

Secretary Morgenthau had a full report of all these facts before him a week ago, when, according to unconfirmed reports, agents of the treasury were tipped off that there was a beer as well as a liquor selling syndicate in Ohio involving federal officials. Disciplinary action was postponed temporarily.

WISCONSIN FIRE KILLS SCIENTIST, MOTHER, WORKER

F. J. W. Schmidt's Chicago Kin Safe.

Stanley, Wis., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Three persons were burned to death this morning in a fire that destroyed a two story frame farmhouse four and one-half miles southeast of here.

The victims were Frank J. W. Schmidt, 34, biologist for the Wisconsin conservation commission; his mother, Mrs. Margaret Schmidt, 67; Florian Bruzan, 25, a hired man.

Short Circuit Is Blamed.

The fire is believed to have started from crossed wires on the first floor of the modern farm home.

George W. Schmidt, 71, professor of German at the State Teachers' college in Platteville, who formerly held the same position at Lake Forest college, said he was awakened by his wife Margaret. Mrs. Schmidt, he said, had shouted down the hall trying to awaken every one who was asleep on the second floor. He was unable to reach the stairs because of the smoke, Schmidt said, but he went down a ladder left standing against the house near his bedroom window.

Schmidt Children Escape.

When he reached the ground he found the others were still in the burning building. By that time the entire house was in flames. A maid, Miss Mildred Mickey; his two grandchildren, John and Robert Schmidt, 15 and 14, of Homewood, Ill., and a friends of theirs from Homewood, Elsworth Shaw, 15, had leaped from windows. They were safe. John Schmidt was taken to the Victory hospital here. He had severe burns on his face and neck.

The charred remains of the three victims were found in the debris.

POLICE TO KEEP BASIN OPEN FOR THIRSTY HORSES

Automobiles have driven most of the horses off the streets but they are not going to deprive those left of cool drinking water on these hot days; not if Capt. Gregory Moran of the Central police can help.

In front of the Illinois Humane Society building at 1145 South Wabash avenue, a large iron watering basin has stood for many years. Cool, fresh water is gushing out, and thousands of horses have drunk there. Lately, however, automobile drivers have been parking their cars parallel with the curb, in front of the trough, preventing the horses from getting to the water.

William Hackett, a watchman for the humane society, says that he has seen 50 or 75 horses a day prick up their ears and then drop them again in disappointment.

Yesterday William Johnson, day investigator for the society, asked Capt. Moran's aid.

Capt. Moran immediately instructed his men to watch the place carefully and give tickets to any motorists who ignore the no parking signs.

UNION THREATS DRIVE 27 FROM WORK ON BARN

Twenty-seven workmen engaged in building a large barn and other buildings on the farm of John D. Allen, three miles south of Libertyville, were forced to quit work yesterday when a delegation of union advocates threatened them with bodily harm if they persisted.

The farm, a part of the onetime estate of Samuel Insull, was purchased by Mr. Allen, vice president of the Brink's Express company, several years ago. The improvements are expected to cost $35,000.

Robert Sitz and Arthur Ball, contractors, said the work would proceed today as usual. Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle of Lake county has promised the workmen protection. Unionist leaders in Lake county are insisting that union men be hired to replace the nonunion men now employed.

SHUTS PRINCESS IN CASTLE TO BREAK ROMANCE

Secretary Woos Daughter of Ex-Kaiser's Wife.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—Princess Hermine, wife of former Kaiser Wilhelm II., has carried off her own daughter, 25 year old Princess Caroline von Schoenaich-Carolath, known as "Princess Carmo," to the family castle in Saabor, Silesia, to break up her love affair.

The young princess is determined to marry George Martin Wunderlich, 31 years old, until recently Hermine's private secretary, but now looking for a job. Wunderlich is in Frankfurt getting ready to travel to Saabor for a showdown with Hermine, who last year approved the young couple's engagement.

Princess Carmo escaped from Doorn, the ex-kaiser's home, a few months ago and came to live in Berlin in a small boarding house to be nearer her fiancé.

Belongs to High Family.

Through his mother, Baroness Luecken, Wunderlich is related to many of the oldest families of German aristocracy. This does not help him much in finding a job, since aristocrats are in a difficult position because the radical Nazis distrust them.

When Princess Hermine arrived in Berlin she took up quarters in the palace on Unter den Linden which was granted to the Hohenzollerns by the German republic. She ordered her daughter to report to her. Princess Carmo was deeply depressed by the obstacles of her romance, and, crestfallen, she was often seen walking through a park for hours, accompanied only by her small black Scottie, Odo, just like any other girl with a blighted romance.

Seeks Nazi Favor.

When Princess Hermine accepted Wunderlich as a prospective son-in-law last summer she believed that marrying her daughter to a commoner would impress the Nazis favorably. Meantime she has come to the conclusion that she has little chance of getting Nazi approval and she has returned to her old traditional anti-commoner attitude.

Princess Carmo and Wunderlich plan to turn to former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm if the young man's attempt to induce Princess Hermine to stick to her promise falls in the conference at Saabor. The ex-crown prince is in Switzerland for a holiday, but the young people feel that "he has a real understanding for youth and modern times."

CHARGES 2 GIRL PALS SLUGGED HER, TOOK AUTO

The story of Sylvia Levine, 21 years old, 3319 Warren avenue, that she was slugged by two girl acquaintances who stole a rented car from her with the statement that they wished to use it in robberies was being investigated last night by police of Chicago and Trenton, Ill. Miss Levine was arrested at her home on complaint of Halket Hunnewell, manager of the Pascal Rent-a-Car service, 219 South Wabash avenue.

Hunnewell said the girl had rented a car on Monday, then disappeared. On Wednesday he reported the car stolen and police were waiting for Miss Levine when she appeared at her home yesterday. She declared she had just hitch-hiked her way from Trenton, which is 240 miles southwest of Chicago.

According to her story, she and the two other girls, both of whom also live at 3319 Warren avenue, started out for a drive Monday. At Trenton, she said, the other two struck her on the head with the butt of a revolver and pushed her from the car.

The other girls, Marie Boenner and Aubrette Krauiski, were arrested in Trenton at the request of Chicago police, and are being held for investigation of the Levine girl's story.

EAMES MacVEAGH SUIT IS SET FOR TRIAL ON SEPT. 9

Trial of the $2,500 suit for breach of contract brought by Miss Louise Hagen, New York artist, against Eames MacVeagh, 60 years old, son of the late Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury under President Taft, was set for hearing Sept. 9 in the Municipal court yesterday.

Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby set the case for trial at that time despite efforts of Attorney Herman P. Haase, counsel for Miss Hagen, to go to trial immediately. State Senator James J. Barbour, attorney for MacVeagh, asked for a delay. Miss Hagen claims that the $2,500 is due her because MacVeagh is in arrears to that amount on monthly payments of $250 which, she says, he contracted to make during her lifetime. In a deposition filed with the clerk of the court she alleges that MacVeagh is the father of a child born to her in 1911.

DETROIT HOUSEWIVES DEMAND 20 PER CENT CUT IN MEAT PRICE

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 8.—(AP)—A delegation of more than 250 Detroit and Hamtramck housewives, chanting "strike yells," called on Detroit packing houses today to demand that meat prices be reduced 20 per cent.

They threatened to continue their boycott on meat unless the demand is met. The caravan was good natured, and police did not interfere.

A delegation, headed by Mrs. Mary Zuk, presented the demand while the main body of the demonstrators, shouting noisily and carrying placards demanding lower meat prices, marched outside.

Mrs. Zuk, chairman of the united action committee, said officials of the packing firms said they were powerless to reduce prices, some of them explaining that the plants here were merely branch offices.

"We'll yell loud enough for them to hear us in Chicago before we're through," she said.

SUES FOR LIQUOR TAXES.

108,000 PLEDGE FIGHT AGAINST NEW DEAL RULE

Republican Workers Hold Enthusiastic Rally.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

A pyramid of 108,244 pledge cards signed by Cook county voters who by signing pledged themselves to "work and vote" to remove President Roosevelt and Gov. Horner from office next year was out on display last night at a rally of the reorganization committee of the G. O. P. of Cook county.

The gathering, held at the Morrison hotel, was like old times in Chicago politics. Party workers filled the hall and overflowed into the corridors and the meeting was regarded as the largest and most enthusiastic Republican roundup of its kind in the city in the last six years or more. Speakers spoke of it as a visible token of party rejuvination and of the rising tide against the New Deal and its works.

"It means we will take the New Dealers," said Fred Lundin, one of the orators of the night.

Goal Is 500,000 Signers.

The pledge cards, which were put on display by Leslie P. Volz, secretary of the committee, were gathered in sixty days. The aim is to run them up to 500,000 signers by winter. The original drive was for 75,000 for last night's rally, but the workers went above this mark.

Resolutions condemning the President for "violation of his campaign pledges" presented by Charles J. MacGowan, committeeman of the Thirty-ninth ward, were adopted. This document said that the card canvass has disclosed that thousands of men and women who voted for President Roosevelt last time are now opposing his re-election "feeling he has not kept his promises made as a candidate."

"The canvass shows great resentment over the fact that for the first time in our history," it said, "we are subjected to the tyrannous dictatorship of a President who has shown little respect for his platform, his personal promises, and his oath of office."

Denounces New Tax Plan.

Mr. Lundin, as chief speaker, assailed the "soak the rich" program, while the audience cheered him on.

"It's got to be a standup, toe-to-toe fight," said Mr. Lundin. "This is the first time in American history that 108,000 citizens have signed an agreement to vote out of office the President of the United States.

"The Brain Trust is a misnomer. It is an agglomeration of nitwits whose only sign of brains is grasping for pay checks.

"The soak the rich program is a plan to rob the poor of the means of living. Visualize Henry Ford with his 500 million estate. The brain trust wants to light on his plant, after he passes on, and disrupt it, throwing workers out of jobs. The purpose is to pauperize the majority of the people, to bring them down to a level where control is possible. Soak the rich is a plan to soak the poor."

Hits "Tammany" in Illinois.

Other speakers were Oscar De Priest, former congressman, and State Senator William E. King, whose ward, the third, a stronghold of the Negro vote, turned in the top number of cards, 8,143. Eden Brekke opened the rally, and George Barrett, who served as chairman, spoke of the New Deal inroads upon the constitution.

"To me," he said, "this meeting, the spirit, the signatures, mean the people have made up their minds they are going to remain American. Each signer is pledged to vote against Roosevelt and the New Deal and against Horner and the Democrat Tammany in Illinois. The President is becoming known as the 'Great Repudiator.'"

Woman, 23, Gets 30 Days in Jail as a Shoplifter

Miss Eleanor Ahrens, 23 years old, 1837 Juneway terrace, was sentenced to thirty days in the Bridewell yesterday by Judge Edgar A. Jonas of the Women's court, before whom she appeared on a charge of shoplifting. Detectives testified that after she had been arrested in a loop store they went to her home and found dresses and other articles of wearing apparel, valued at $275, which had been stolen.

Nerves Shattered

BARBARA HUTTON.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Count Court von Haugwitz-Reventlow said today his wife, the former Barbara Hutton, who was divorced from Prince Alexis Mdivani a few weeks before his death in an automobile crash near Gerona, Spain, was "most depressed" because of recent events and that her nerves had "completely broken down."

MISERY WEAPON OF NEW DEALERS, SAYS TALMADGE

Jolly Street, S. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Washington brain trusters are using "hunger, want and beggary" to break the bonds of the constitution, Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia, outspoken critic of the New Deal, asserted here today. He spoke before a gathering of 2,000 persons at the Jolly Street schoolhouse, scene of an annual picnic and rally since 1888.

Although there had been intimations that Gov. Talmadge would receive a hostile reception from the crowd, he heard only applause as he attacked policies of the New Deal.

Previous to the talk by the Georgia governor, former Gov. Cole L. Blease of South Carolina indirectly took a pot shot at the Roosevelt administration in an address before the throng.

"I know that the Democratic party is favored by the Lord," he declared. "I know he loves the people of this nation. I need cite no other reason than that there has not been any vacancy on the Supreme court of the United States bench within the last three years and I sincerely hope there will not be any for some time to come."

The former governor, who was master of ceremonies, did not elaborate on the subject nor did he mention the Roosevelt administration directly.

Jolly Street is a small community 10 miles from Newberry. Its chief claim to fame is attributed to the annual picnic and political rally held for the last 47 years.

Residents were unable to explain the town's unusual name except "that it must have been because folks have been gathering here for so long and having a jolly time."

DICKINSON CALLS ROOSEVELT SOLE POLITICAL ISSUE

Assails President in Talk at Starved Rock.

La Salle, Ill., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa declared tonight the one issue in the next national campaign is President Roosevelt and the most serious charge against the New Deal is its "covert undermining" of the constitution and its attacks upon the Supreme court, all aimed at an eventual dictatorship.

The Iowan, who was keynoter at the 1932 Republican national convention in Chicago, addressed a Republican rally embracing five congressional districts at Starved Rock State park. His theme was "The Responsibility for Broken Party Pledges."

"You ask me to define the issues of the next national campaign," said Senator Dickinson. "In my judgment there is but one issue. Today, tomorrow, and next year that issue is Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Lists His Charges.

"With all deference to the high office he holds, President Roosevelt should be subjected to the following charges:

"He has repudiated the platform pledges on which he was elected.

"He has committed the country to unsound monetary experiments, condemned by nearly all recognized economists, and in consequence has disrupted American foreign trade, with permanent injury to agriculture and industry.

"He has delayed economic recovery by forcing upon the country dubious measures of reform, which by penalizing thrift, strike at the national economy, and by political subsidy under the guise of 'relief' break down the morale and self-reliance of great numbers of citizens.

Holds Out False Hopes.

"He has held out false and illusionary hopes both to the unfortunate and to workers by advocacy and passage of laws which are not only impossible of administration but which are known to be almost certainly unconstitutional.

"He has debauched the civil service by the employment of a vast army of political spoilsmen.

"He has remained indifferent to his promises of balancing the budget, or reducing national expeditures, and has encouraged extravagances and waste which have put the people under a burden of debt that now threatens the solvency of the government itself.

"He has, in public utterances, been disrespectful to the Supreme court of the United States and has sought by deliberate attempt to 'alibi' the failure of the New Deal by placing the blame falsely upon the courts.

Called Calloused Betrayal.

"Never in the whole history of this country has there been so callous a betrayal of solemnly pledged principles."

"Everywhere are grave forebodings of danger to the republic. The danger is in this: Through a series of laws enacted by a subservient congress under the New Deal there is under way the gradual alteration of relations between the federal government and the 48 states. The constitution itself is being subtlely undermined, with transfer of control over the nation's economic life to the central authority set up as a new and revolutionary objective.

"A vast burocracy is being erected which seeks to supervise, in an unprecedented economic and socialistic experiment, all public and private enterprise. Without mandate from the people, we are being regimented under a new social philosophy into a totalitarian state.

Bill of Rights Menaced.

"Further, it is proposed to amend the constitution so drastically that the Bill of Rights, regarded for a century and a half as the ark of our personal liberties, will be virtually annuled. The states, for all practical purposes, are to be reduced to mere units of administration for a centralized economic policy, such as has been brought about in Germany under the Nazi régime."

FALL IN HOME FATAL.

Mrs. Mary Thompson, 84 years old, 3646 Palmer street, died in the County hospital yesterday of injuries incurred in a fall at her home last Sunday.

SANITARY BOARD VOTES TO ABATE $2,005,087 TAXES

The Sanitary district board which has on hand $1,130,000 in unsold bonds, voted yesterday to reduce the district's 1934 tax levy by $2,005,087, which represents the amount of the bonds plus $875,087 in interest provided for in the 1934 levy.

"The district has issued bonds to its full limit, and it is only fair to the taxpayers that we abate the tax levy covered by these unsold securities, said Ross A. Woodhull, president of the district trustees.

Bids for the construction of contract No. 4 of the new southwest intercepting sewer were opened by the trustees. The Leo Michuda company was the low bidder at $1,103,456. The unit under consideration will be along 38th street between Western avenue and Racine avenue.

SEEK INDICTMENT OF ZENGE TODAY AS BAUER SLAYER

Four Connect Him to Scene of Crime.

The grand jury investigation of the mutilation death of Dr. Walter J. Bauer, chemistry professor of Kirksville, Mo., neared completion yesterday. Today, Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty announced, the grand jury will be asked to vote a true bill charging Mandeville W. Zenge, stoical young Missouri farmer-carpenter, with murder.

Witnesses before the grand jury yesterday were Harry and Harold Anderson, attendants in a gasoline station at 71st place and Stony Island avenue, where the dying professor was left by his slayer on July 30; Herman Eichner, 6133 Champlain avenue, a newsboy, and Charles Mantell, 4305 Oakenwald avenue, a night watchman.

All four are reported to have told the grand jurors that they had identified Zenge as the man who drove Bauer to the filling station and then fled. Soon after Bauer died as the result of a penknife emasculation operation.

Widow's Statement to Be Read.

At the request of jurors who said that they were unable to hear her sobbed testimony on Tuesday, the statement of Mrs. Louise Schaffer Bauer, widow of Dr. Bauer and one-time fiancé of Zenge, will be reread to the jury today.

Bauer's dying statement, in which he told of having been forced at the point of a gun to drive an "E. L. Jones" from his hotel at Ann Arbor, Mich., and having been crudely operated on by "Jones," will also be read to the jury. The statements of Ann Arbor witnesses who have identified "Jones" as Zenge will also be read.

Meanwhile the police and state's attorney's office sought at Kirksville and Ann Arbor to pick up the loose ends of the affairs of Zenge, the jilted country suitor; Mrs. Bauer, the head nurse of a Kirksville hospital, and Bauer, the Kirksville College of Osteopathy instructor who became central figures in a murder mystery in a city where all three were strangers.

Learn of Threats by Zenge.

From Kirksville came the word that Zenge had carried a gun and had threatened to kill the professor who won the affections of his childhood sweetheart. Missouri State Policeman Maurice Parker said that Lee Dunham, brother-in-law of Mrs. Bauer and a close friend of Zenge, had told of the suspect's threats.

According to Dunham's story to Parker, Zenge had an uncontrolable temper—such a temper that his own father had warned the Schaffer family against permitting the marriage of their daughter to his son. For two years the Schaffers had been attempting to break off the affair between their daughter and Zenge, Dunham told state police.

"I could kill that doctor," Dunham quoted Zenge as saying after he learned that his sweetheart had married Bauer a few days before he was to have wed her.

RETIRED PRINTER HANGS SELF.

Despondent over ill health, William Moffett, 72 years old, a retired printer, 440 East 91st place, hanged himself yesterday in the basement of his home.

JUDGE ANNULS 'GIN' MARRIAGE; STARTS A ROW

Lake County Prosecutor to Ask Inquiry.

that she didn't know that was in Illinois. Neither, she averred, did she know her husband; he was just a perfect stranger she had met in a saloon.

"He got my phone number from somebody else," said the vivacious Christine. "He was a friend of a friend of mine, so I met him when he called up and asked me to. We had some drinks on North Clark street and then some more in Niles Center."

Daughter of Old Kentucky.

"What were you drinking?" asked the judge. "Gin?"

"I just drink my whisky straight," replied Mrs. Marti.

"Are you a native of my state of Kentucky?" was the judge's next question.

Mrs. Marti's tone took on a beyond the river flavor. "Yes, suh," she said softly. "I was bawn in Louisville."

"Did you find out that I am also a native of Louisville?" demanded Judge David, suspiciously.

"If you are," said the bride, "I congratulate you, judge."

Folk gathered in the courtroom tittered and a gavel banged. The questioning proceeded. The bride was hazy on details. She could not identify Justice of the Peace Wallenwein, she asserted. On only one point was she very positive; the new husband, she said, had left her alone in a Waukegan hotel.

Look, the Hotel Register.

"He couldn't have stayed with me," she declared with an air of finality. "I was registered in my maiden name and he couldn't have."

The first thing she knew about being married was when her roommate at the Burton hotel, Helen Brewer, handed her the marriage certificate the next day, she said.

Miss Brewer was one of the witnesses at yesterday's hearing. She declared that while the party was in a Waukegan saloon Clarence Dresen, a brother-in-law of Mr. Wallenwein, arranged for the marriage, took them to Clerk Hendee's home for the license, and later to the justice of the peace.

Clerk Hendee and Mr. Wallenwein, to the accompaniment of much bickering with the judge, declared that the bride and bridegroom were not intoxicated.

Clerk Hendee, a veteran office holder, took the stand to defend himself in the matter of the $5 license fee.

"If they saw fit to give me $5 it was perfectly all right," he said. "They gave it to me; I didn't ask for it. It was an accommodation."

When Judge David later demanded of Mr. Wallenwein why he performed midnight marriages, the justice of the peace replied:

"For the same reason I issue warants at that hour—because the law so provides."

"I am not questioning the legality, but the decency of it," asserted the judge.

Judge David Is Sorry.

"It is with regret that I am compelled to dissolve this marriage, although I don't want to. The circumstances indicate that the girl was not drunk, but that the marriage was based on something like a dare. The parties did not consummate this marriage as marriages are usually consummated. I don't know whether this woman was drunk or whether she is a hypochondriac. She married a man she had never met before."

When Attorney Sidney H. Block of Waukegan, who represented Messrs. Hendee and Wallenwein, offered to produce two women witnesses who saw the marriage in the Wallenwein home, and were ready to testify to the sobriety of the couple, Judge David shouted that he didn't want to hear any more.

Stop-and-go driving runs up gasoline costs 20%

Today's starting, shifting and accelerating waste your money if your gasoline hasn't these Three Kinds of Power...

SURVEYS show that driving "around town" uses 20% to 40% more gasoline than driving the same number of miles on long runs.

This is easy to understand when you consider that each "cold" start can use up a whole "mile" of gasoline... and that rapid accelerating can use up 33% more gasoline than steady running!

To cut down the waste of today's stop-and-go driving, you need a gasoline with THREE different kinds of power... power for quick STARTING ... power for hard PULLING... and power for economical RUNNING!

And you need a gasoline that does not "skimp" on ANY of these kinds of power. In other words, you need one that is perfectly BALANCED!

Super-Shell is the FIRST truly balanced gasoline. And so it saves you money in 3 ways:

STARTING—Super-Shell can save up to a cupful of gasoline on every "cold" start. Even on sizzling summer days, your engine is "cold" when not running.

PULLING—It can save up to a cupful in 10 minutes of hard pulling.

RUNNING—Super-Shell can save up to a cupful, many motorists report, in an hour on the long stretch—thus saving on long runs as well as on short trips.

Remember, when you save 16 cupfuls, you save a whole gallon!

To cut down the 20% waste in your daily driving, start using Super-Shell regularly! Fill your tank today at one of the 30,000 neighborly Shell stations spread from Coast to Coast.

CHORUS OF 1,000 AT FESTIVAL WILL SING SPIRITUALS

Great Negro Music Again to Be Dramatized.

Tickets on Sale!

Tickets for the Chicagoland Music Festival may be bought at Tribune Public Service offices. Reserved seats are 50 cents each.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Negro spirituals sung by a huge Negro chorus always have been one of the greatly moving features of every Chicagoland Music Festival. So great has been their appeal, so widespread the comment, so poignantly beautiful the performance that this year another Negro chorus of 1,000 members has been organized to take part in the program. It is to be directed by one of the noted conductors of the Negro race, J. Wesley Jones, assisted by William E. Myricks, another brilliant director and composer.

Four songs will comprise the group of this section of the program. They are "O Southland," by Johnson; "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," a traditional song of the race; "Let Us Cheer the Weary Traveler," by Myricks, and another traditional work, "Get on Board, Little Chillun."

The Expression of a Race.

Spirituals classify as folk music, but they are more than folk music, since they constitute an expression of the race, its aspirations, strivings, philosophy. For that reason they are the peculiar heritage of the race, to be sung at full effect only by racial singers. Here there are not only glorious, open throated singers, but there is something from the spirit, a matter of expression, not to be put into words but plainly to be felt. Only the Negro singers can do this. It is their secret.

Not that they do not work to attain their ends. Probably no group in the entire vast Chicagoland Music Festival has been more faithful in preparation than this Negro chorus of 1,000. For weeks past they have been rehersing twice weekly in the Metropolitan Community church, Wednesday evenings at 7 o'clock and Sunday afternoons at 3 o'clock.

Perfect Every Phrase.

Here Director Jones, Assistant Director Myricks, and a group of associate directors including E. Bernice Coleman, Emma Brown, Susie McDonal, Corine Payton, Jessie Walls, Katie Money, James D. Davis, George Brooks, C. V. Blackman, R. F. O'Toole, and William Slappy meet their singing forces and go over the numbers again and again until the final polish has been put on each phrase.

PICK SOPRANO AND BASSO

In contests marked by close competition, the winners in the soprano and basso classes for the south side were chosen last night in another of the preliminaries for the coming Chicagoland Music Festival.

Miss Harriet L. Forman, 5160 South Racine avenue, a 22 year old music teacher, was acclaimed the best of fifty-three sopranos, after the judges had deliberated half an hour and had six of the leading contestants sing a second time.

She won over Miss Genevieve Vernson, 23 years old, of 10739 Avenue J, who took second place. Third place went to a colored singer, Mrs. Clara M. Bolton, 6419 Vernon avenue, mother of two children.

Insurance Man Is Winner.

In the basso division another close contest developed between Stanley Rimkus, 29 year old insurance salesman, 2506 West 68th street, and Henry Matysiak, 22 years old, 670 Forsythe avenue, Calumet City, who said he is unemployed but is looking for work as a shoe cobbler.

After some deliberation, and having the two sing a second time, the judges selected Mr. Rimkus as the winner. He also won the district contest last year. Mr. Matysiak was second. Third place went to Albert Jehander, 38 years old, 11023 Edbrooke avenue, a machinist.

Accordionists Reherse for Festival Appearance

Music Festival Notes

BY PHIL MAXWELL.

Nearly 100 accordionists turned out yesterday afternoon for the first festival massed accordion rehersal held at the band shell in Grant park. Roy Wells, of the Wurlitzer company, who is directing this new unit, was well pleased with the first practice. The men and women, boys and girls will play "The Sharpshooter's March" by Metallo. The next meeting will be Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the band shell.

A third Gary band, the Emerson School Summer band, directed by H. S. Warren, is entered in Class C of the juvenile band contest of the festival, to be held Saturday morning, Aug. 17, at the Oriental ballroom of the Knickerbocker hotel. The other two are the Froebal and the Horace Mann summer school bands.

The annual "Hallelujah" chorus rehersal will be held next Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Drake hotel ballroom. The Cook county vocal finals will precede this practice and the members of this chorus are invited to come at 7 o'clock and hear this contest.

All festival contests are open to the public and there is no admission charge. A ruling emphasized at vocal and choral competitions is that there be no applause from the audience. Mrs. Edmund J. Tyler, chairman of vocal contests, has a difficult time enforcing this request.

Among the adult baton twirling competitors in the festival contest for drum majors is Reid Anderson, 18 year old drum major of the Denison University band, Granville, O. His home is in Wheeling, W. Va. He now is attending the Wainright band camp at La Grange, Ind. There are 45 baton twirlers listed in the festival.

2 SMALL BOYS DROWN; THIRD IS SAVED BY GUARD

William Thomas Waller, 7 years old, 14632 Vincennes avenue, Harvey, was drowned yesterday when he fell into the Calumet river at the end of Center street in Harvey. His 5 year old sister, Winifred, who was playing on the bank with him, ran home to get aid. The body was recovered and futile efforts were made to revive the boy.

William Constable, 5 years old, son of A. W. Constable of 8736 South Winchester avenue, was drowned in Indian lake, near Dowagiac, Mich., where the family was spending a vacation. The boy, it was said, got beyond his depth trying to retrieve an inflated tube. The body was recovered.

Robert Davies, 8 years old, 2620 Blaine place, was rescued off the Foster avenue beach by a life guard, Morris Friedman. Robert became exhausted while swimming in water over his head and sank. Other bathers called Friedman, who swam out and brought the boy, unconscious, to the surface. The guard then worked for 20 minutes to revive Robert.

Late last night it was reported that Le Roy Wahlman, 30 years old, 1902 Maple avenue, Evanston, was drowned in the south end of Pistakee bay, three miles from Fox Lake in Lake county. At midnight the body had not been recovered.

TAXICAB DRIVER ROBBED OF $16.

EDITOR MAKES APOLOGY; SENDS NOTE TO SAITO

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Frank Crowninshield, editor of Vanity Fair, today wrote a letter of apology to the Japanese ambassador, Hirosi Saito, in Washington.

Crowninshield's letter expressed regret that the publication of a recent cartoon in Vanity Fair, depicting the emperor of Japan drawing a cart in which reposed the Nobel peace prize, had given offense to the Japanese people.

"I particularly regret," he wrote, "that because of a misconception on the part of Japanese readers we were supposed to have portrayed the emperor in the act of drawing a rickshaw, obviously a menial occupation. But I think that if you, yourself, will look at the drawing you will see that our readers could have derived no such an idea, as the wagon is obviously that of a military carriage. At any rate, it was so intended, and appears so in the drawing."

DAVID REFUSES TO JAIL FORMER EVANSTON MAYOR

Superior Judge Joseph B. David refused yesterday to issue a writ of attachment for the arrest of Harry P. Pearsons, former mayor of Evanston, whom Superior Judge Rudolph Desort held guilty of contempt of court last December for failing to pay $6,958 in back alimony to his estranged wife, Elizabeth Schmitt Pearsons, 316 Ridge avenue, Evanston.

The case was called yesterday on a continuance from Aug. 3. It was heard by Judge David due to the absence of Judge Desort, who is on vacation.

Pearsons was ordered by Judge Desort to pay $40 a week when Mrs. Pearsons won a separate maintenance decree in July, 1932. An appeal now is pending in the Appellate court. Arguing against the issuance of the writ yesterday, Attorney Lloyd C. Whitman, who represented Pearsons, said that his client had paid a total of $8,325 since the suit was started, of which $2,025 had been paid in the last year. Frank E. Cantwell, attorney for Mrs. Pearson, said she had no means of subsistence.

"Judge Desort will have to imprison his own men," ruled Judge David. "He found him guilty of contempt; why didn't he issue a writ of attachment? Continue the case until the third Monday in September."

Jury Awards Boy $17,500 for Injuries in Car Crash

Damages of $17,500 were awarded yesterday by a jury in the Lake county Circuit court of Judge Ralph J. Dady, in favor of Robert Nuttall, 10 years old, 1604 Alexander street, Waukegan, who was injured in an automobile accident Dec. 16, 1933. The verdict was against Ray Evans Thomas, 317 Stewart avenue, Waukegan, who practices law in Chicago. According to the testimony, the lawyer's car collided with one driven by Robert's father, Harold Nuttall.

LAX PROBATION ADMINISTRATION LAID TO POLITICS

Chamberlin Asks Change; Assails Judges.

"As long as the management of probation in Cook county is closely linked with political activity there is not much hope for its betterment," Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the Chicago Crime commission, declared yesterday. Mr. Chamberlin is also president of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology.

His comment was elicited by charges of laxity in the county's adult probation department which is situated in the Criminal court building under the direction of John W. Houston, chief probation officer since 1911. Among the charges made was that about 1,100 warants for the arrest of probation violators have not been served.

Houston admitted that there might be that many unserved warants in his files, but declared that they were the accumulation of twenty-four years and in the main were for probationers in "small money" cases in which failure to make restitution for debts was the offense.

Frequently Ask Police Aid.

"We have made every effort possible to cause the arrest of violators," Houston added. "We haven't the facilities to make all arrests and we immediately notify police when a serious offender is charged with violating parole."

Houston serves as probation officer for both the Criminal court and the Municipal court. A sort of civil service has been established for probation officers in the Criminal court in that they take examinations given by the judges and those who pass are placed on an eligible list to be employed as necessary. There is no examination for Municipal court probation officers. They are appointed directly by the judges.

"Probation administration in this county is and always has been inadequate," Col. Chamberlin said when informed of the charges. "It has lacked the proper facility and the personnel is insufficient, resulting in a supervision of probationers which does not supervise.

Calls Judges Careless.

"The judges who have authority over the probation department have given scant attention to its needs and in most cases have failed to follow through the cases which they have sent to it for supervision.

"In my opinion the probation system in this county is basically wrong. It should not be a judicial function, but should be consolidated with the other factors concerned in administering punishment for wrongdoers. I think I made this clear in a report to Gov. Horner, although the governor does not agree with me in so far as this particular phase of the problem is concerned.

"So long as probation management is so closely linked with political activity there is not much hope for betterment. I have found nothing venal in probation administration here, but I have been aware for a long time that it was inadequate and an almost useless expense as administered.

"The Chicago crime commission has expressed its views from time to time, but seemingly there has been no heed taken. As to the nonservice of the many warants, that is just another example of the lack of cooperation between judicial, prosecuting, police, and probation authorities, a condition which, however, does not obtain in other departments concerned in the administration of criminal justice."

WIFE OF CHICAGO ADVERTISING MAN KILLED IN CRASH

Unusual Accident Fatal to Another Woman.

Mrs. Rose E. Wanamaker, 32 years old, 1304 South Crescent avenue, Park Ridge, was killed early yesterday when the automobile in which she was riding near Coloma, Mich., ten miles north of Benton Harbor, left the highway and crashed into a tree. Mrs. Wanamaker was the wife of Duane L. Wanamaker, advertising manager for the General Household Utilities company, 2638 North Crawford avenue.

Charles Dykstra of South Haven, who was driving Mrs. Wanamaker's automobile at the time of the accident, was injured seriously. He was taken to the Mercy hospital in Benton Harbor.

Car Plunges Down Ditch.

Police believe Dykstra was driving at high speed and lost control of the car at a sharp S curve on Michigan state highway No. 11. The car plowed down a roadside ditch for sixty yards, struck a tree and then fell against a fence which held the automobile from turning over into a deep ravine. Mrs. Wanamaker's neck was broken.

Mrs. Wanamaker had been staying at a summer home in St. Joseph, Mich. Funeral services will be held in the family's Park Ridge home this afternoon.

Mrs. Celia Farley, 75 years old, 4018 Washington boulevard, died yesterday in Logansport, Ind., of a fractured skull suffered in a minor automobile accident. Mrs. Farley was riding with her brother, Joseph Manning, 64 years old. On the outskirts of Logansport, Farley suddenly halted the car at a warning sign and a truck bumped the Manning suddenly halted the car at a ley's skull was fractured when her head snapped forward at the jolt.

Carl Olson of Evanston, an employé of the Abbott laboratories at North Chicago, and Miss Leah Fox of Goodhope were killed when the automobile in which they were riding with another couple overturned on a curve in the state highway near Colchester, Ill.

Capt. Michael Lee Injured.

Michael Lee, recently suspended as police captain of the Chicago Lawn station, was seriously injured in an automobile accident near Lakeside, Ind., on Aug. 5, it was learned yesterday. Capt. Lee is in St. Anthony's hospital in Michigan City, suffering from fractures of an ankle and of a vertebra, and numerous cuts and bruises. Driving on state highway 60, Capt. Lee attempted to pass a truck and loss control of his car. It overturned in the ditch, pinning him beneath it. Capt. Lee was riding alone at the time.

Walter Poturalski, 37 years old, Gary motorcycle policeman, was killed while escorting a funeral procession on West Ridge road, between Gary and Hammond. His cycle apparently struck a small rock and swerved into the side of one of the funeral cars.

With no deaths in Cook county yesterday from automobile accidents, the 1935 traffic toll remained at 555. Until 4 p. m. yesterday 441 had been killed in automobile accidents within the Chicago city limits and 9,764 injured.

GETS JAIL TERM AND $1,000 FINE AS DRUNK DRIVER

Judge Frank M. Padden of the South State street court yesterday fined John Pilot, 32 years old, 5124 South Talman avenue, $1,000 on a charge of driving while intoxicated, and also sentenced him to 30 days in the Bridewell. The fine is the maximum for the offense.

Testimony showed that two cabs, one driven by Pilot, collided at 54th and Morgan streets on May 30. The second driver, William Delaney, 8530 South Justine street, was seriously injured. Pilot testified that he could not remember anything about the crash because he had been injured. Policemen, however, asserted he was so drunk when they arrived after the accident that he could not stand.

Pilot said he was unable to pay the fine. If he serves the fine out at $1.50 a day he will remain in the Bridewell a total of 696 days.

CHICAGOANS SEE DETROIT'S "RIGHT TURN AT RED"

Will Report to Council on Mayor's Order.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Chicago traffic experts began a survey today of the right turn after stopping for a red light as practiced here. The new Illinois traffic code, enacted by the recent general assembly at Springfield, authorizes cities or park districts to permit such driving. The study here is to aid in deciding whether such right turns shall be permitted in Chicago.

The Chicago survey party consists of Leslie Sorenson, traffic engineer for the city of Chicago; Stephen I. Witmanski, Chicago park district commissioner, and George Barton, engineer for the Chicago Motor club.

Kelly Wants All Facts.

Mayor Kelly, in ordering this survey, remarked that he personally favored the right turn on the red. He has observed its operation in New York, but he wanted the council to have all available information before passing on the question of adopting such a regulation in Chicago. The engineers, after working one or two more days here, are going to New York.

Commissioner Witmanski is here to verify or reject the report of the park district's traffic engineer, Otto K. Jelinek. That engineer favors the right turn after stopping on a red light for Chicago's boulevards. Mr. Jelinek studied the Detroit-New York system here a year ago.

Mr. Barton's assignment is of particular significance to the smaller cities of Chicagoland. The motor club is influential in modifying traffic regulations throughout northern Illinois and northern Indiana. In the past the club has opposed the right turn on the red. The National Safety council also is against it.

Tells of Street Accidents.

Police Commissioner H. A. Pickert gave the visitors a complete report of all Detroit street accidents for last year. Inspector Edward Mitte, head of the traffic division, and Lieut. Herbert McCaske, head of the traffic survey bureau, are coöperating in a detailed analysis of each accident involving a right turn.

Safety is the main question involved for Chicago. There is little or no dispute that the right turn after stopping for the red relieves congestion at intersections, expedites vehicular movements, and increases the capacity of pavements.

In addition to an analysis of accident records, however, the engineers are employing a small crew to record automobile and pedestrian movements at typical intersections as a guide.

Fall at Asylum Proves Fatal to Ex-Film Star

San Bernardino, Cal., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Monroe Salisbury, 59, one time leading man of the silent films, died last night from effects of a fall Monday at the Patton State hospital where he was a patient.

SAFETY GROUP REPORTS DROP IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Plans Traffic Lectures in Public Schools.

Activities of the Keep Chicago Safe committee, in coöperation with the police department, during the last year—the first year of the committee's existence—have resulted in fewer automobile deaths and injuries, George W. Fleming, committee secretary, reported yesterday to Mayor Kelly.

Statistics were submitted to the mayor, showing that Chicago deaths from automobile accidents have decreased 113 during the first six months of 1935, as compared with the corresponding period of last year. In the same period this year, according to these figures, there were 1,163 fewer motor accidents and 1,557 less injuries. Two new steps in the committee's drive to make Chicago streets safer for motorists and pedestrians were announced by Mr. Fleming. One is the use in the near future of a new traffic ticket, and the second is a course in high schools in automobile driving and traffic regulations.

"The new ticket," said Mr. Fleming, "is designed to make 'fixing' next to impossible. Tickets will be issued to offending motorists in triplicate, one copy to be filed at police headquarters, one with the Traffic court, and the third in a central filing bureau. It is believed that with this system traffic violators cannot escape the courts and the records of offenders will be available at all times.

"The safety committee hopes also to have instituted in high schools this fall a course in automobile driving. This would consist of two lectures a week. The reason for this action is because statistics show that accident rates among boys and girls from 15 to 19 years old have increased 165 per cent in the last ten years."

STAR ATTORNEYS TAKE SPOTLIGHT AT LOBBY PROBE

Senate Committee Seeks Data on Fees.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Top flight stars of the legal profession retained by the power industry in its battle against the utilities bill and other legislation tonight occupied a conspicuous place on the witness list of senate lobby investigators.

They included John W. Davis, the Democratic party's 1924 presidential nominee, Newton D. Baker, President Wilson's secretary of war, Henry L. Stimson, President Hoover's secretary of state and James M. Beck, former Republican solicitor general and representative.

The committee wants to know, members said today, how much the power companies paid them in fees and the exact nature of their activities. It wants too, if possible, to draw a difficult line showing where legal practice ends and lobbying begins.

Tell Lobby Expenditures.

Senate committee members reported that expenditures in the campaign against the utility bill and the compulsory abolition of "unnecessary" holding companies had mounted beyond $1,500,000, with the returns far from complete.

The total was reached by adding the sums disclosed in direct testimony, largest of which was $805,000 by the Associated Gas and Electric company, and those revealed by questionaires sent to individual power companies. Details of the latter had still to be made public.

The day found Howard C. Hopson, dominant figure in Associated Gas and Electric, still eluding the would-be subpena servers of the house rules committee, which also is investigating lobbying for and against the utilities bill.

House Sleuths Busy.

The investigators of the senate committee had given up the chase, expecting that in good time Hopson would appear voluntarily. The sleuths of the house, however, were still busy running down various unproductive tips.

The attention of the senate committee was directed to the legal profession's part in recent legislative battles by testimony yesterday from Patrick J. Hurley, President Hoover's secretary of war, and Joseph P. Tumulty, President Wilson's secretary.

Committee members made it plain that while the first objective was assembling a total of expenditures against the utilities bill and disclosing the nature of all activities in that connection, they were much interested in the ethical considerations where the legal profession was concerned.

SCOUT MEETING OFF; PARALYSIS CAUSES ACTION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt tonight called off the Boy Scout jamboree scheduled for this city from Aug. 21 to Aug. 30 because of the epidemic of infantile paralysis in nearby Virginia.

The announcement was made at the White House after the President conferred with Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming, Chief Scout Executive James West and Public Health Commissioner George Allen.

The reports suggested canceling of the jamboree because the disease is prevalent in two centers in Virginia within 100 miles of Washington and is said to be moving upon the city. While the prevalence was not considered unduly alarming, the officials decided that it would be to the best interests of the scouts to cancel the gathering.

The President announced that he will address the scouts in their camps throughout the country by radio. The address will be made the evening of Aug. 21.

BABY ABANDONED

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

1936'S AUTO PLATES TO BE BLACK, WHITE; CONTRACT AWARDED

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Black and white will be the color scheme for automobile plates in 1936, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes announced today. Contract for manufacturing plates was awarded to the C. H. Hanson company of Chicago. For several years the plates have been made at Joliet prison.

The contract calls for approximately 1,300,000 passenger plates and 200,000 truck, motorcycle and trailer plates. The specifications are for 24 gauge steel.

The numerals will be white on a black background. "Illinois 1936" will be below the numerals instead of above as on the 1935 plates. This change is made to thwart any attempt to defraud the state by painting this year's plates to conform with the 1936 colors.

Secretary Hughes called attention to the fact that passenger car plates this year will cost less than heretofore. The reduction is as follows:

$8 plates reduced to $6.50.
$12 plates reduced to $10.50.
$20 plates reduced to $17.
$25 plates reduced to $22.

Motorcycle fees are reduced from $4 to $3.

POLICE HERE FIND GUN THEY THINK SLEW DICKINSON

A pistol, believed to be the .32 caliber weapon used in the slaying of Howard Carter Dickinson, was found here today by Chicago police and was forwarded to Detroit authorities for possible introduction as evidence in the trial of a man and three girls accused of the murder.

The gun was found in a city dump at 102d street and Stony Island avenue by Joseph Rogala, 15 years old, 10516 Bensley avenue, a nephew of Sergt. Dennis O'Keefe of the South Chicago police. It came to the attention of police when young Rogala accidentally shot himself in the hand while trying to unload the weapon.

William Lee Ferris, the man on trial in Detroit, has confessed that he threw a gun into a city dump in the vicinity as he fled from Chicago.

"PARTY WOMAN" FAINTS ON STAND AT FERRIS TRIAL

Jean Miller Denies Part in Lawyer's Death.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Undergoing a scathing cross-examination at the hands of the prosecution, Jean Miller, one of the three former burlesque dancers on trial with William Lee Ferris for the holdup murder of Howard Carter Dickinson, fainted today while on the witness stand.

She slipped from the witness chair and fell face forward to the floor after Prosecutor Duncan McCrea had accused her of "acting" during the trial. A half hour recess was called while the "party girl" was treated by a physician. He said she was suffering from hysteria.

Denies Part in Slaying.

Previous to her collapse, the Miller woman had denied that she had anything to do with the slaying of the New York attorney. She asserted that a statement, five pages long, in which she charged Ferris with the killing, had been "put in her mouth" by Detective Earl Switzer.

She declared that she had been coached by police to confess that she and her two women companions had enticed Dickinson to accompany them on a ride for the purpose of robbing him, on the promise that she would be a state's witness.

Disclaims Knowing Connections.

The witness said she knew nothing about Dickinson's connection with the estate of William H. Yawkey. The attorney had arrived in Detroit in connection with a claim against the $40,000,000 estate when he met the defendants in the bar room of his hotel.

During the hearing Judge Boyne issued an edict against "snickering, sneering, and smiling" by court officers. His order came after defense attorneys had complained that an investigator for the state was smiling during the Miller woman's testimony.

Mrs. Carrie Barden, 46 years old, hanged herself yesterday in her home at 5525 Wentworth avenue. She had been ill.

THE CONCENTRATION OF WEALTH FRAUD.

So long as sharing the wealth was merely a cock and bull story used to delude the pore white trash of Louisiana into voting autocratic power to a local politician, there was no reason for discussing the canard in a serious manner. But when, in response to a message from the national executive, one of the houses of congress passes a bill making the Louisiana fake a national policy the time for an exposé has arrived.

The Louisiana gag which is incorporated in the new tax bill runs like this: The wealth of this country ought to be divided among the people because a federal government commission found upon investigation that one per cent of the people had 60 per cent of the wealth—since which investigation the rich have been getting richer and the poor poorer so that an even smaller percentage of the people have an even larger percentage of the wealth.

The stated source of this information is a report of the federal trade commission submitted to the United States senate by Senator Norris on June 16, 1926. The report deals with several subjects, among them how wealth is distributed among the people of this country.

There is a technique usually followed by governmental bureaus for finding out information of this sort, long ago perfected by the census bureau. It consists in getting each inhabitant of the country to answer a long identical list of questions. An industry has arisen out of the necessity for providing mechanical means for tabulating the data collected in such investigation. In pursuing its purpose to find out how wealth was distributed, the commission did not make inquiry among the 112 million people of the country in keeping with the census technique. It used instead a sampling method. There is also a well developed technique for obtaining information by sampling. The theory is that a reliable judgment can be formed about the whole population by observing a part of the population, provided that every one has a fair chance of being selected for test purposes, and provided that the number of individuals is great enough to minimize chance variations. An excellent use of the sampling method is by the Literary Digest, which for a number of years has predicted the outcome of national elections by straw ballots sent to 20 million voters selected at random.

In determining how wealth was distributed, the federal trade commission did not get information from the 112 million people by questionnaires as the census bureau would do it. It did not obtain the data by making inquiry among 20 million people as the Literary Digest would have done it. It secured information only concerning 43,512 people. And it was not 43,512 typical American people chosen at random, but that number of persons who had died between the years 1912 and 1923 in 24 counties located in 13 different states. The number did not include all of the persons dying in the counties, but only those dying in that eleven year period who left estates which were probated.

In the counties in which the 43,512 estates studied by the commission were probated the total number of deaths of persons over 21 years of age was 184,958. Thus, although every person dying has some property, only one estate out of five was probated. Having information for only one-fifth of the estates, the commission used an arbitrary figure for the four-fifths for which it had no information. It assumed that if the four-fifths that were not probated had been probated each would have had a value of $258. It was by such an obviously distorted method as this that the commission arrived at the conclusion that "one per cent of the estimated number of decedents owned about 59 per cent of the estimated wealth, and that more than 90 per cent was owned by 13 per cent of this number." It is from these data, derived by that wholly unsound method of computation, that the conclusion was drawn in Louisiana that one per cent of the people have 60 per cent of the wealth. And it is the political successes which have been secured by the use of the Louisiana fake which prompt the pending legislation for sharing the wealth.

THE STORY OF A COAL TRESTLE.

THE TRIBUNE frequently has made the assertion that regulation invariably breeds more regulation until the unfortunate industry is finally so bound up in red tape that its utility to the public becomes sadly impaired. The railroads are the outstanding victims of this trait of burocratic domination. It is an off year that does not produce some new commission rule that will add to the growing list of reasons for public desertion of the railroad.

Years ago a firm constructed a coal trestle. It had a capacity of two cars. As business expanded, daily arrivals reached higher and higher numbers until a total of sixty cars was being unloaded at the facility, which necessitated frequent trips of the railway switch engine to and from its storage yard. Obviously each pair of cars was entitled to the same service as the first two, but money could be saved by moving longer trains to the consignee's plant. Rather than hold one of their big switch engines at the plant all day long, an arrangement was made whereby the plant acquired a small oil burning unit to serve the trestle, the railways to allow $1 per car for the spotting work, admittedly included within the rate.

But the interstate commerce commission has declared that such a contract violates that section of the railway act wherein the railroads are required to "collect and retain the full amount of their published rates." They have also decided that in such a case the placing of the cars at any point accessible to the industry locomotive constitutes delivery.

There are thousands of plants requiring from two to ten switches per day that do not operate a locomotive. Obviously they must immediately acquire one or there will be discrimination against the plant which owns one. One industry cannot be forced to operate a locomotive while another receives free switching from the railway. In clearing up a technicality at one point the commission has created discrimination all over the country. It requires no soothsayer to prophesy that the inevitable result will be a switching charge for service on private sidings where the firm does not have its own locomotive, and that means 85 per cent of the carload freight deliveries of the country.

THEN THEY'LL LOOK ABOUT FOR A WAR.

Senator Dickinson of Iowa recently called the attention of his associates to the socialistic trend of their purposes. The specific thing in his mind was the project which has come out of the protracted and prejudiced munitions investigations, of which the radical Mr. Nye has been the chief promoter. Mr. Dickinson was moderate in his comments but was able to cover the ground.

The tactics of the socialistically minded congressmen may be recognized as familiar. In the particular instance of war profits, used as a basis for the McSwain bill, ostensibly for national defense, an unpopular figure is erected, the war profiteer. Seeking to arouse and use understandable public resentment of war exploitation, the manipulators of this sentiment then proceed to lay the groundwork for an expropriation of all the resources of the country.

Under the title of the industrial management provisions of the bill the President in the event of war, when "in his opinion" the emergency is sufficient, may bring under governmental control all establishments in the country and all persons connected with them. He may compel the persons to register. He may take possession of every plant or establishment which "in his discretion" is deemed to be required for the maintenance of the national interest.

Nothing in the country could escape such a takeover, nor could any person if it were the desire of the government to pull him under the blanket. All activities could be construed as necessary to the national interest. When enterprises have been brought into governmental service by proclamation the secretary of war may remove the managers of establishments at will. Wages and salaries would be fixed by the President and it would be a felony to accept more.

The President is granted the authority to fix all prices and rents at which foodstuffs, products, real estate, materials and commodities may be sold or contracted for, including transactions between individuals. He may close commodity exchanges and prohibit the publication of prices and quotations. He may requisition plants, warehouses and commodity stores held by any person. He may limit sales and establish quotas and priorities.

Such a government as outlined above never existed by law anywhere under the sun, not even in Russia. It is dictatorship gone crazy. It would make the worker a bond servant and the farmer a serf. Possessions would crumble and rights would disappear. The nation would be one of termites.

Even Norman Thomas, pacifist and socialist, would fight rather than submit to it. Autocracy would know that to start the machinery of expropriation, spoliation and compulsion it was necessary only to find a war, anywhere with any pretext.

Ten years ago, or less, if a congressman had introduced such a bill his friends would have sent the doctor around to see him. The doctor would have put him to bed. Times have changed. The congregation of bear cats, curly wolves and whatnots occupying the chamber of the national house of representatives has passed it. It has been working its way through the various senate committees.

It is called "An act to prevent profiteering in the time of war and to equalize the burdens of war and thus provide for national defense and promote peace." It is an act to express the rancors and lunacies of certain members of congress. It is an act to establish dictatorship and advance communism. It is an act to make any war desirable for the seizure of private property and the coercion of the population.

When it has been passed and signed the United States should ask Italy to move over a little in Ethiopia and let it march in alongside.

Editorial of the Day

BLAMING THE DROUTH.
[Baltimore Sun.]

During the first six months of this year American foreign trade has shown a slight increase as compared with the first half of last year. All of the increase, however, has been on the import side. The value of exports fell off from $1,036,054,000 to $1,023,981,000, a loss of approximately $12,000,000. At the same time imports increased from $863,843,000 to $994,559,000, a gain of about $130,000,000.

In explaining the change the department of commerce declares that "there was a large increase in the imports of foodstuffs, partly as a result of higher domestic prices following the drouth of last year. The marked decline in the volume of our exports of crude materials, particularly raw cotton and foodstuffs, including wheat, meats and fats, may be attributed in part to the influence of the same factors."

It is commendable for the department of commerce to stand thus loyally by its sister agency, the Agricultural Adjustment administration, but it would have been more commendable had a complete explanation been issued. Such an explanation would have shown that by restricting production and by artificially boosting domestic prices above the world level through crop loans, price fixing and the like, the AAA has invited foreign competition in the domestic farm market and impaired foreign markets for our agricultural produce.

WHILE RHL IS OUT OF TOWN.

Wake-Line: Along in the gay '90s R. H. L. was sent to report a coal strike in southern Illinois. Other correspondents from Chicago and St. Louis were there. They made their headquarters at the county seat, seven miles away.

One day our Main street was startled by a parade. A very small burro with a very long legged man astride moved slowly up the thoroughfare. The man's feet touched the ground and he walked as we see small boys do in kiddie cars. Behind him was our one and only cab, used for funerals or to take the bride and groom to the depot, conveying the other reporters.

I fell very hard for Dick Little, being a lady reporter on our country newspaper, and he promised me his picture before he left. On his last day in town he said he'd had his picture made in three sections and only the legs were finished; when he got the other sections he'd surely send them. I'm still waiting.

The Ex-Lady Reporter.

THE USUAL CONDUCTOR OF THIS COLUMN must be a great LITTLE promiser. Since occupying his sanctum and opening his mail we have received eleven separate and individual letters intended for him, all of which read in about this fashion: "I am the girl of whom you took some kodak views at Turkey Run. You told me that if I would write you you would send me a few of the prints. Please do." Those letters will be on top of his personal mail when RHL returns.

OUR MOVIE FUTURE.

While on the Pacific coast last winter, the Wake-Line worked as an extra in the currently appearing "Dante's Inferno." Through various mishaps only our left ear and fedora hat appeared in a crowd scene. We had looked forward impatiently for that appearance. Later we were informed by the Fox publicity department that our part and that of Jane Withers, another star, had been cut from the picture to shorten it.

Perhaps to assuage our disappointment, we later received a contract covering two printed pages, seemingly regular, offering us the part of Ulysses in "Sex Adrift." Of course, it may be a rib, for after our previous experience of two days on the set we're a bit suspicious. So we're inclined to deliberate. Furthermore, we neither are sure that we're qualified to play the part of Ulysses nor that sex really is adrift anywhere except in Hollywood. So our movie future at this time is a bit uncertain.

THEY'RE SOAKING THE RICH.

Wake-Line: With congress continuing at its present rate of legislative speed, do you think there's any chance of getting the boys out of the benches before Christmas?

NOT A FEW PERSONS AT COMISKEY FIELD Wednesday night, especially those in the far reaches, expressed opinion that King Levinsky "quit" before Joe Louis. Levinsky did not quit, according to usual ring standards. True, he could have taken another crack on the chin to become wholly unconscious. But he was helpless so far as being able to continue effectively when Referee Norm McGarity interpreted King's troubled look and mumbled words to mean he had enough.

Those close to the ringside recognized the tremendous power behind the colored boy's short-radius hooks and jabs, with impetus added by body leverage and timing.

WHAT OUR EMOTIONS DO TO US.

AMONG our acquaintances there are some whom we classify as highly emotional, nervous, and "jumpy." We know others who are phlegmatic and calm. Although we would not term them indifferent, yet we note that it takes a powerful stimulus to arouse them to the point of enthusiasm.

Philosophers have long attempted to explain the emotions, and one of the most delightful essays of Charles Darwin is "The Expression of the Emotions in Man and Animals," in which he analyzes grief, joy, love, devotion, sulkiness, anger, helplessness, fear, blushing, etc. All nervous persons should read this classical analysis. It would help them to understand themselves.

What happens during a period of emotional excitement? Every physician is familiar with the reactions of patients who appear for an initial consultation. Some will be exceedingly apprehensive and others moderately so. Still others appear calm, but there may be an inward, pentup turmoil which the discerning eye of the experienced physician can usually penetrate. These latter individuals have trained themselves to a form of control which the stethoscope and the blood pressure apparatus unmask. Physicians who fail to recognize emotional factors in their patients are often misled by symptoms that are not organic; that do not in the slightest degree indicate disease.

Can we measure the effect of nervous strain and does it affect the body? A recent report by Donald P. Morris sheds considerable light upon the effects of nervousness. In studying a group of individuals it was found that the single factor of blood pressure showed an average rise of 22 millimeters as the result of moderate excitement. A few patients showed an increase of more than 30 points. The pulse rate increased on the average nearly 15 beats per minute. The most significant change, however, was in the blood sugar level. These increases varied from 20 to 149 milligrams, or from 20 to 150 per cent above normal. The case in which the greatest rise was observed was a man aged 45 who saw a relative fall from a window. He picked her up, rushed her to a hospital, "drove like mad," and was obviously profoundly upset. Another case was that of a young man, aged 25, whose wife was about to be confined and who accompanied her in an ambulance to the hospital. Blood sugar showed an increase of 42 points. Another series of cases examined in the emergency department of one of our large hospitals gave similar results.

We may assume that the positive changes observed in blood pressure, pulse rate, and blood sugar represent but a fraction of the adjustments demanded of the body. The entrance of large quantities of sugar into the blood from its storehouses in the liver and the muscles was brought about by hundreds of calls upon glands and other structures. The increased activity of the heart, with the added strain placed on the blood vessels, was again a complex process demanding nerve energy and increased oxidation.

Is it not apparent then that the individual who is subject to excitement, anger, apprehension, or fear is wearing out the bearings of body resistance? If the demands are heavy or are repeated often enough illness cannot fail to follow. The physiology of the body is upset and it may take hours or even days for normal functions to readjust themselves. We have all observed persons who apparently whip themselves into a state of exhilaration, with little regard for the amenities of their own nervous systems.

It is a question then of schooling one's self into a type of control that will demand but a modest response from nerves and other body structures. At the same time we must remember that outward calm may not prove a true index of emotional tranquility. Perhaps "letting go" is often better than "crushing within." At any rate we can save ourselves months of suffering and preserve years of happiness by stabilizing our emotional life.

IT'S A SYMPTOM.

S. O. T. writes: What is erythema nodosum? What causes it?

REPLY.

The cause of erythema nodosum, which is a symptom rather than a specific disease, is not definitly known. Many investigators have suggested that it is closely related to tuberculosis. There seems also to be a definite connection between the condition and streptococcic infections. It is certain that it frequently follows rheumatic fever and tonsilitis. It occurs much more often in females than in males, and is more common in patients under 20 years of age. The onset is usually marked by malaise, sore throat, slight elevation of temperature, and generalized aches and pains. The skin lesion from which the name is derived appears early and consists of a round or oval area which is somewhat raised above the surrounding skin. The color is a dusky red which usually assumes the appearance of a bruise. The areas [there may be more than one] vary in size but are about two inches in diameter and are generally found below the knees, although they may appear anywhere on the body. The nodules last from a few days to several weeks, the average duration being about ten days. They fade gradually, but discoloration of the skin may be present for months thereafter. Treatment consists of bed rest until the nodes disappear. Salicylates are useful in controling pain and soothing lotions, such as alcohol, bicarbonate of soda, or boric acid, should be applied locally.

STREP INFECTION.

H. V. K. writes: A cousin of mine is critically ill in a hospital, suffering from a streptococcic infection. This developed from a blister on his nose caused by sunburn. Is this not a very unusual occurrence?

REPLY.

The streptococcus is a vicious organism. The sunburn brought on inflammation of the skin and permitted the entrance of bacteria to the blood and lymph. Sometimes infections of this type arise from scratching or rubbing the irritated skin with soiled fingers or fingernails. Infections about the upper part of the face are particularly dangerous. Streptococcic serum and blood transfusions are often of value in combating the condition. Blisters on the heel, if neglected or improperly treated, may be followed by the presence of bacteria in the blood.

INFECTED FINGER.

H. R. writes: Eight weeks ago my son developed a badly infected finger. It was lanced, but only recently has it shown any improvement. Now sores are breaking out on his arm and neck. What is the cause of these sores?

REPLY.

A physician should examine the pus from the wound and apply appropriate treatment. If the wound is extending do not temporize with home treatment. The cause may be a fungus or a bacterial infection.

Its size does not warant an attorney, so I hope you will help me. 3. Must this judgment note first be registered? 4. Is it obligatory to have the services of an attorney in Cook county? 5. Is a fee charged for such court procedure as is necessary? 6. What court procedure is customary? G. P.

1. The ordinary course is to place such an instrument in the hands of an attorney for collection.
2. This amounts to saying that there is no way to force matters.
3. No registration is necessary as a preliminary to court proceedings.
4. If you read the judgment clause, we believe you will find that it calls for the services of an attorney.
5. Yes.
6. The entering of judgment by confession would be the first step.

1. Three years.
2. The limitation period for enforcing ordinary written contracts is ten years and the period for enforcing rights in land is twenty years. It is not clear what form of action you have in mind.
3. It seems probable that you can. We cannot give advice of much value without having the wording before us. We advise you to employ an attorney if you have not already employed one.

Chicago, Aug. 2.—[Friend of the People.]—There is a dangerous building next door to our property. The warning sign on the rear of the building remains but the one in front has been removed. The building should be wrecked or tightly boarded up. F. W. G.

Inspections have been made by this department and owner notified to repair or wreck the building. As the owner has failed to comply with our notices the matter has been referred to the law department to compel compliance as the law provides.

Pending the repairing or wrecking of the building frequent inspections are being made. "Warning" placards have been replaced.

The DEBUNKER

By John Harvey Furbay, Ph. D.

In England, where dogs' lives are insured, the insurance companies have made a careful study of the life-expectancy of various kinds of dogs. They have found that large dogs usually live shorter lives than little dogs, and that the house dog, which is always well fed and well groomed, does not live so long as its neglected relatives which roam the streets and beg. Lack of exercise is probably one reason why house dogs don't live long.

PUBLICITY SEEKERS.

Urbana, Ill., Aug. 5.—Several days ago a young man risked his life by diving from the Brooklyn bridge. He had hoped that the publicity gained thereby would aid him in the support of his mother. In the report of the incident in your newspaper he was callously branded a publicity seeker.

The underlying motive for many of our actions is the desire for publicity. For instance, endurance flyers will spend many days in the air with great danger and hardship to themselves and anxiety and expense to others. Is not the prime motive publicity? Of course, something may be learned relative to the behavior of the motor in sustained flight, but likewise knowledge of the human body under great strain can be obtained by people diving from high bridges.

If the term publicity seeker were used indiscriminately it might help to eliminate dangerous ventures which contribute nothing to society. RAHN.

PURGING THE UNIONS.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—In your editorial of July 27, "Purge the Unions of Gangsters," you say the men could do it if they got together. But you forgot to say that the chief law enforcing officers of Cook county will not allow the rank and file of honest union men to elect their own officials. The writer and three other drivers for the Railway Express agency visited the state's attorney and were laughed at and told to go along with the crooks and hoodlums that we had thrown out of our local or else fight for anything we wanted.

Well, we chose to fight, with the result our men were slugged and beaten by hoodlums while the police looked on and not one word of protest from them. While this was going on, THE TRIBUNE was silent, but when they started in Oak Park and Berwyn you came to life.

THEY DON'T THINK SO IN RHODE ISLAND.

Dowagiac, Mich., Aug. 6.—The Republican howl against President Roosevelt's repudiating any and all of his campaign promises is a joke. He has tried to meet new conditions as they have arisen during his administration and has refused to stand pat when things were obviously wrong, notwithstanding grafters' and crooked politicians' wishes to the contrary. That he will be reëlected in 1936 by a tremendous majority is a foregone conclusion, so why all the bunk?

ADVICE FOR HAY FEVER VICTIMS.

Chicago, July 31.—Every summer the Voice of the People publishes complaints from hay fever sufferers that not enough is being done to rid them of the ragweed. They blamed the goldenrod years ago.

At least they ought to be leaders in such a campaign. I'm sure the Boy Scouts would gladly help. INTERESTED.

INCOME TAX CHECKERS.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—For the third time I read that an army of income tax investigators is to be loosed on the small income tax payer and have looked in vain for our newspapers to take up this latest outrage. First announcement was that a house to house canvass would be made by men from the relief rolls to examine every income tax statement, and if information was not forthcoming to back up the statements made they would have authority to make the adjustment and accept payment of the difference in cash.

Is this not dangerous procedure and the product rather of the soviet régime than of ours? It supposes that every one making an income tax return has sent in a dishonest statement, which can hardly be true, for I believe the means of evading the tax in the small income brackets are few.

The small income tax payer will be at the mercy of a gang of unscrupulous people whose interests will be the largest collection of money possible. The graft and scandal that have permeated this administration will be as nothing to this if carried through as announced. With each investigator having power to declare a statement incorrect, make the adjustment, and collect the cash difference there is nothing to prevent him from declaring every statement incorrect. The small tax payer will be easily cowed. It requires money to hire lawyers and he could expect no redress anyway, so he will think it cheaper to pay what the investigator demands. Are not the implications in this investigation plain to every one? G. M. S.

UNFAIR TO UNION LABOR.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—After reading E. F.'s contribution regarding his being expelled from the painters' union I am convinced he is just another example of a labor union's unfairness to some of its members.

One of my family was expelled from the plumbers' union because he could not keep up his dues after being unemployed for several years. He finally got a job which would have lasted for about three months. When he reported for work he was told he had to have his card up to date. After calling an official of the union he was told to report before the executive board. When he appeared he was told he was out and could not go to work. They would give him neither a permit nor a chance to pay up his dues by borrowing the money.

Being unfair to union labor seems to be a big issue, but being fair to its members is something else again.

WALTER GREGORY CHOSEN TO HEAD FAIR AUTHORITY

Take Steps Toward Lease of Park Land.

Walter L. Gregory, manager of the Palmer house and president of the State street council was yesterday chosen president of the Chicago Exposition authority which has been organized by Mayor Kelly to operate a permanent fair in Burnham park on the lake front. Mr. Gregory was elected by his fellow exposition authority commissioners at their first formal meeting in the Chicago park district administration building in Burnham park. He will serve as president for one year.

Charles S. Peterson, former vice president of A Century of Prograss, chairman of the original planning subcommittee of Mayor Kelly's first lake front fair committee, was elected vice president of A Century of Progress, Bernard L. Majewski was elected secretary.

Tentative plans for the lake front fair, as drawn up by the first planning subcommittee, were submitted to the authority for consideration yesterday and were made public for the first time by Mr. Peterson.

Moving Sidewalk Proposed.

The plans, which may be used as a basis for the authority's planning work, provide for the erection of many recreational facilities, including a $200,000 combined ice skating and roller skating rink, a $200,000 moving sidewalk across the lagoon to the fountain on Northerly island, and an amusement building which also would cost $200,000.

Extensive facilities for ground games, lawn tennis, water rides, and beach amusements are provided in the tentative proposal. Two bathing beaches, one of them free and having nearby parking space without charge, would be provided. A salt water pool for those who prefer that kind of bathing is included in the plan. A children's area, as proposed, would duplicate many of the features of the Enchanted Island of A Century of Progress. Villages, similar to the Black Forest and others popular during the World's Fair, are included in the plan. A yacht harbor would adjoin the proposed island airport on the west.

Planning Committee Named.

This proposal will be considered by the authority's planning committee, which was named yesterday and consists of Peterson, Majewski, Chancellor B. Thornton, and Mrs. Edith Joyce.

Max Epstein, chairman of the board of the General American Tank Car corporation, who was named a member of the exposition authority by Mayor Kelly last week, handed in his resignation. Epstein explained the law provides that the members of the authority shall be voting residents of Chicago. Epstein is a legal resident and voter in Winnetka. John R. Nash, secretary to the mayor, was named a temporary member to fill the vacancy caused by Epstein's resignation.

The authority empowered its newly elected officers to negotiate with the Chicago park board for a lease on 180 acres of land in Burnham park for the fair. It was suggested that the lease be for a 25 year term, rent free.

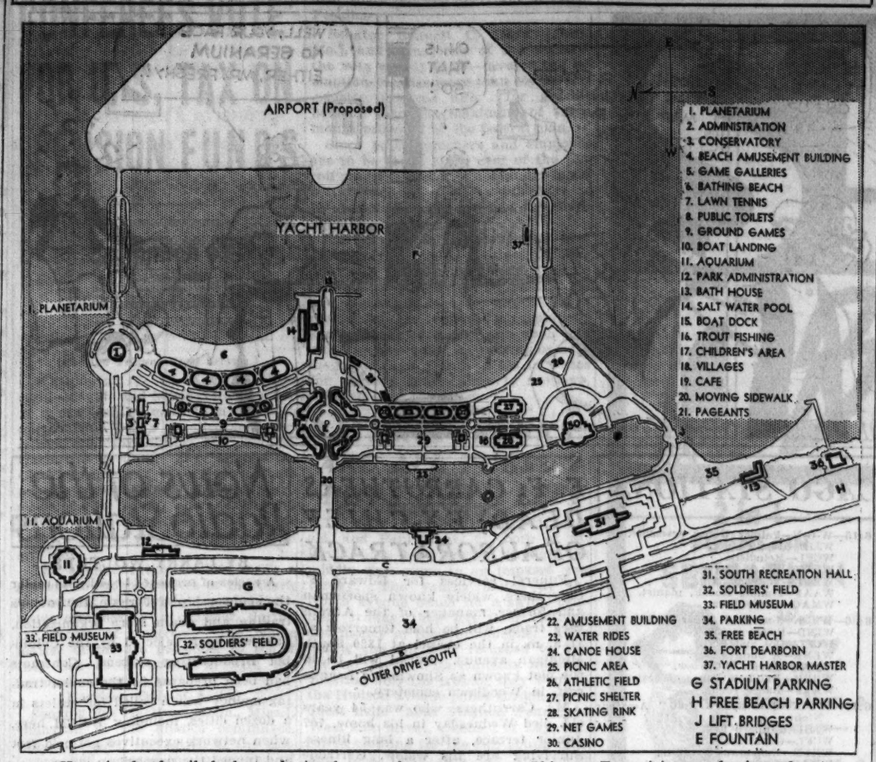
Park Would Reserve Roads.

The lease will also provide that roads used for entrances to the projected lake front airport be reserved for the park district. This provision was included to facilitate plans of the airport commission which call for two bridges, one at 12th street and one at 22d street, to connect the island airport with the mainland.

On the recommendation of Joseph F. Grossman, assistant city corporation counsel, acting in an advisory capacity to the authority, a committee was named to formulate rules. William A. Lewis, Mr. Thornton, and Mrs. Joyce were appointed to this committee. Martin H. Voss, assistant city corporation counsel, was named temporary counsel for the authority.

It has been proposed that the federal Works Progress administration prepare the lake front island for the exposition and build the groundwork for the island airport. In addition $13,500,000 in Public Works administration funds is being requested to complete the construction of the exposition and airport.

Tentative Ground Plan of Lake Front Fair



Here is the detailed plan submitted yesterday to the new Chicago Exposition authority, showing a subcommittee proposal for facilities to be included in the permanent Chicago fair on Northerly Island and the adjacent mainland. The proposed sites of sports, amusements, and beach facilities are shown in relation to the projected island airport. Visitors arriving by air would be only a few minutes from the fair, which would revive many of the popular features of a Century of Progress. The exposition authority elected its officials yesterday and took steps toward negotiating a lease for the needed land in Burnham park.

NAZIS REDUCE STEEL HELMETS TO HOLLOW SHELL

Disband Vets' Groups in Four Areas.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 8.—The once proud Steel Helmet association of war veterans is a mere ghost tonight. Its members, with royal princes in their ranks, used to parade throughout Germany carrying nationalist banners and demonstrating against the republic, advocating a "national state."

The G. S. P. [secret police] completed the Steel Helmets' dissolution as easily as they dissolved the republican and Marxist bodies. The G. S. P. asserted that "dissolution was necessary for the sake of public security, quiet and order," adding that "numerous utterances by members of leaders of these formations gave evidence of oppositional, nay, inimical attitudes toward the state.

"Orders issued by the state to the Steel Helmet formations were either ignored or evaded. Acceptance until most recently of members from the ranks of nonveterans and from Marxist camps made the Steel Helmet a rallying point of opposition and reactionary forces."

Helped Hitler to Power.

The Steel Helmets helped to bring Hitler to power. The association's founder and leader, Franz Seldte, who also is Hitler's labor minister, today was cooling his heels in south Germany, vainly waiting for Hitler to find time to receive him and give him a chance to refute the charges against the Steel Helmets.

While he was waiting, secret police applied finishing touches by disbanding the Steel Helmet organizations of Berlin, Brandenburg, Pomerania and Eastern Mark, confiscating their funds and properties. It is expected that an official declaration of suppression of the national organization will be forthcoming in a few days.

The Steel Helmets, comparable with the British and American Legion organizations, once had 1,250,000 members and the late President Hindenburg was their honorary president. It was the last great body not under the totalitarian dominance of the Nazi state.

Freemasonry also was wiped out in Germany. The last two remaining lodges, the Grand Saxon State lodge in Dresden and the Grand German Brotherhood lodge of Leipzig both announced their dissolution as from Aug. 10.

The official Voelkischer Beobachter devoted its front page to an attack on the alleged machinations of the freemasons, charging them with having plotted and carried through the Serajevo murder which started the world war.

Richard Haeberle, business man, was arrested at Stuttgart, charged with spreading atrocity stories. It was alleged that Haeberle, working with an unnamed foreigner, circulated both at home and abroad stories concerning conditions in Germany and the ill treatment of prisoners.

The Bavarian holiday resort, Bad Toelz, which expelled 400 Jewish guests this week, today received a message of congratulations from the Bavarian home minister, Adolf Wagner, saying "I hope the entire Bavarian Alpine area will follow your example."

Battle Hitler Youths.

Bernhard Rust, national minister of education, forbid school classes to possess their own banners "since the number of such flags might give the impression that there existed divisions among youths.

The newspaper Judenkenner [Judge of Jews] warned German women against patronizing Jewish doctors, "who consider only their practice and how to increase it." The same paper also protested against allowing Aryan girls to work in Jewish homes and permitting "German youth to sit on the same school bench with a Moses or a Sarah."

The Nazi news service reports that in Krefeld a gang of "rowdies" attacked a group of Hitler Youths returning from a meeting in Essen. The youth leader was severely beaten and another youth injured. A shot was fired, but it was not stated by whom. Secret police said they had arrested the assailants.

URGES REDS TO JOIN CHURCHMEN IN WAR ON NAZIS

MOSCOW, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The unusual proposal that communists ally themselves with churchmen for a fight to overthrow the Nazi régime was presented today to the seventh congress of the Third Internationale.

F. Walter, the German delegate, said communists are prepared to unite with Catholics in a fight against Fascism in Germany.

"We told the Catholic workers we are ready to fight with them for freedom of conscience, as we have one common enemy—Fascism," Walter declared.

Harry Pollitt of England urged "lovers of freedom in France, England, and America" to help overthrow the Nazis.

"We call upon them to encircle the Nazi hell with a steel ring!" he shouted.

Pollitt said death sentences passed in Germany on the communist leaders, Rudolf Klaus and Albert Kayser was the first time "even Fascist courts" had decreed death as a punishment for political beliefs and that the Internationale is organizing "a strong movement" to rescue them.

Gold Filling from Tooth of Mabel Normand Sold

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 8.—(AP)—A gold filling from a tooth of the late Mabel Normand was among the tokens of her husband, the late Lew Cody, which were placed on the auction block today. The filling was sold for 55 cents. A large crowd gathered for the sale of some of the jewelry, including two diamond encircled wedding rings, with which the actor wooed and won the screen actress.

LIEUT. COL. DAVIS INSPECTS TROOPS AT CAMP GRANT

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Lieut. Col. Joseph R. Davis of the National Guard bureau at Washington, D. C., arrived at Camp Grant today to inspect the 33d division encampment.

Picked squads of guardsmen from the 129th and 130th infantry regiments took special musketry training under the personal direction of Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, acting commander of the division, while Lieut. Col. Davis watched.

This afternoon a chemical warfare demonstration was staged under the direction of Lieut. Col. Alfred De Roulet.

Lose Hope for Release of Briton by Chinese Bandits

PEIPING, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Hopes for the speedy release of Gareth Jones, correspondent of the Manchester Guardian, were diminished today when the British embassy was advised that a second group of bandits now held him prisoner. Jones was kidnaped about a month ago. Ransom of $38,000 is demanded.

[illegible]PANY HELD TARGET OF "SOAK RICH" TAX

Senate Committee Ends Hearings on Bill.

Alvord would favor doubling the existing capital stock tax—1-10 of 1 per cent—as a substitute for the excess profits tax. He said he would favor the capital stock tax if he had to take one or the other, but added:

"The excess profits tax in the pending bill proposes to raise 100 million dollars. It is a question whether you want to exact another 100 million from corporate income. You would have to double the present capital stock tax, and $2 a thousand is a very extraordinary price to pay for the privilige of being a corporation. The tax in the law now will produce substantially 100 million dollars. Don't attempt to get more."

The committee will begin executive hearings tomorrow for the purpose of writing up a bill, and the attitude of the senators during the hearings has presaged material changes in the house measure. There will be a tug of war with Senator Pat Harrison attempting to pull the bill down more closely to the President's proposals, with a prospective revenue yield of little more than 100 million dollars, while Senator La Follette of Wisconsin and other radicals will pull in the other direction seeking to broaden the income tax base and bring in far more revenue than the house bill.

Besides the excess profits tax, Senator Harrison vigorously objects to the house provision starting surtax increases at $50,000, instead of $1,000,000 as he interpreted the President's message to mean.

Sees Threat to Others.

Senator Vandenberg, in his opening assault on the President's proposals, used the Ford Motor company, which is located in his state, as an example, but said the effect would be the same upon other large industrial units employing the great bulk of American workmen.

"There need be no speculation as to what will happen to the great Ford industrial enterprise under this proposed tax confiscation," he declared.

"It will cease to be a tremendous industrial unit, governed by an anxiety singularly dedicated to the production of high grade commodities at lowest possible cost to the ultimate consumer, and to the employment of hundreds of thousands of highest paid artisans. It will be driven into diversified ownership which can come only through enormous ultimate stock sales to the public.

Many Thousands Employed.

"It will be forced out of the close control which has preferred the creation of a vast and effective instrumentality of employment and commerce rather than the disbursement of personal dividends. It will be robbed of the integration which has made it what it is—the employer of 100,000 persons in Wayne county, Mich., alone; the indirect employer of countless other hundreds of thousands who depend upon Ford operations; the best customer of a thousand other factories in communities scattered all over the land; a gigantic patron of our railroads and our mines.

"How could it be otherwise? Consider the known mathematics. Assume that Mr. Henry Ford owns a majority of the Ford Motor company stock. Assume that the Ford Motor company is worth half a billion dollars. Assume that Mr. Ford's total estate will be 300 million dollars. The proposed inheritance tax, on top of the existing estate tax, would take 270 million of this 300 million.

Cannot Use Factories.

"Most of the 300 million is represented by factories which house essential industry and by equipment which provides jobs for thousands upon thousands of employés. Where do you get your 270 million dollars? You cannot take the factories. Without motivating genius behind them, they are futile brick and mortar. You cannot sell off the machinery—unless you sell off the livelihood of the greatest single group of high paid workmen in the world. You cannot take government title to the stock and submit the institution to political management and control. That would be the final absurdity.

"Whence comes this hypothetical 270 million dollars? Counsel for the internal revenue bureau has itself volunteered the only answer. You must sell Ford to the bankers and then to the public.

"Suppose this happens in an hour of economic depression when investment funds are not available? You have sacrificed vast values by forced sales. No matter when it happens, you have destroyed the dynamic integration—the personality—the dedication—of the institution. You have substituted a quest for dividends for the inspirations and objectives which have produced this vast reservoir of values. You have forced a liquidation which is calculated to be a liquidation not only of property but of potential commerce and employment. You have killed the goose that lays the golden egg."

E. F. CARRUTHERS DEAD; EX-CHIEF OF AURORA TRACK

Funeral services for Edward F. Carruthers, widely known sportsman and former manager of the Aurora race track, will be held tomorrow at 11 a. m. in the chapel at 1820 South Michigan avenue. Burial will be in the plot known as Showman's League rest, in Woodlawn cemetery.

Mr. Carruthers, who was 54 years old, died Wednesday in his home, 707 Junior terrace, after a long illness. Surviving are his widow, Gertrude White Carruthers, and a son, Edward.

Mr. Carruthers was a member of the booking firm of Barnes & Carruthers, 119 North Clark street, and a former president of the Showman's league. In addition to his position with the Aurora track, he had interests in several other racing plants, and was a director of the Illinois Turf association.

In the theater world he had built up the Interstate circuit through the southern states, Missouri, Arkansas, and Texas, and had built several theaters in Chicago.

START BACK TAX PAYMENTS TODAY UNDER NEW LAW

County Treasurer Gill announced yesterday that this morning he would begin the collection of delinquent taxes under the provisions of a new law permitting the waiver of penalties and interest. Under this law all tax penalties on homes and 50 per cent of the penalties on income producing properties can be waived for the years 1928 to 1932, inclusive.

The act provides that the property owner must file an affidavit with the treasurer that the failure to pay on time was not wilful and stating the cause of the failure.

County officials have declared that another law passed by the last legislature, permitting payment of delinquent taxes in seven annual installments and waiving penalties, but requiring 6 per cent interest to be paid on the principal, is unconstitutional. A mandamus action to compel the county collector to heed this law is pending now before Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher.

REV. G. E. GORDON, MINISTER FIFTY YEARS, DIES AT 78

For many years while in Chicago he had served as chairman of the board of directors of the Bethany home and hospital. In addition to Mrs. Williams, two other daughters survive; Miss Ruth S. Gordon and Mrs. John N. Phillips, both of Evanston.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at the Emanuel M. E. church in Evanston at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

A series of proposed broadcasts under the sponsorship of Torgsin, the soviet's trading and chain store organization, has just been rejected by the Columbia Broadcasting system. Contracts had been prepared by the soviet trading agency which called for outlets in a dozen cities, including WBBM here, when network executives got cold feet and turned the proposition down.

CBS is said to have taken the position that it could not carry any broadcasts that smacked of foreign propaganda. And while admitting that the continuity apparently failed to show anything concretely objectionable, it felt that a radio campaign which sought to promote a state-owned enterprise was bound to be interpreted as propaganda for the soviet system of government.

The network also did not like the Torgsin plan for a campaign to sell American residents Torgsin trading books which could only be redeemed by friends or relatives at the government stores in Russia.

It was also suggested that CBS may have foreseen the objections that might have been raised by big American clients at the net's willingness to allow a government owned and operated business to advertise side by side with them. Torgsin programs are now aired over a New York local station.

Something new under the sun department: A broadcast from Iceland, which has no army, navy, deficit, or unemployment, will be relayed over NBC on Sunday, Sept. 1. The prime minister, natives, waterfalls, and geysers will contribute to the program.

Bernard S. Weinshenker, president of the Chicago Retail Druggists' association, has written W-G-N complimenting it in abandoning sponsored football broadcasts. "We feel that this is a service that your newspaper is giving for the benefit of the sports loving public," he wrote, "and that to sell these rights to advertisers is commercializing and controling sports news."

Bing Crosby will make his first radio appearance in many months when he bobs up as a guest of Paul Whiteman on the Music Hall broadcast over NBC next Thursday evening.

JOSEPH H. BIGGS, 79, CATERER HERE FOR 50 YEARS, DIES

Joseph H. Biggs, 79 years old, a caterer for society people of Chicago for more than 50 years, died Wednesday night in his home at 50 East Huron street. Funeral services will be held in the chapel at Rosehill cemetery at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery.

Mr. Biggs, who was born in England, came to Chicago in 1882 and set up his catering business on the near north side. During the Columbian Exposition of 1893 he did all the private catering for Mrs. Potter Palmer, according to his associates. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jenny Marie Biggs; two sisters and a brother.

MR. WERTHWEIN FIGHTS FOR HIS SIX FOX CUBS

Six red fox cubs and Percy Werthwein, supervisor of Burlington township in Kane county, presented a problem yesterday to the state conservation department at Springfield which Attorney General Otto Kerner may be called on to solve.

Last May Werthwein found the cubs in a den. He put them in a coop on his farm. Then he wrote to the state conservation department for a license to keep them. He was ordered to release them as wild animals. This he refused to do, stating that foxes had run off with several of his chickens and he and other farmers didn't want to lose any more.

Thereupon, Werthwein charges, Peter Erio, deputy inspector of game wardens, and Harry J. Daveler of Elgin, district game warden, descended on the Werthwein farm and, finding Werthwein away, took the foxes and put them in the Elgin zoo.

Werthwein went to State's Attorney George D. Carbary of Kane county and asked for a warant for the arrest of the wardens on a charge of trespassing. Daveler responded with a request for a warant charging Werthwein with illegal possession of wild game. Carbary turned both down.

Erio and Daveler then appealed to Charles F. Thompson, state director of conservation, and indicated they might appeal to Kerner for the warant they want.

SENATE PERMITS GOLD SUITS FOR 6 MONTH PERIOD

NRA Standard Measure Next on List.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—The senate today passed a modified form of the administration's bill to bar suits for the recovery of gold or its equivalent on repudiated government obligations. The next New Deal "must" measure on the program, requiring NRA standards on all government work, whether by loan or contract, ran into unexpected opposition and was put over until tomorrow.

The McAdoo substitute for the gold suits bill, which permits the filing of claims for a period of six months only, was passed by a vote of 53 to 24 without further discussion when the senate met today. Republicans and conservative Democrats yesterday assailed it as being "immoral" and dangerous to the government credit.

Passage Is Expected.

The opposition senators, however, apparently took for granted a statement made yesterday by Senator Alben W. Barkley [Dem., Ky.] that passage of the measure was a "foregone conclusion." They realized the futility of opposition when the New Dealers made it clear that they were not interested in morality.

Forty-seven Democrats, 4 Radical Republicans, and 2 other radicals voted for the measure, while 9 Democrats and 15 Republicans voted against it.

The house passed the "must" bill as approved by President Roosevelt, which would withdraw the consent of the government to be sued at any time on any of its security or currency obligations. The McAdoo substitute, extending this privilege for six months, now goes to conference with the house.

Discrimination Is Charged.

Republicans and conservative Democrats opposed it on the ground that it discriminates against holders of Liberty bonds and other gold clause obligations that will not mature in six months. They fought it on moral grounds because the Supreme court ruled that congress had no right to abrogate the gold clause in the government's obligations and that holders thereof might recover on a showing of actual damages.

Senator Bennett C. Clark [Dem., Mo.] attacked the bill to require NRA standards on government work introduced by Senator David I. Walsh [Dem., Mass.]. He said it was clearly an attempt to do something which the Supreme court said was unconstitutional.

"Business has got rid of the NRA and it doesn't want this bill," Clark added.

Tries to Bar "Chiselers."

Senator Walsh said it merely was a bill saying that money paid out of the federal treasury should not go to "chiselers."

"No matter what you say, it is simply an effort to revivify the noisome corpse of the NRA, Clark replied.

Walsh charged that a number of senators sought to postpone action on the bill in the hope that it would be thrown out the window when the tax bill came up for action. In tones of anger he shouted:

"This is not my bill. It comes from the administration. It is entitled to be voted up or down, and it's going to be."

Proposes 30 Hour Bill.

Senator Clark said on the senate floor that he intended to offer the Black 30 hour week bill as a substitute, but his purpose in doing so apparently would be to kill the Walsh bill. The senate probably would adopt the 30 hour week bill, but its chances in the house would be extremely slim.

Walsh's bill not only provides for NRA wage, hour, and child labor standards on work done by government contractors and subcontractors, but on all work undertaken with loans from government agencies, including loans to states, counties, and cities.

RECOVER BODY OF YOUTH, 15, WHO FELL OFF HIGH CLIFF

Camp Chief Ouray, Colo., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Searching parties high along the sheer ledges of Lindbergh peak tonight recovered the body of William Brode, 15, from a funnel shaped depression in which he fell to his death Tuesday.

As more than 100 men pressed their perilous hunt, the chartered plane bearing the parents from their home in Memphis, Tenn., was forced down by engine trouble at Falcon, 16 miles east of Colorado Springs.

Immediately the youth's father, Julien Brode, telephoned to Denver and engaged a pilot to pick his wife and himself up and continue the flight to the ranch of the late Harry F. Knight. The ranch is located near the camp where his son attended.

Toiling under a hot sun the climbers today carefully explored by sounding the 100 foot opening on the slope of the two mile high pinnacle before attempting to descend by ropes.

Robert Henderson, 15, companion of the Brode boy on the fatal climb, pointed out the depression into which "Bill" had fallen.

BOY DROWNS RETRIEVING BALL.

George Wellingham, colored, 12 years old, 6733 Langley avenue, was drowned yesterday when he waded into Washington park lagoon to retrieve a ball and stepped unexpectedly from a ledge into deep water.

CONFEREES VOTE FOR U. S. TAX ON PENSION FUNDS

Block Exemption of Those Privately Raised.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Senate and house conferees, after a deadlock of more than a month on the New Deal's so-called social security bill, surmounted the last obstacle this evening. They ditched the Clark amendment to exempt private pension systems from the tax provisions of the federal old age annuity plan. The measure then went to the house. It was passed without a record vote.

The administration leaders made a gesture to the supporters of the Clark amendment by appointing a joint legislative commission to consider, during the recess of congress, "the whole matter of private pensions, to see if they can be dovetailed in with the national security plan."

Harrison Tells of Action.

Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.], chairman of the finance committee, who announced the action of the conferees, had opposed the exemption of private pension systems from the outset, because it was opposed by President Roosevelt and Secretary of Labor Perkins.

Senator Bennett C. Clark [Dem., Mo.], and a majority of the senate—the vote was 51 to 35—favored the exemption because more than 400 private pension systems afford far greater benefits than the maximum of $85 a month proposed by the federal plan.

Since both employers and employes are to be taxed 3 per cent of the pay roll under the old age annuity plan, private pension systems will have to be abandoned, supporters of the Clark amendment declared.

The report of the conferees now goes to the senate. Besides old age annuities, the measure provides grants in aids to states for temporary old age assistance, not to exceed $15 a month as the federal government's share; a tax of 3 per cent upon employers' pay rolls for unemployment insurance, and grants in aid to states for various subventions to mothers, children, and the blind.

BATHING TRUNKS ARE ALL THESE 2 BOYS HAVE LEFT

FOULOIS TO QUIT ARMY AIR CORPS AND END DISPUTE

Made Scapegoat in Mail Carrying Fiasco.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, first army flyer, chief of the army air corps and the administration's scapegoat in the army air mail fiasco of more than a year ago, ended the long feud between the war department and the house military affairs committee by quitting.

The war department announced that Foulois had requested a leave of absence until Dec. 22 and on that date will retire from the army. On that date Gen. Foulois will have completed a four year term as chief of the air force with the rank of major general and will retire with that rank.

Loses Rank if He Stays.

If the general were to continue in the army he would on completion of his term as air corps head revert to his regular rank of colonel. He would not be eligible again to retire as a major general until he reached the retirement age of 64. He is 53 years old.

The difference in retirement pay between the rank of colonel and major general was said to be one influence in the general's voluntary retirement. This was outweighed, his friends said, by the friction in the department which has resulted from his conduct of the air mails.

Foulois was in command of the air force when the administration abrogated existing contracts with air mail companies early in 1934. In a few weeks a dozen army pilots lost their lives and the administration yielded to the country's demand for an end to the slaughter by returning the contracts to private companies.

Vendicated By Dern.

A subcommittee of the house military affairs committee launched an investigation as the administration sought a scapegoat. Selecting Foulois as their victim the committee demanded his ouster, charging the general made unsound estimates in asserting the army was ready to fly the mails and that he violated existing laws in purchases of materials.

After months of bickering between the war department and the committee Secretary of War Dern vindicated Foulois. In the meantime the war department had stripped him of all authority over the air forces by putting it under the chief of staf as the general headquarters air force.

Gen. Foulois learned to fly from Wilbur and Orville Wright. Twenty-five years ago he was the entire air force, being the army's only pilot, navigator, instructor, observer, and commander.

ILLINOIS SALES TAX COINS SAFE UNTIL U. S. ACTS

Cummings Talks on State Tokens.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Illinois is in no danger of federal prosecution for using its "unlawful" sales tax tokens, at least until congress acts on the pending resolution authorizing fractional coins. That was announced today by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings.

Meanwhile, the house of representatives' coinage, weights and measures committee, which once threatened to block the money resolution, heard federal and state officials urge its adoption to meet state sales tax problems.

To Drop Roosevelt Plan.

Secretary Morgenthau admitted today President Roosevelt's idea for square and "doughnut" half cent and one mill coins will have to be dropped as impractical, even if the coinage resolution is approved. Federal mints would have to spend many months and thousands of dollars "retooling" for square coins and coins with holes in them, Mr. Morgenthau said.

"If congress should adopt the resolution and there is a question of getting the coins out in a hurry, we will have to give it up," said the secretary, who once remarked that the President's off-hand suggestions on the coins were "final for me."

Although the treasury last night telegraphed to Illinois and three other states that state sales tax tokens are "unlawful," Mr. Morgenthau said nothing would be done by the treasury to force state compliance. That was up to the department of justice, he observed.

To Wait for Congress.

Mr. Cummings, pointing out that the legality of state tokens would become "an academic question," if the federal government mints coins to meet sales tax needs, indicated that no issue would be made while the resolution is pending.

Illinois, or persons using the tokens, might be prosecuted, if the state continued to circulate the tokens after the federal government provides half cent and one mill coins with which to make correct change with "lawful" money, officials indicated. If anything snags the fractional coinage resolution and no coins are provided, the government may let the state tokens remain in use without ever raising a legal issue.

MOTORISTS SEE BANKER LEAP TO DEATH IN PARK

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Claude V. Allnutt, 56, a vice president of the Irving Trust company, in charge of the branch at 7th avenue and 49th street, leaped today from the George Washington bridge.

Several motorists, passing at the time, said that they saw Mr. Allnutt climb to the railing of the bridge on the Manhattan side of Washington par: and jump.

Mr. Allnutt's home was at Stamford, Conn. At the offices of the Irving Trust company it was said he had been ill and on leave for several months. He had been with the Irving Trust since 1918.

Mr. Allnutt had been suffering from mental depression, according to the police. He had been going to the Neurological hospital at the medical center for treatment on the instructions of his physician, Dr. Irving H. Pardee. Dr. Pardee declined to discuss his patient's death.

Patrolman Wanamaker of the bridge police force saw Mr. Allnutt leap from the bridge about 100 feet west of Riverside drive, where there is a 122 foot drop to the park.

AFTER 4 MONTHS' DELAY, HOPKINS SURE ABOUT JOBS

Insists Peak Is Due Nov. 1; Plans to End Relief.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Four months to the day after President Roosevelt signed the bill creating the 4 billion dollars public works program Federal Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins today whistled against a wind of pointed questions to declare that the peak of the program will be reached Nov. 1.

Hopkins confessed that in its four months of operation the program has done little to put people to work except to organize a machinery. But he stoutly insisted that by Nov. 1 there will be 3,500,000 persons on the employment rolls.

He would not say how many will be at work Sept. 1. He refused to say how many will be at work Sept. 15. And he said that he would not guess how many will be at work Oct. 1. To each question on the number of workers by dates he said, "all I can say is we have a job to do and it will be done by Nov. 1."

Bulk in CCC Camps.

Hopkins asserted that 550,000 have been put to work to date. Pressed for a breakdown of his figure he said that 425,000 of these are CCC workers who would have been added anyway. Of the remainder 105,000 have been added in his works progress division and 20,000 by other federal departments. He could not say how many of these are administrative employés.

Hopkins asserted that in the next three months—by Nov. 1—the federal government will shut off all relief. He said relief may be shut down gradually from Sept. 1, but refused to say which states would be first dropped from the dole.

He said that when the works program gets under way the states and communities will have the 600 million dollars they raised to meet federal relief quotas to take care of unemployables. This sum should be adequate to provide for the needy, he said.

Refuse to Reveal Policy.

Hopkins refused to discuss what his policy will be if some states and communities will be unable to provide for their needy. He also refused to state what he will do if states and communities refuse to take over the burden of relief.

"I think the states can take care of the unemployables," he said. "That's their job. There is no state without sufficient wealth and power to do so. Their relief bill will be no higher than it is now, because the federal government will provide wages for those who will be taken off relief. In fact, as a general rule, the state burden will be lower than it is now."

FLOODS RECEDE; LOSSES IN OHIO ABOUT 3 MILLION

Coshocton, O., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Floods began to recede today after yesterday's loss of two lives and $3,000,000 property damage. The dead were Nicholas Begovic, a farmer, and Steve Uzunoff, 7, while it was feared Miss Marjorie McIntosh, 73, still missing today from her home in Irondale, also had drowned.

The Red Cross is helping three hundred families driven from their homes and federal engineers soon will resume construction of a $34,000,000 project to prevent such flood disasters. Work on the project was halted by the flood. Work has been started on 14 dams, located throughout this state.

Treasury Official's Wife in Reno; Divorce? Won't Say

Reno, Nev., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Louise Robert of Atlanta, Ga., wife of Lawrence W. Robert, an assistant secretary of the treasury, refused today to confirm reports she intends to seek a Reno divorce. Mrs. Robert has been residing in a hotel here for several days.

RELIEF IN STATE REDUCED BY 6,172 FAMILIES IN JULY

Farm Jobs Reflected as Burden Falls.

The number of families on relief rolls in Illinois in July was 6,172 less than in June, it was announced yesterday by Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission. The heads of most of these families found employmen on farms, where activities showed a seasonal upturn, it was said.

Although the tabulation of July costs will not be completed until today, it was estimated that IERC expenditures for the month were $1,100,000 below the $11,329,358 used in June. While much of this reduction of nearly 10 per cent was the result of the dropping of the 6,172 families from the rolls, lowered outlays for coal and clothing helped reduce the July load, it was explained.

Nearly 14 Million Spent in March.

Expenditures for March, the peak month, were $13,723,077, with 321,001 families on the rolls. In April, when Federal Relief Administrator Hopkins became embroiled with the Illinois legislature on his mandate that the state sales tax rate be increased from 2 to 3 per cent to provide additional relief funds, the federal purse strings were tightened and the total expenditure was $10,885,703, with 313,035 families on the rolls. Hopkins tightened up further in May, when there were 293,100 families on relief and the expenditures amounted to $5,104,184.

The July reduction left 277,075 families on relief as contrasted with 283,247 in June, or a decline of 2.2 per cent. Since March the number of families on relief in Illinois has decreased by 43,926.

In Cook county the family rolls dropped from 147,682 to 144,726 from June to July, while downstate the decline was from 135,565 to 132,349.

8 Counties Show 15 Pct. Cut.

Eight counties that registered decreases of 15 per cent or more were Greene, McDonough, Marshall, Mason, Monroe, Ogle, Pope, and White. Peoria county had an increase of 20 per cent and Pulaski of 27 per cent. In these counties the administrators reported that heavy rains had halted farming operations.

Reynolds said that great decreases in the relief load were expected when the federal works progress administration gained momentum.

The Illinois office of the WPA received a $500,000 advance from J. M. Warfield, director of accounts for the treasury department, during the day as the first funds available under the program here. They money will be used to start 26 projects, costing $1,605,376. The projects have been approved by Washington officials.

Ralph Burke, deputy WPA administrator for Illinois, called a conference for today of all division heads preparatory to starting actual work next week.

Antoinette Donnelly Tells How Noted Beauties Keep Charm

Like This Suit for Fall?

From a Chicago shop. The first of the fall street suits without fur. The material is soft, big checked wool in red, black and greyish white. A black silk blouse tops the slim skirt. The coat is full and flared in the back and made with wide, loose sleeves.

Checked Suits to Highlight Autumn Scene

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Just try and live through the autumn without a cheerfully, almost gaudily, checked and highly colored suit outfit. It will take more than average control of your money supply and stern denial to withstand the new beauties. If, in former seasons, you thought color raged unconfined, prepare for record-breaking eye-openers from now on. The vanguard of fall styles is ready to tempt you daily.

Swanky flared coats just reach the knees or just above the knees. They flare wide and full and dashing in the back, with a smooth flat silhouette in front. Pockets—patched on or inset on a slant or artfully concealed—have sufficient capacity to hold a gloved fist in each side as you saunter down the boulevard listening for admiring comments.

Some are furred and some of the smartest haven't an inch of fur to boast about. Others are trimmed with velvet collars and pocket flaps for contrast. There are plenty of buttons and lots of swank in pointed collars and contrasting dark linings to match the blouse tops of the skirt.

Such a suit has been photographed . . . the material is big checked red, black, and gray white. The coat reaches to the knees, is flared full at the back, has huge patch pockets, and can be buttoned snugly in double breasted style over the chest.

The simple skirt is attached to a black heavy crêpe shirt top, also made with chest pockets. The belt is slipped through loops of the wool checked material and is fastened around the waist. An off-the-face felt hat completes the outfit. It is from a large collection of similar new and high fashion early fall suits featured in a Chicago shop.

Accent Curves in New Styles by Schiaparelli

PARIS, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Curves got a high hand in Schiaparelli's winter fashion show today.

Both the evening and the day silhouettes, which the designer described as "clothed in nudity," were molded along lines of the figure, particularly accenting the bust.

Every manequin wore her hair gathered in a close fitting net which covered all but the front locks. The nets were made of black lacker threads for day and gold mesh or seed pearls for night.

Bright satin ankle length evening pants were worn under black gowns, cut up about a foot at the hemline to reveal the trousers.

Other evening gowns, of a decidedly royalist tendency, were fashioned of royal blue, imperial purple, highness satins, black silks shot with shiny colored threads and designed draperies, swirling from front to back, revealing, instead of concealing, curves.

Day clothes were cut along more republican lines and featured shorter skirts, twelve to fourteen inches above the ground; high necklines and broadened shoulders. They close with zipper fasteners at the back, sides, or front.

Colors were black, green, brown, wine, and the fabrics Horse Guard wools, tweeds, cloque, or crinkled crêpes.

Foxes swirled all around the shoulders and sleeves of coats, which were accompanied by elbow length fur gloves instead of muffs. There were many coxcomb hats, topped by fox tails.

Opera Season Here to Open on November 4

Schedule of Five Weeks Is Arranged.

Chicago was assured of a five weeks' season of grand opera next winter, and plans were revealed for another year's season, in an announcement made yesterday by Karleton Hackett, long identified with music in Chicago, who is the president of the Chicago City Opera company, the new name of the organization.

The season will open Nov. 4 in the Chicago Civic Opera house. Top prices for a seat will be $3 and $40 for a box. The lowest price will be 50 cents. These prices are made possible, Mr. Hackett said, due to the setting up of a budget "never before approached for economy and practical working."

Opera has been made possible, according to the announcement, due to the coöperation of many agencies, including the artists. The opera house, with all its equipment, has united in the new enterprise for a two year period.

"Negotiations are under way with the following artists," the announcement read: "Mesdames Bori, Lehmann, Pons, Jeritza, Mason, Muzio, Marion Claire, Coe Glade, Sharnova, Tennyson, La Mance, Raisa, Jampton, and Messieurs Schipa, Chamlee, Jagel, Thomas, Pinza, Lazzari, Morelli, Bentonelli, and Franco Forest.

"Gennaro Papi and Henry Weber [conductor of the concert orchestra of W-G-N, THE TRIBUNE's radio station], again will be the leading conductors of the company, with Messrs. Kopp, Bigalli, Spadoni, and Waller assisting.

"The répertoire will include the American première of 'La Fiamma,' by Ottorino Respighi, Italian composer. 'Rondine,' by Puccini, also will be given for the first time in Chicago in English. There also will be a revival of Rosenkavalier with Jeritza, Lehmann, and Claire."

Mayor Kelly was announced as honorary president, representing civic interests lending their support to the season. Paul Longone continues as general manager and Ruth Page again will be ballet director and première danseuse. Isaac Van Grove will be the stage director and Harry Beatty the technical director.

SUMMER SEASON

Oscar Hewitt, city commissioner of public works, and William Green, promoter of summer opera for Chicago, yesterday signed contracts for the use of the auditorium at Navy pier for a popular price opera season to open Aug. 17 and to continue indefinitly into September.

Terms of the contract provide that the city make necessary repairs to the stage in the auditorium at a cost of $500 and contribute $2,000 toward employment of singers and musicians. Mr. Green is to pay for lighting and all labor costs and will refund to the city all money taken in over actual costs.

Mr. Green said yesterday that tickets for the opera will range from 50 cents to $1. The auditorium will seat 3,500 persons. Chicago opera singers with reputations will comprise the casts, he added. The Chicago Civic Opera company has granted the use of scenery and other equipment.

The opera project was sponsored in the city council by Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th] and was approved by Mayor Kelly.

Front Views and Profiles

WEIMAR—Visitors to Weimar go to see not only Goethe's "town house" with its portraits and busts, its formal rooms, and the physics and botanical and zoölogical laboratories of Goethe that make it a museum, they also go to visit his Gartenhaus, the rustic little house beyond the city gate, with a large garden and a neighboring park. Roses and hollyhocks and bluebells were blooming in the garden on either side of the path—and perhaps were in his time. It was here Goethe lived for seven years, I remembered; here Christiane, with whom he lived for some sixteen years, and then married, first came to visit him. It was here he lived when he wrote that he bathed in the brook by the hedge on "November evenings and December mornings and on snowy January days," so as to freshen his wits. It was here that he gardened, kept bees, and grafted young trees, and wrote love letters "with fingers greasy from grafting wax."

The house of Charlotte von Stein, who perhaps influenced Germany's greatest literary genius more than any other woman, is just across the street from the park entrance, and is now a pension.

We left Weimar—and reluctantly—for the leisurely tradition of living of the city made itself felt, its streets are quaint and quiet, and its trees stately and green, and before we left we stopped to see the interior of the Wittams-Palaus, the residence of the Duchess Anna Amalia from 1774 to 1817. She was, I believe, a sister of Frederick the Great, although I may be wrong, and she was a much painted lady of her day, judging of the many portraits of her that hang on her walls. The house has charming Beidermeier and Empire furniture and reminiscences of Weimar's classic period. We were not permitted to walk over the polished marquetry floors, but were asked to put on felt sandals, lying ready inside the entrance, and we shuffled through the rooms with them over our shoes.

* *

Leaving Weimar behind, we sought Saalfeld, on the Saale river, for a little beyond that was the ancient German castle of Lauenstein, where we expected to spend the night. It was already sundown, and we knew there was a mountain road to ascend after we once caught sight of the castle crowning a Franconian peak. For just beyond Saalfeld we would be in Franconia, a northern province of Bavaria.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

The showboat Dixiana is celebrating the start of its second year of old-school theatricals in a highly appropriate manner. It has revived one of the oldest of American melodramas, which happens to be also the most famous play in the history of the American stage—"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

About three years ago the "Tom show" tradition became extinct after 75 years of life as a special branch of the theatrical profession. Long before that it had faded out of city life and survived only in the villages. Therefore it is safe to assert that there are numerous playgoers in Chicago who have never seen "Uncle Tom's Cabin," except perhaps in the lyric version offered by the Duncan Sisters, and that a visit to the current production on the Dixiana will be of some educational value for them.

This version of the folk-play represents the standard text, the work of George L. Aiken, who carved it out of Mrs. Stowe's propaganda novel in 1856, and is the one which was used in the all-star revival by the Players Club of New York a few years ago after a conference of "Uncle Tom" experts had endorsed it as the real McCoy. I mention this point because in the good old days almost every touring "Tom show" had its own idea of the way the book should have been dramatized.

The performance, when the rough edges are smoothed away, will be better than that of the Studebaker theater production in the spring of 1933. It is a satisfactory illustration of "Uncle Tom" acting as practiced all over the land twenty, thirty and forty years ago. It is deficient only in its lack of bloodhounds to pursue the fleeing Eliza across the ice floes of the Ohio river. These terrifying beasts, which used to be standard equipment for "Tom shows," are represented only by "woof-woofs" off stage.

Harry Cansdale's Uncle Tom is sound regulation stuff. Jessalyn Delzell's Topsy will remind you of Rosetta Duncan's.

The stage settings of the Dixiana are improving with every production, and "Uncle Tom's Cabin" contains some neat examples of scene painting. No improvement may be noted, however, in the curious sense of humor which afflicts the showboat's patrons.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Don't miss the gayest, most amusing bath trick of the week, the bath ball, a plump white affair on a thick white cord that you hang around your neck while you shower or bathe. It's grand fun—and certainly one of the best gift ideas of the season. It would be ideal for your week-end hostess, for bridge winners or the marrying maid whose friends rally round and give a shower—the gift, not the water—kind.

Some people think it's a bit on the silly side, but we think it's smart and amusing. And it is a convenience if you prefer a shower to a bath. No diving or slipping while you hunt an elusive cake of soap, half blinded by water. It's pure soap that gives an excellent, creamy lather. There's no particularly poignant perfume to it—just a nice, fresh, clean fragrance. It would be ideal for summer cottagers who like to bathe as they swim.

It's a chic bath accessory, just the thing for the woman who likes to have her bathroom dressed up with smart trifles and who loves rather trick things herself. You'll find it in only one Chicago shop, in a shiny box as dapper as it is—all black with a highly stylized design in white.

Another bath item you might look at if you're seeking relief from the heat and enjoying nice little touches that promote the cool, crisp feeling is a lovely lilac dusting powder, with a bottle of lilac skin perfume tucked in the top for good measure. It's just about an unbeatable combination—the powder is frothy and fragrant and the lotion ideal for a little rub down after bathing. You'll feel that using these gives you a decisive victory over heat. You'll find this combination package of powder and skin perfume in a great many shops—and it's a bargain.

Yacht Races for Two Cups Are Under Way

Sail Three Successive Days for Trophies.

BY JUDITH CASS.

It is hard to find a business man who is also a sailor at his desk these August afternoons, for all those who own boats or have the opportunity to serve as members of a crew are out in the cool breezes on Lake Michigan, where R boats and eagle class boats are racing in a series for the Sir Thomas Lipton cup and for the Sir John G. Nutting cup.

Under brilliant skies and before freshening breezes yesterday afternoon 15 yachts sailed out of Belmont harbor for the first race in a series of three, in competition for these two cups.

It is to be wondered if the late Sir Thomas realized what pleasure he was giving to Chicago sailors when thirty years ago he gave the trophy to the Chicago Yacht club—and incidentally it is the first cup Sir Thomas ever presented to any club. Ever since 1905 R boats have been racing for it. Sir John Nutting, who was a close friend of the Irish sportsman, presented his trophy to the club the year before and for the last 31 years eagle boats, a slightly smaller class craft than the R boats, have been competing for it.

The races are difficult ones, for each yacht must race 12 miles each day, and if one looks out over Belmont harbor and the lake this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon one may see these same boats sailing against each other again. One course is triangular, three miles each way; another is six miles each way windward and leeward, and the third is a quadrangular race, three miles each way.

Three Contestants Previous Winners.

Three of the nine R class sloops racing for the Lipton cup have won it before. They are the Gypsy, owned by Frederick G. Wacker, which crossed the finish line first last year; the Ariel, owned by Edwin E. Sheridan, and the Alert IV., owned by Dr. Theodore Morris. The other R class boats entered include the Olive, owned by George F. Getz Jr. and Dr. Arthur Metz, and named for the former's pretty wife; the Nancy, owned by Edward H. Railton and Burt Kimball; the Yankee, owned by Edward Schnabel; the Gossoon II., owned by Malcolm Vail, Sterling Morton, and Joseph Moller with Frederick Spencer sailing on the crew; the Ardelle, "Chick" Waltman's boat, and the Atalanta, owned by L. L. Karas and W. L. Lattimer.

Arthur Kohlbusch and Hugh Driscoll will be sailing with Mr. Sheridan on the Ariel, and Philip Hill, Robert Haynie and Frederick Barker will assist Mr. Wacker on the Gypsy.

A real threat in the eagle class is the Aquila, manned this summer by Sanger P. and Theodore Robinson Jr. and William B. Goltra, who rented her from George F. Getz Sr. The Robinson twins took their craft, the Hope, to Marblehead Neck, Mass., last summer to race her and sold her there. Oddly enough she was purchased by a Milwaukeean and was entered in the Mackinac race this year, so she is back in home waters. The Messrs. Robinson and Goltra won series B of the Chicago Yacht club's racing events last week and now they are looking forward to some good luck and fast sailing on the Aquila to secure for them the Nutting cup.

Eagle Boats Are Entered.

Goes Sailing Every Week-end

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Dorothy Ongman is one of Chicago's lucky young women for she goes sailing every week-end. She was photographed on board the Phantom, a cabin cruiser owned by John Cheshire, which he keeps in Belmont Harbor. Miss Ongman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sheldon Ongman.

Miss Janet Williams Becomes Bride of Eugene Goodwillie

Montclair, N. J., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Miss Janet Fox Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Slocum Williams of this place, became the bride today of Eugene William Goodwillie of New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perley M. Goodwillie of Chicago. The ceremony which was performed at St. James' church, Upper Montclair, by the pastor, the Rev. Robert W. Trenbath, was followed by a reception at the Williams home for relatives and intimate friends.

The bride's gown of point applique lace made over ivory had been worn previously by her aunt, Mrs. Robert Campbell Fulton, of New York, at her wedding. Her veil of tulle and princess lace trimmed with orange blossoms was arranged in cap effect. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor and bridesmaids were gowned alike in green chiffon. They carried white Shasta daisies and maidenhair fern.

IRENE RICH says DON'T BE FAT!

"Eat Sensibly—Drink Welch's Grape Juice"

"Don't let fat creep up on you, just because you're forty," says Irene Rich. Her reducing secret is simple—eat sensibly and drink Welch's Grape Juice.

Helps Body Burn Up Fat

You see, scientists have found it is not enough to substitute all low-calory foods for the rich, fattening things you used to eat. They tell us it is necessary to supply the body with a certain amount of an easily-burnable sugar, so that the body can burn up its fat.

In the Welch process, all the sugar in the juice is natural—exactly the same kind your blood uses for energy. This sugar is easily and quickly burned, and it actually helps the body burn up fat!

Ends Between-Meal Hunger

At the same time, Welch's satisfies that craving for sweets and rich foods without adding fat. Hence, it helps you lose weight naturally. It's no strain on your face or your system to reduce this pleasant Welch Way. It brings youthful appearance, new energy—as well as a slender figure. Order a supply of Welch's and begin today! It's sold at all grocers and druggists.

4 Glasses of Welch's A Day

Remember—to follow Irene Rich's easy Welch Way, you simply drink 4 glasses of Welch's a day—mixing ¼ pure Welch's with ¾ plain water. Drink a glassful before each meal and one before retiring at night. Then eat sensibly and see how fat gradually slips away while energy stays up! Really—you'll be amazed!

Lovely Irene Rich, past forty, still has the young, lovely figure she had at 16.

"Welch's Grape Juice has an important place on our training table menus. It gives the boys strength and energy without adding health-destroying fat. We find the minerals and vitamins valuable in helping build firm flesh, and strong bones and teeth. I recommend it for all children and athletes!"

BEWARE OF CHEAP SUBSTITUTES

Get only genuine Welch's. For the secret Welch Process retains the healthful properties of ripe Concord Grapes so essential to the system. Welch's is absolutely pure and unadulterated; is Certified-Pure. Pasteurized; contains no adulterants, no synthetic flavors, no artificial coloring, no preservatives, no added water. Always full strength. Can be diluted with ¼ water and still be delicious. Hence Welch's goes farther, too. So ask for it by name. And get what you ask for!

The Husband Snatcher

By Elizabeth York Miller.

SYNOPSIS.

Nancy and Dick Heritage have been married for two years and are still greatly in love. Though Nancy is hated by Edith Heritage, her mother-in-law, and she has come to live with them in their little house in Primrose Dene, near London. There is a gap of four years in Nancy's life which she had not satisfactorily accounted for. Nancy is informed by Mr. Sam Akers, attorney, that she has been bequeathed £5,000 by Miss Agnes Satchell, late governor of a girls' reformatory, where Nancy had been committed for four years. Nancy had been employed by a Mrs. Lane and was accused of theft. Sylvia, Mrs. Lane's daughter, was the real culprit. Sylvia threatened to kill herself if Nancy exposed her. Nancy foolishly took the blame, though she possessed a signed confession from Sylvia. Miss Satchell believed in Nancy's innocence. That evening an account is given in the newspaper of the assassination in China of Nancy's sole remaining relative, her aunt, and her aunt's family. Next morning Nancy, who hadn't informed her husband of an expected heir, is unable to get out of bed. Dick and his mother are displeased when they learn the cause. Edith Heritage invites a friend, Mrs. Lane, and her daughter, Sylvia, for tea. Nancy pleads a dentist's appointment. Before leaving she hides a photograph of herself, which her mother-in-law finds and puts back in its place. The Lanes arrive just as Dick comes home. They are startled when they see Nancy's photograph, but Sylvia, who is interested in Dick, explains that Nancy had lived with them, and they'd had a misunderstanding.

INSTALMENT XI.

SYLVIA'S DETERMINATION.

"I think, in view of Sylvia's decision, we must leave any explanation to Nancy," Mrs. Lane replied. She had a nervous air; she really wanted to go, but Sylvia was now talking hard and fast to Dick, fairly sparkling with animation, and her mother could not get her attention. It was all about Nancy to Nancy's attractive husband.

"I wonder if she has changed much. Nancy was the loveliest thing, Mr. Heritage. As a child, I adored her. Well, I wasn't much more than a child when she lived with us—sixteen or thereabouts. I thought if I could ever be anything like as beautiful as Nancy Akers, I'd die happy."

"You're rather good looking, yourself—in your own way," said Dick in a teasing, provocative tone. "So Nancy lived with your family?"

"For some months. She was a sort of governess-companion to me. I'm afraid I was a difficult kid and gave her a lot of trouble. But she was such an angel!

Dick was thinking, as his mother had suggested, that it was strange Nancy had never mentioned the Lanes. Perhaps that quarrel or misunderstanding—whatever it was—had been taken so much to heart by Nancy, that she did not care to refer to it. Nancy was a queer sort of girl. She kept such a lot of things to herself.

And this other girl—Sylvia Lane—with her shining pale eyes that darted at him in a way to set his nerves tingling. There was no doubt about it that she interested Dick Heritage. Nor was there much doubt that Sylvia found him considerably more interesting than most of the men she had met lately. Her favorite comment on men to her mother was that they bored her. But one other remark on that same subject recurred to Mrs. Lane as she noticed her daughter's manner with this handsome Dick Heritage. Sylvia had once said: "All the nicest men are married. I shall have to steal another woman's husband, in the long run."

Had Sylvia Lane found the husband she meant to steal?

It happened, after all, that the Lanes left before Nancy returned. Sylvia did her level best to prolong this call, and by the time they actually went, she had caught Dick's interest far more than either of them realized. But when it was nearly half-past six she yielded to her mother's insistence that they had stayed far too long and reluctantly agreed to their departure.

Dick went out with them to see if he could give any assistance.

The car was a beauty—a woman's car with its soft upholstery and multitude of fittings. A silver greyhound, its fore-feet leaping into space.

Dick inspected the gadgets with feelings of amusement and envy. He wanted a car so much, and Nancy would love one exactly like this. Still, for himself, he would rather have one on more masculine lines.

Sylvia Lane looked adorable at the steering wheel.

She gazed into his eyes once more and spoke as though her mother was not present.

"Sometime you must let me take you for a run into the country," she said.

He had not expected his gallantry to lead him quite so far afield.

"I should be delighted," he murmured.

"I wonder if you're just saying that to be polite?" Sylvia challenged.

"I am never polite!" said Dick, with mock indignation.

"Sylvia!" protested Mrs. Lane.

"All right, mother. . . . Good-by, Dick Heritage. Tell Nancy I will ring her up. And tell her, too, that 'bygones are bygones.' I do so much want to see her again."

"And you do so much want to see me again? Am I right about that?"

"You know—you naughty boy!"

"Sylvia!" Mrs. Lane was beginning to be scandalized.

"All right, mother."

Sylvia waved her hand and the car headed for the main thoroughfare.

For a moment Mrs. Lane said nothing, then she burst out indignantly: "Sylvia, it's all wrong! You know as well as I do that Nancy ought to be shown up. She's married this charming boy without telling him a thing. And Mrs. Heritage knows nothing, either. But Mrs. Heritage doesn't like her. What would they say if they knew that she was just a common little thief and was sent to prison for four years——"

"A reformatory, mother," Sylvia said in a steely voice. "Why should Nancy tell them—or anybody? It's her business, isn't it?"

"It's ours, too. Why, there was a moment when I thought she was going to try to put it on you! She might have done so and succeeded. And if that had happened, Mrs. Bagge wouldn't have left you her fortune, and you wouldn't be riding in your own car this moment, with a fine income, and all."

An expression of indecision crossed Sylvia's face. She had a reason for wanting to be friends with Nancy, and she could see that if she did not take strong measures, her mother—docile in most things—might make it impossible. Just for a second it was in Sylvia's mind to tell her mother the truth; that is, to say that she knew Nancy to be innocent of that series of thefts from Mrs. Bagge. But it wouldn't be good enough. Her mother would insist upon being told more, and Sylvia's brain was not equal to the task of making up some clever story on the spur of the moment; nor, indeed, was she prepared to tell the whole truth and thus incriminate herself.

"Mother, Nancy has been punished enough. You know you were shocked, yourself, when the magistrate committed her to that home for four years. You said it was a harsh sentence. If you say one word or even throw out a hint to Mrs. Heritage about it, I'll never forgive you so long as I live. And you know I can be perfectly horrid if I want to."

"Yes, you can," said Mrs. Lane. "Very well, have it your own way. We don't need to see anything more of the Heritages."

"I intend to see something of them," said Sylvia.

Her mother threw a sidewise glance at her profile. It looked hard and obstinate.

"You mean Nancy's husband, of course. I'm not blind. If I may offer you a little advice——"

"Mother darling, don't waste any more advice on me. Dick Heritage is the most fascinating boy I've met in many a long day. Do you think I'm going to let a mere wife—Nancy Akers, at that! interfere if I choose to make a friend of him?"

A jellyfish cast up on the sands was not more helpless than Mrs. Lane.

"I wish to heaven I had never met that woman," she muttered, referring to Edith Heritage.

The first thing that caught Nancy's eye when she entered the house that evening was the sight of her photograph returned to its position on Dick's desk.

Minnie informed her that the young master was in the garden and Mrs. Heritage upstairs dressing for dinner.

Yes, said Minnie, the visitors—two ladies—had come and gone, but they had stayed a very long time.

Minnie said nothing, however, about having found the photograph behind the divan. Obviously it was not she who had put it back.

Nancy crept upstairs. She had had a worrying, furtive afternoon. First to the bank recommended by Mr. Digger to pay in her legacy and open an account. The bank was in Fleet street, sufficiently remote for her to feel safe about escaping detection upon occasions when she might wish to visit it. The manager was going to arrange to buy some securities for her, and she had drawn out $50 in cash, just for the fun of the thing.

Only, between worrying about what might be going on at home when the Lanes arrived and really paying a visit to the dentist in order to be on the safe side should anybody ask her to exhibit a newly stopped tooth, Nancy was not getting very much fun out of anything. She had to wait a long time at the dentist's, because of course she really had no appointment, and then he discovered that a good deal more needed doing than she had any idea of, and perhaps a back tooth might have to be pulled, or have the nerve killed. However, it was lucky she could afford the expense.

FROZEN FOWL IS NEW DISCOVERY FOR KITCHENEER

Birds Ready Prepared for All Types of Cooking.

"Appetizers—How to Make Them—When to Serve Them," a booklet of directions for making foreign and American appetizers, with thirty recipes, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, One South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents. By mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

In your flurry of fried chicken, broiled chicken, and chicken salad these days we hope you've made acquaintance with the grand frozen birds on the market. Not only are you assured top grade fowl but absolutely the only thing you have to do to them is to take off their stockinette wrapping and the inner layer of cellophane! Even every littlest pin feather has been taken off by a special adhesive method, and the perfectly cleaned giblets are tucked inside the bird, carefully wrapped in their own bit of parchment.

Not only plump broiling and frying chickens come in this exalted form, but fat stewing hens, grand roasting chickens—besides ducklings and even turkeys! The only trouble on your part is the minor item of deciding what kind of a bird and what size.

Special attention is paid to detail in the cleaning and wrapping of these frozen birds. They're expertly and completely cleaned, of course, and you'll be delighted to know that the drumstick joints are carefully left smooth and round instead of broken and jagged as is the case in so many more casually packed fowl.

Once cleaned and wrapped in their double layer garments, the immaculate chickens are boxed and sped into a quick freezing machine. There, at approximately 50 degrees below zero, they're rapidly frozen. Until time of shipment they're stored at a temperature considerably below zero, too, so you needn't worry about the possible ill effects of freezing and thawing.

The first thawing of these super birds is after you get them home. We inquired from one of the foremost authorities in the country on the subject and here's the best information on how to do that.

In the first place, if you plan to buy your chicken on Saturday for Sunday's dinner it's the best plan not to defrost it until the day of cooking. It will remain firm and frozen in the freezing compartment or just below it. However, she assured us that a few hours' wait after thawing was absolutely harmless, both to the freshness and flavor of the bird.

That is, of course, if you're going to roast the fowl. Unless it has to be defrosted to be stuffed with dressing, it really isn't necessary to bother about defrosting at all. For fried or broiled chicken the firm frozen meat may be cut and the cooking begun without bothering even with that. It may take a few minutes longer to cook that way, starting as cold as it is, but that's the only drawback.

Did we mention the method of defrosting? It's just as simple as ordering the bird. Instead of soaking it in warm water (which was our first guess on the subject) all you need do is to leave it in the refrigerator (not the freezing compartment) overnight and it thaws itself.

Sounds as if these pan-ready chickens might be frightfully expensive, we know. But considering the fact that there isn't one atom of waste anywhere, the slightly larger price you pay for them becomes practically negligible.

Only one place in Chicago do we know where these frozen chickens can be had. So if you're interested in getting one, just drop us a line or dash to the telephone and we'll be happy to give you the name and address of the firm.

LYE SOLUTION REMOVES SKIN FROM PEACHES

When a bushel or more of peaches or apricots are to be canned, time will be saved by peeling them with lye. Prepare the solution in an agateware or iron kettle, never aluminum.

Use ¼ pound [4 ounces or about 4 level tablespoons] of granulated lye in 2 gallons of water. Heat to boiling, and while it is actively boiling immerse the peaches in a wire basket. When the skin is loosened and partially dissolved [usually in about 30 to 60 seconds], remove the peaches, wash them at once in running water if possible, until skin and lye are removed.

Rinse thoroughly or the fruit will darken. If still water is used, rinse in a fresh supply after washing off skin and lye.

SURVEY SHOWS MEAT PRICES ARE DUE TO ADVANCE

Eggs Marked Up; Peaches Cheaper Wholesale.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

THE TRIBUNE'S food survey this week reveals that consumers may expect to pay higher prices for beef, pork, lamb, and mutton within the next few days. Even this week retail butchers found it difficult to sort out cuts that could be offered at reduced prices. Many of them turned to frankfurters, leg of mutton, and smoked hams of brands that are not widely known.

Farmers are being paid more for beef cattle, hogs, sheep, and lambs than they received a week ago. Packers sold dressed beef, pork, mutton, and lamb at advanced prices, all in line with higher prices paid producers.

John Campbell, federal live stock and meet reporter, says that steers of the grades that produce the good to choice beef are from 25 to 50 cents a hundred pounds higher than a week ago. Dressed beef is up from 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds, following in proportions the higher live cattle prices.

Hog Receipts Show Decline.

Mr. Campbell reports live hog prices from 80 to 90 cents a hundred pounds higher than last week, with hog receipts at Chicago and seven other terminal markets amounting to only 38 per cent of shipments received at these centers last year at this time. Proportionately higher prices are being asked by packers who have marked their fresh pork carcasses up from $1 to $2 a hundred above last week's level.

Lambs went up from 15 to 25 cents a hundredweight above last week's prices. Packers in turn pushed dressed lamb prices up from 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds. Wholesale lamb carcasses now are considered in line with live weight prices, according to Mr. Campbell.

These higher live stock and fresh meat prices are not yet reflected to any great extent in the retail markets, according to yesterday's survey of stores in the city and nearby suburban shopping centers. However, butchers found it necessary to increase their prices on leg of lamb, pork roast, lower grades of sirloin of beef, practically all fresh fish, and frying and stewing chickens.

Tendency to Boost Prices.

The tendency in most shops was to mark up prices of fresh meats rather than down, or keep them at last week's level. In general, round steaks and pot roasts of beef will be found the same today and tomorrow as they were last Friday and Saturday. A few brands of smoked hams, frankfurters and the lower grades of sirloin steaks have been reduced in price by some butcher shops.

Beef is expected to be relatively high for several months because corn belt farmers, in stocking up their feed lots, are asked to pay at Kansas City, for example, $7.50 to $8.50 a hundred for calves, weighing 350 to 450 pounds, and $8 to $8.75 for steers weighing 550 to 1,000 pounds.

New price tags were made by retail grocers yesterday to take care of their price changes, both up and down, on staples and on fruits and vegetables. Eggs, a regular article in practically all homes, were marked up. Head lettuce is higher in some stores. Fresh tomatoes, ordinarily on the down grade at this time of the year, were boosted in price in several stores yesterday. But heavy supplies of locally grown tomatoes are expected to increase further during the next few days. This may encourage retailers to lower their prices soon. Green beans are slightly higher in some stores; they are coming mostly from local truck farms.

Weather Causes Fruit Losses.

Hot weather has made it difficult to keep fruits and vegetables in good condition while they are being moved from the orchards and gardens to the consumer's table. This has caused some losses and increased the handler's costs.

Fresh peaches are up, although there is a big crop being moved out of southern Illinois orchards to Chicago. Wholesale prices of peaches are coming down, due to heavy shipments from Indiana and southern Illinois. Many housewives are getting ready to can peaches; they are waiting for the prices to drop. This may be expected within a few days. The University of Illinois reports that the peach crop of this state is the best in five years.

Prices are lower on comparatively few food items in retail stores generally throughout the city and suburbs. Beets and cabbage, however, are marked down and are offered at extremely low prices for today and tomorrow in many stores. Bananas and fresh grapes are lower generally. In some stores cooking apples, lemons, and cheese prices have been cut.

SWEDISH COOKIES

4 cups cake flour
1 cup sugar
2 cups butter
1 egg, well beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream the butter until fluffy, then add the sugar and continue creaming until very light and perfectly blended. Add the egg and vanilla and beat thoroughly. Add the flour, which has been sifted three times, stirring it in a little at a time. When all has been worked in, the dough will be very thick. Shape it into two rolls, about 1½ inches in diameter, and chill overnight or as long as desired. To serve, cut the rolls in thin slices and bake on an ungreased cookie sheet in a hot oven [400 degrees F.] for five minutes, or until done.

RHUBARB-PINEAPPLE PUNCH

3 cups diced rhubarb
3 cups water
1 cup sugar
1 cup pineapple juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1½ cups ginger ale.

Simmer the rhubarb, water, and sugar until rhubarb is tender. Strain and chill. Add the pineapple juice, lemon juice, and just before serving add cracked ice and ginger ale.

CABBAGE COOKED IN MILK

2 cups milk.
5 to 6 cups shredded cabbage
1 cup top milk or cream.
3 tablespoons melted butter
3 tablespoons flour
Salt and pepper to taste.

Heat the milk and cook the cabbage in it for two minutes. Combine the butter and flour and add with the top milk and seasoning. Continue cooking rapidly for four minutes.

CANNED TOMATO JUICE COCKTAIL

1 peck tomatoes
1 onion
12 springs parsley
½ bay leaf
1 teaspoon peppercorns
1 teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon cloves [heads removed]
2 tablespoons salt
1 tablespoon sugar

Tie spices in bag. Boil all together, gently at first until juices flow, then simmer ½ hour. Strain and reheat. Pour into sterilized bottles or jars to overflowing. Seal at once. The seasoning except the salt may be omitted.

SALT RISING BREAD

1 cup scalded milk
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons cornmeal
1 tablespoon melted fat
Flour to form a dough

Cool the scalded milk until just lukewarm, then stir in the sugar, salt, corn meal, melted fat. Turn the mixture into a jar and surround with quite hot water [125 degrees F.]. Let stand about seven hours, or until the mixture starts to bubble and ferment. When sufficiently fermented, heat again in a water bath of 125 degrees F., and when mixture is very light add sifted flour, stirring constantly until a dough is formed. Knead about ten minutes and place in a slightly greased pan. When well risen again bake in a hot oven [420 degrees F.] for the first fifteen minutes. Then gradually lower the heat and finish baking at 375 degrees F.

CANNED FOOD SPOILAGE LAID TO PROCESSING

Pressure Cooking Held Best Method.

Spoilage of canned foods is caused by the growth of certain micro-organisms—namely: the yeast molds and bacteria which are present in the air, on the fruits and vegetables, and, in fact, on everything that has not been sterilized—according to Miss Eva I. Buel, extension nutritionist of Purdue university. Successful canning depends on complete sterilization to kill these organisms and proper sealing to prevent future contamination.

Canning of fruits and tomatoes so they will keep is comparatively easy because the acid present in these foods is unsatisfactory for the growth of many decay producing micro-organisms, Miss Buel says. However, the canning of nonacid vegetables and meat is quite another story. Canned cream style corn is difficult to keep and trouble is often experienced keeping spinach, asparagus, peas, and lima and green beans.

Processing at Fault.

The trouble in many cases lies in faulty processing. This step comes after the cans have been packed.

Pressure cooking is the most satisfactory means of canning these nonacid vegetables and meat. A strong kettle with a heavy lid that can be clamped down to hold in the steam is used and the canned goods is cooked under pressure sufficient to produce the right temperature. It is provided with a pressure gauge, an air outlet with a petcock, and a safety valve. The jars or cans of vegetables are placed in the cooker on a rack over just enough water to produce the pressure and the temperature according to directions which come with the cooker. The careful following of directions is very important for successful canning.

Sterilization Important.

The jars and lids should be sterilized by standing them with open side down in a flat pan which contains about 1½ inches of water. This small amount of water boils, sending the steam up into the jars and lids. The jars remain in this position at least until they are so hot on top that they cannot be touched. They then should be quickly turned over and the steam will immediately evaporate, leaving a dry hot jar ready to be filled. It is much easier and more sanitary if the rubbers are placed on the jar before the sterilization process is begun. Hot jars should never be handled without protection to the hands.

The factors which are important in successful canning may be briefly summarized as follows:

Cleanliness and thorough sterilization.

Proper selection, grading, and preparation of products.

Selection of right canning method for the product. For instance, corn cannot be successfully canned by the same method that is used for cherries.

Jar Size a Factor.

Selection of the proper sized jar. Because of the closeness of pack and difficulty in sterilization it is recommended that peas, corn, and greens be canned in nothing larger than pint jars.

Careful packing. The nonacid vegetables such as corn and peas should be packed loosely to increase heat penetration.

Steps which if followed will assure canned foods which will keep and which will retain a full flavor and high food value are as follows:

Follow the processing time and temperature directions exactly.

Complete the sealing process at the close of the processing periods while the jars are still hot.

Place the jars at least four or five inches apart after processing and sealing for quick cooling.

Store in a cool, dry place.

Boil the nonacid product at least ten minutes before tasting after the can is opened. This precaution is important.

Wash the jar and lid in hot soap suds as soon as the jar is emptied, dry, replace lid, and store in a clean place.

The canned product can never be better than the raw product which is put into the jar at canning time.

"UNCLE JOHN," 111, HAS PARTY TODAY IN OKLAHOMA

Bokchito, Okla., Aug. 8.—(AP)—J. J. [Uncle John] Allen—Oklahoma's "champion family man" who reared 43 orphans beside eight children of his own—will be 111 years old tomorrow. He's going to have a party at the farm of Will Knight.

"Uncle John" left there 40 years ago to hunt a stray span of mules. He got black fever, was cared for in an old Indian's home, recovered, but did not return to the farm, two miles south of here.

Allen is in good health, walks seven blocks to town, "two or three times a day," eats cornbread, all kinds of meat, and drinks plenty of strong coffee.

He claims a fourth set of "real" teeth. He and the second Mrs. Allen have not had any children since twins were born some 30 years ago, when "Uncle John" was about 80.

Allen's care for orphans, he said, was due to a civil war oath before the battle of Shiloh between 4 soldiers of whom he was one. He never saw the two others again. The third failed to keep his word, Allen says, "so I hunted up the families of those two boys and we went to farming."

WIFE ASKS $1,000 A MONTH FROM J. D. SPRECKELS III.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Roxana Gloria Spreckels filed suit today for $1,000 a month separate maintenance against her husband, John D. Spreckels II., an heir to the Spreckels sugar fortune.

The complaint charges that while Spreckels accused his wife of being "mercenary and commercial" when informed of the expense attendant on the birth of their daughter, Elsie La Marr Spreckels, he spent large amounts on horses and horse races.

Mrs. Spreckels also alleges the sugar heir was habitually intemperate and without cause or provocation became violently angry.

The complaint further avers that Spreckels constantly associated with other women, and openly said he wished his child would die so that he would not have to support her.

Pope Gives Special Blessing to Pilgrims from America

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Pope Pius today told 125 pilgrims of the Catholic Travel league, organized in New York, that Americans were "especially dear" to him because of the national eucharistic congress to be held soon in Cleveland. His Holiness simparted a special benediction on the pilgrims, their families, cities and churches.

BEANS AND CORN ARE PRESERVED IN SALT WATER

Preserving beans and corn by salting is recommended when it is not practical to preserve them by canning or drying, says the New York state college of home economics at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y.

The college gives the following directions for salting beans and corn:

SALTED BEANS—Thoroughly wash and clean, and then weigh the vegetables. Mix them well with one fourth their own weight of salt. This results in about a 25 per cent brine when the salt dissolves in the juices withdrawn from the vegetables.

Press the mixture of vegetables and salt well down into the container. If enough brine is not formed by dissolving the salt in the vegetable juices to cover the vegetables, add brine made by dissolving 1 pound, or about 1½ cups of salt in 1½ quarts of water. Cover the vegetables with a plate or a piece of paraffined board cut just to fit the inside of the container. Weight the board. A jar of water or a clean stone, not limestone, will do. Do not use a metal weight. Set the container in a cool place. As soon as the bubbling ceases, remove the weight and cover the surface with paraffin.

SALTED CORN—Husk the corn and remove the silk. Put it into boiling water and boil it for 10 minutes. Cut the corn from the cob, weigh it, mix it with one fourth its weight of salt, and pack it as directed for salted beans.

Leftover Fish Should Not Be Covered Tightly

Left over fish which is to be stored for several days should not be covered tightly enough to permit condensation inside the cover as this condition encourages the growth of bacteria.

MIDWEST PRODUCES LARD.

MEAT SAUCE IS KEY TO PREPARATION OF ITALIAN SPAGHETTI

To cook spaghetti, Italian style, begin with a heavy frying pan of salt pork—about 2 ounces of it. When the fat is bubbling hot, add one and one-half cups of any drained meat, raw, but cut in small pieces. Fry till well seared, then add one clove of garlic, cut in fine pieces, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Cover and simmer until the meat is tender.

The cooking time will be determined by the cut of meat. This is a good chance to use the less expensive cuts as long cooking insures tenderness and these cuts are often of a better flavor than the higher priced meats. When the meat is done, add three cups of strained tomatoes, season again, and simmer half an hour longer. Just before serving, stir in three tablespoons of grated cheese. Or, if desired, the grated cheese may be served at the table.

Parmesan cheese blends well with the tomato, meat, and macaroni flavors. Serve the sauce hot over freshly cooked macaroni or spaghetti.

Robert Jones Made Whitney Color Director

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—The new job and official title of "color director" has been formally bestowed upon Robert Edmond Jones with commensurate salary trimmings by Jock Whitney, boss and financial head of Pioneer Pictures. Jones will handle the color work on all this film company's ventures as he recently did on the test pictures, "La Cucharacha" and "Becky Sharp." Jones has just returned from Central City, Colo., where he directed the annual summer stage presentations.

Steve Hannagan, publicity entrepreneur for the Indianapolis speedway and a Chicago race track, and Isabel Jewell have the local chatbirds talking. They went together to Rouben Mamoulian's party and when Hannagan caught the plane back east a few days ago Isabel went to the airport to see him off. Then when Steve's plane was downed in New Mexico he called up Isabel in the middle of the night to reassure her. Now Miss Jewell has left for Chicago and New York to spend her vacation.

Walter Ruben, the director, admitted today that he and his wife, Mrs. June Ruben, had come to the parting of the ways. Mrs. Ruben remains in their Bel Air mansion and Ruben takes an apartment. The separation, caused by what has become locally known as "Hollywood incompatibility," may be only temporary, as neither has brought up legal phases. For that matter Ruben has visited his wife on numerous occasions since the split and they remain on friendliest of terms. Ruben is getting ready to start "Riff Raff" with Spencer Tracy and Jean Harlow starring.

Little Jane Withers is starting early to prove she is a real trouper. In a scene for her Twentieth Century-Fox picture, "This Is the Life," she was handed a plate of hot stew in a campfire sequence. When Director Neilan yelled cut the nine year old starlet dropped the tin plate and let out a scream. The plate had burned the palm of her right hand and Dr. J. W. Emsheimer treated her for second degree burns. Neilan asked her why she didn't shout quicker and she said she had heard something about the show going on.

To Ruth Etting life means a little more than just work. She had done that for many years. Now she is retiring from professional life—definitly and positively. Miss Etting is under contract to make four more short subjects for RKO. All of her Radio contracts expire before the first of the year. When she is free from all legal obligations she says she will leave on a trip around the world. This over, Miss Etting will hie herself right back to Hollywood to buy a home to settle down in Beverly Hills.

Ten monkeys were hired for scenes in "Rose of the Rancho" at Paramount and broke from their cages. Their chattering in the rafters of the stage made it impossible for John Boles and Gladys Swarthout to continue with their scenes. Nine of them were captured without trouble. The tenth was treed hours later in the Hollywood cemetery, which is not far from the studio.

Eric Linden and Cecelia Parker were romancing in real life before Director Clarence Brown chose them for the love interest in "Ah, Wilderness," so they will now be able to keep right on. They started east last night for Grafton, Mass., where scenes will be shot.

For the third consecutive year Dave Gould gave Mildred Lehrman a birthday party. Dining out of doors in the twilight at the palm garden of the Russian Eagle were Sally Blane and Norman Foster, the about-to-be-weds, and Mr. and Mrs. Ricardo Cortez.

Violet Blossoms Lend Serenity to Lovely Quilt

Violet Block.

BY NANCY CABOT.

These calm, serene little violets, appliqued on a white ground, create one of the most beautiful quilt patterns. The lovely violet blue of the flower and soft leaf green are two cool colors that are most effective in a bedroom with a western exposure. A surprisingly little amount of time is required to make the 22 applique blocks used in the quilt, but accuracy in cutting and care in appliqueing mean everything to the successful completion of the coverlet. This is especially true when the quilt is entered in competition.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

Girls of Club Find They Are Losing at Love

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"We are a group of girls between the ages of 19 and 24, who work and also are interested in studies. We got together in order to widen our acquaintance and have good times. But here, after five months of frequent meetings in each other's homes, we find we are dead losses where young men are concerned. We know boys, true, and give parties to which they come gladly. But there they stop. What's the matter? We tried to figure it out, went at it with pencil and paper. The whole eleven of us are utterly disgusted, discouraged, and at a loss to know why we have not been successful.

"We wrote down possible reasons and these are the faults registered:

"1. We meet the wrong class of boys. They're too rowdy and can't afford to take a girl out.

"2. We have no confidence in ourselves.

"3. We have no snappy line. We don't know how to approach men and make the conversation seem casual.

"4. We don't know how to talk interestedly with boys.

"5. We are too independent and wait for the boy to make the first move.

"6. We act too ingenue for this day and age, we fear.

"7. We wear good clothes and try to look our best. We dance well and are good at sports. We aren't bad looking, none of us. But we're not outstanding in any way.

"You probably wonder what kind of girls we are to admit such truths about ourselves. But what can we do about it? INFORMAL GROUP."

We'd recommend first disbanding as a club, since obviously the atmosphere of disgust and failure is not good for your cause. In numbers there may be strength in other things, but hardly in the pursuit of romance. Because you have each other to fall back on you don't put yourselves across with the boys the way you might.

In 2, 3, 4, and 5 you've pretty well put your finger on what's otherwise wrong, which is half the battle won, as you know.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Requests Crochet Materials.

V. N., on the north side of the city, writes: "Dear Miss Brown: I wonder if some of your women readers have crochet cotton or unfinished fancy work that I could have? I work for my board and I can't afford to buy such things, but I do love to crochet, as I am deaf and unable to enjoy a radio or music. I am able to pay postage if your readers will be good enough to send me anything they may have."

Club Requests Cotton Batting.

"Dear Miss Brown: Would it be possible for our club to obtain cotton batting? We are making small, stuffed animals to be distributed in children's hospital wards and find we haven't enough funds to purchase any more cotton. If any of your readers can oblige, we will be glad to call for it."—Miss A. O.

LOVES TO EAT THIS CEREAL, IT CHECKED HER CONSTIPATION*

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Helped Miss Kesterke

We quote from her letter: "Three years ago I became constipated.* I tried many laxatives. But as soon as I got used to each kind, I began to get the same trouble.

"Last summer I was on my vacation. They served Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I just loved it. I eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every morning, and ever since I have not had to take any more laxatives."—Miss Margaret Kesterke, Cresskill, N. J.

*Due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Tests show ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN is also rich in vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle. It resists digestion better than the fiber in fruits and vegetables, so it is often more effective.

Isn't this food safer than risking patent medicines? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. If seriously constipated, use with each meal. See your doctor if you do not get relief.

Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vim

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . an old prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Circus a Series of Thrills for Sally's Guests

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Three cheers for Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey—they certainly provided a swell entertainment for 100 boys and girls yesterday afternoon!

From the moment we were escorted to our reserved seats, which were exactly in front of the main ring, until the exciting horse race at the very end of the show, the youngsters were thrilled and delighted.

The clowns seemed funnier than they had ever been, the aerialists more daring, the costumes gayer and more lavish. Heads bobbed this way and that and even ice cream cones were momentarily neglected and in danger of melting completely while the boys and girls tried to watch everything that was going on in all rings.

The herd of elephants intrigued us—"Look at 'em sit up and beg." . . . "Gee, I'll bet those guys that train them are brave." The numerous trained horses came in for a lot of admiration, too—and the ponies, dancing to "Turkey in the Straw," were the hit of the show, as far as the kids were concerned.

The procession of riders from various countries—Cossacks from Russia, Canadian mounties, and our own American cowboys made most of the youngsters sit up and take notice—but when Col. Tim McCoy, handsomely uniformed, rode out sitting easily and gracefully in his silver saddle, and waving his ten gallon hat to my guests—the children were positively ecstatic.

The whole show was a series of thrills to the kids, many of whom had never seen a circus before—and they were completely happy from the time of the big parade until we all held our ears when the two daring men were shot out of the cannon.

At the end of the show, one small boy came up, grinning all over his freckled face, and said bashfully—"Gee, Miss Brown—thanks an awful lot—I had the swellest time of my life." Just in back of him was a chubby little girl who said she'd loved everything—"especially the ice cream and pop!"

Yacht Races for Two Cups Are Under Way

Sail Three Successive Days for Trophies.

Clarence Clark, and the Altair, owned by George Glossbrenner. Mr. Glossbrenner is rear commodore of the new Yacht Club of the Lake Shore started by members of the Lake Shore Athletic club. The yachting club is open to members of the athletic club only, but the athletic club, taking advantage of its position on the lake front, is opening the clubhouse to members of any yachting club on the lake or in the country.

The Lipton cup contestants will start again at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon and tomorrow, and the Nutting cup contestants will start five minutes later.

The Sheridan Shore Yacht club, with headquarters in the Wilmette harbor, held its race week last week and from now until the end of the summer there will be just the usual Saturday and Sunday races for snipe and star boats. Among the star boats which usually cross the starting line between 3 and 3:30 o'clock every week-end afternoon are Samuel and Lockwood Pirie's Gemini, Thomas Waage and Charles Knight's Skip It, and Paul Pajeau's Sea Dove.

Change Debut Date of Jean Defrees.

Miss Jean Defrees' debut plans have been changed and instead of making her formal bow to society at a tea on Sept. 7 she will be introduced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Defrees of Winnetka, at a tea-dance at the Indian Hill Country club on Saturday, Dec. 28.

Miss Defrees and her mother and father are leaving tomorrow for a trip to Alaska, but they will be back at home by Sept. 6, so Miss Defrees will be here to enjoy the first of the September debutante festivities. After several weeks of the gay whirl that will fall to the lot of the buds during the early autumn Miss Defrees will leave for Northampton, Mass., to enter her freshman year at Smith college. She finished at the Westover school in Connecticut last June.

Davis-Braun Nuptials Aug. 23.

When attractive Miss Sarah Davis came out to Winnetka to act as bridesmaid at the wedding of Mary MacCaughey to John J. Schreiner last fall there was some talk, sotto voce, of Mrs. Schreiner going east to Pittsburgh at a future date to perform the same service for Miss Davis. In January Miss Davis' engagement to George P. Braun, son of Mrs. William M. Scudder, was announced, and recently the date of the wedding was set for Friday, Aug. 23, at 6:30 o'clock in the evening, in the home of Miss Davis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Davis.

Mrs. Schreiner is going to Pittsburgh next Thursday or Friday to attend all of the pre-nuptial festivities, and her husband will join her a day or two before the wedding. Mr. Braun and the Scudders will leave Chicago the Monday or Tuesday before the wedding, and Miss Virginia Emert will leave about the same time to act as a bridesmaid. The other bridesmaids include Miss Mary Davis, a younger sister, and Mrs. Schreiner's former roommate at Ogontz, Miss Suzanne Fitch. Mr. Braun has sent telegrams to various friends inviting them to usher, but he will not know for several days who among them will be able to serve at the wedding.

Dinner Monday for Hamilton Fish.

The Henry Hoopers and their daughters, who recently returned from five weeks at Lake o' Bays in Canada, are going out to the Chicago Golf club in Wheaton this week-end to remain until after Labor day.

Hamilton Fish of New York and Washington will spend Sunday and Monday with them en route to California and Mr. and Mrs. Hooper will give a small dinner for him Monday night at the club. On Sunday the Hoopers and their guests will dine with the Robert R. McCormicks in Wheaton.

The Willard Butlers, who have been living in Lookout Mountain, Tenn., for the last few years, arrived in Lake Forest yesterday afternoon to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Lithgow Mitchell. While the Butlers are here they will be entertained quite a bit, but only at small, informal parties. Last night they went to the Thursday evening dinner-dance at the Onwentsia club, where they saw many of their old friends.

Today Mrs. Stanley Morrill is entertaining at luncheon for them and tonight they will dine with the Howard Emigs. Tomorrow night the Mitchells have invited a few friends to a dinner for the Butlers, and Sunday the Nicholas Starosselskys have invited them for luncheon.

Spending Summer at Oconomowoc.

The Sidney H. Heaps are spending a cool and delightful summer in Oconomowoc, Wis., as neighbors of George W. Dixon, for they have taken a cottage just north of his home in that pleasant resort. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Zaring and their babies are spending the summer with Mrs. Zaring's father, Mr. Dixon, and George W. Dixon Jr. goes up for an occasional week-end.

The Walter E. Faithorns and their children, Walter Jr. and Edna Grace, are summering in another of Mr. Dixon's homes along the lake—Mrs. Faithorn is the former Elsie Dixon. The De Witt Buchanans of Lake Forest are others who are spending the hot weather months in Oconomowoc.

Miss Dorothy Wegg, the Donald R. Weggs' young daughter, is spending the summer on a ranch in Utah and is not expected at home until September. Her sister, Mrs. Samuel Frothingham Jr. of New York, has paid her annual visit to the Weggs and has returned to her eastern home. Mr. and Mrs. Wegg, who are spending the summer in town, will go to Michigan next week for a week or two.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Downs will return soon from New York to their apartment in the Pearson hotel. Their daughter, Mrs. John F. Oakley [Mary Kay Downs], who was visiting her parents, has returned to her home in New Orleans.

Legion Women Push Campaign of Chicagoan

Illinois Auxiliary Seeks Presidency.

BY RUTH DE YOUNG.

When the American Legion trots out its gold braid and brass buttons the last week of September for its national convention in St. Louis, the wives, sisters, and daughters of Illinois legionnaires will be very much in evidence.

Several thousand strong they are going to St. Louis to lead in the campaign for the elevation of one of their members, Mrs. Melville Mucklestone of Chicago, to the presidency of the Legion auxiliary. The post now is held by Mrs. A. C. Carlson of Willmar, Minn., who, having completed a one year term, is ineligible for reëlection. The auxiliary convention will coincide with that of the Legion, Sept. 23, 24, 25, and 26.

Mrs. Mucklestone, former president of the Illinois department of the auxiliary and for the last three years national legislative chairman, was presented as a candidate last winter by Illinois. In the spring opposition developed when Oklahoma announced Mrs. Thomas George Gammie of Ponca City as its candidate. Mrs. Gammie is completing a term as national vice president for the southern region. Previous to this she was department child welfare chairman.

In presenting Mrs. Mucklestone, Illinois points out that it is the largest unit in the national auxiliary with a membership of 31,147, also that it never has been awarded a national presidency.

It is expected that the campaign will gain considerable heat during the next few weeks. This week Kentucky declared its support of Mrs. Mucklestone. "Mrs. Mucklestone is qualified by college training, a charming personality, poised dignity, good health, and seven years of business experience, in addition to ten years of continuous service with the American Legion auxiliary," Mrs. T. K. Rinaker, president of the Illinois department said yesterday. "Her study and presentation of national defense problems have brought her recognition as an authority on the subject."

Mrs. Mucklestone frequently has been recognized for her personal beauty. Her husband is an attorney and a judge advocate of the American Legion.

Both Mrs. Mucklestone and Mrs. Carlson will be guests of the Illinois department of the Legion auxiliary at its 15th annual convention to be held Aug. 26 and 27 in Quincy. At this meeting it is expected that Mrs. William Glen Suthers of Chicago, now first vice president of the Illinois department, will be elected to succeed Mrs. Rinaker. Mrs. Rinaker automatically becomes a member of the national executive committee.

"For a long time it seems to me the Legion auxiliary has been severely misjudged," emphasized Mrs. Rinaker yesterday. "Too frequently it has been characterized in terms of parades and convention revelry instead of rehabilitation and child welfare, Americanism, national defense, and the other good work it does."

The year's report to be presented at Quincy will show that the Illinois organization through its units has spent $20,528 the last twelve months in the interest of child welfare. It also will describe the boys' state project held at Springfield for the purpose of acquainting boys of high school age with phases and forms of government and for the development of leadership.

The last year the auxiliary has sponsored three national defense-Americanism conferences in the northern, central and southern parts of the state.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

How to Clean Hands Quickly.

G. P.: When your hands are especially dirty, try rubbing a cleansing cream into the skin before the soap and water washing. You'll be delighted with the ease with which the dirt rolls off and how soft the skin will be after cleansing it in this manner. Follow up with your favorite hand lotion. Manicuring instructions may be had for a stamped, addressed envelope.

[ADVERTISMENT.]

HAVE YOU HEARD? Now you can have complete protection from embarrassing "accidents." There's a new kind of sanitary napkin—"Certain-Safe" Modess. Its longer tabs can't pull loose from the pins. It can't strike through. And it's not only safer—it's softer, too. Try it and see!

Coarse Pores Common Blight of Skin Today

Complexion Brush Facials Improve Condition.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Coarse pores constitute one of the common characteristics of skin. Contrary to a common opinion that they're not found with dry skin, they are. With oily skin more frequently, to be sure, but one finds the condition among dry skinned folks, oily skinned, and even among that large group that comes under the general classification of normal skin.

The ideal skin offers pores so small that they're practically invisible. There are those who claim that this type of skin depends largely upon the parents from whom one inherits. Fine skin and coarse skin are definitely thought by medical authorities to be inherited characteristics, just as coarse hair or fine hair is passed down from generation to generation. But there's no question whatever that a coarsely pored skin may be developed out of an inheritance a perfectly fine skin.

It has been proved frequently in women who, in their youth, were beauties, but with whom dissipations of one sort or another resulted in a skin coarseness along with other phases of deterioration. I think of one lovely person who, ten years ago, had the skin that the most worshipfully poetic phrases could not describe. The young woman fell into drinking ways and other degrading vices, and the way her skin coarsened was a lesson in the effect of living on this outer signboard.

It may be the minor vice of overeating, or of eating heavily of certain types of foods that will coarsen the skin by enlarging the pores, but such habits do coarsen the skin. The health of the body therefore is all-important in battling enlarged pore structure.

It's interesting to see how an improved tone of the body reacts on the pore structure. I've seen it again recently in a young woman who suddenly went in for sports, tennis particularly, in a big way. There was a magic effect on the skin texture. The good old circulation is back of that story. Converting a sluggish blood flow into a vitally active one works its charm on the pore structure.

Another frequent cause of the pore coarsening is washing constantly in hot water without a cold finish to close the pores.

♣K-10-7-4-3-2

A.—By all means bid an aggressive hand like that. Not only can West make four spades the way the cards are arranged, but he can make game in combination with either North or South. Yet no one at the table has an opening bid, except possibly South—fourth hand. North and South have a good save at five clubs, or five diamonds.

Q.—What is the proper bidding on the following hand?

NORTH

A SOUTH	WEST	NORTH	EAST

2 Sp.	Pass	3 Cl.	Pass
4 Sp.	Pass	Pass	Pass

North's hand is somewhere in between a one no trump and a two no trump response. He wisely chooses the more conservative course and then shows further strength by his club bid at the three level. An original two club response is bad, because North's next rebid must be two no trumps, thus showing a hand equivalent in strength to the overbid he refused to make.

Q.—What is the correct bidding on this hand?

Child's Bedtime Fears Often Hard to Cure

Habit of Confiding in Parents a Safeguard.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Today's and tomorrow's articles will end this series on sleep, which has been spread out over a period of several weeks.

If it were possible to control what our children heard and saw we could keep most fears from them. For most fears are imposed ones and not instinctive. Even with the most careful plans, our young children hear of things that are frightening—kidnaping, death, illness, dangers, lightning, thunder, accidents, war, and so forth. And many people are not guarded in what they say in the presence of children. We will not even discuss here the parents who threaten their children with talks of bogey men and "policemen who take bad little children," "men with bags," and so forth.

It is virtually impossible for children to grow up without this emotion of fear. And it does not have to be anything definite—it can be a communicated sense of foreboding or anxiety.

So when night comes fears which may be quiescent during the day begin to make their appearance. Ordinary noises, sounding strange at night, moving curtains, or other simple things may start the fear. Or a fear, latent, can attach itself to some such simple thing. That is one reason why a quick going to sleep has such definite advantages—there is no restless period when the mind is most apt to wander into unwholesome or fearful avenues.

When such fears are experienced the natural thing is for a child to resist the idea of going to bed and to sleep. When the child does achieve sleep there is often restlessness, talking in his sleeping, waking up, calls for mother, requests for drinks, and so forth, which latter of course are merely veiled desires to be reassured by a familiar presence.

It is difficult to give more than general suggestions for handling the fearful child. It is not always possible to dispel the fears through finding out what they are. Often the child cannot tell you, and you are equally in the dark. We cannot make ourselves omniscient.

So the general suggestions are: first, that you have a close kinship with your child. If he senses this and feels free to talk anything over with you he can discuss with you any fears or unhappinesses or uneasiness that are bothering him. It is not necessarily only fears that make him uneasy. There may be many other things of a disturbing nature of which he becomes more conscious as bedtime approaches. Any withdrawal of his mother because he's been "naughty" or has "fibbed," and so forth, will tend to break this most necessary tie. A leisurely bedtime with a sense of closeness will insure the child a feeling of security. Some one has said that the kind of night's sleep a child has is an index of the preceding day's experience.

In a Sunday article soon to appear we shall, instead of dealing with the establishing of good sleeping habits, sum up quite fully the reasons why bad sleeping habits start.

"Books for the Youngest," a careful list, may be had on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

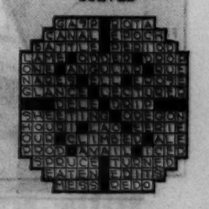
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



JAPAN ACTS TO DRAIN RESOURCES OF NORTH CHINA

Company Established to Finance Ventures.

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Aug. 8.—Japan took another step toward the economic exploitation of north China today following the recent military moves bringing that region under Japanese influence.

The government controled South Manchuria railway applied for a charter for a new financial organization with headquarters at Tientsin or Dairen.

The new concern, having a capital of 10 million yen (currently $2,927,000), is known as Hsingchung Kungsu and it was organized to finance industrial ventures. It will coöperate with special economic investigations and aid in the exploitation of coal mines and oil wells in Shansi province and iron mines and smelters in Chahar province, and in cotton and wheat production in Shantung, Honan, and Shansi provinces. All these undertakings are embraced in the Japanese policy of creating a Japan-China-Manchukuo "economic and commercial bloc."

Simultaneously with the foregoing Yosuke Matsuoka, newly appointed president of the South Manchurian railway, announced he will work closely with the Kwantung branch of the imperial army in connection with the projected development of plans in north China.

The extent of China's coöperation with the Japanese projects is not known, but a report from Peiping today stated that a Chinese economic mission, composed of officials, business men, and bankers, is departing for Japan for a month's inspection tour. The object will be to study economic conditions and municipal administration.

Calls Coöperation Parley.

Wang Ke-ming, chairman of the Peiping political committee, called a conference of all governors and financial executives and heads of universties of the five provinces of Hopei, Shantung, Shansi, Chahar, and Suiyuan to be held at Peiping immediately to discuss the Japanese economic coöperation.

Besides industrial projects the Japanese are concerned with the immediate construction of two new railways, one from Tientsin to the border of Shansi province, and the other extending southwest from Tsinan, capital of Shantung province, to northern Honan province, tapping the Yellow river valley and new cotton fields.

The leading Chinese paper here, Shun Pao, stated that Chinese officials in north China previously connected with the defunct Peking [Peiping] government are forming an agricultural development association. The capital is being supplied by Japanese sources, it is understood.

Joint Railway Formed.

Chinese papers also report the formation of a Sino-Japanese joint railway office at Tientsin, the alleged purpose of which is to pave the way for the Japanese South Manchuria railway to take over the management of all Chinese railways north of the Yellow river.

All northern railways which previously purchased supplies from the United States and England now are buying from Japan and all repair work is done in the South Manchuria railway shops at Dairen.

British Trade Unions Lose 1,111,485 Members Since'24

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 8.—A heavy decline in British trade union membership was revealed in statistics issued tonight. Between 1924 and 1933 the membership dropped by 1,111,485 to 3,346,662 and the annual income fell by $740,000. At the end of 1933 458 employes' unions and 89 employers' associations were registered.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Bob Becker

Ducks Do Well.

Aug. 8, 1935.

WHEN the first of the wild ducks come down from the north and drop in to rest and feed on the ponds at the Tribune experimental farms near Wheaton they will find plenty of competition if they want to do any sprinting up and down the flyways. The competition can be furnished by four mallards which were hatched on the pond this spring. These birds are flying all around the place right now. The mallard hen that hatched the birds under a pile of old wire near the pond has another bunch of young ones which should eventually join their relatives on the wing. At the present time the ducklings in this hatch are still paddling around, but they are growing fast.

All the ducks on the pond are getting along splendidly with but one exception. This is the little English call duck that has been adopted by the Muscovys. It has an injured leg. It is quite possible that a big turtle "sniped" at this little duck and hurt it.

One of the Muscovy hens has scored a victory over the crows, even though this bird built her nest in an unusual place for a Muscovy. As a rule the Muscovy shuns an open, exposed nesting site and chooses instead a nesting spot that is partly hidden. But this particular duck built her nest and laid eggs in an open spot near the fence close to the pond. It was an invitation to crows, but they didn't get to the eggs, which are due to hatch out today.

The sound of the combine cutting and threshing oats yesterday must have been a pleasant bit of news to the poultry because whenever the combine starts to work it means several sacks of food for chickens and the guinea hens. Of course these birds do not get sacks of oats for their meals, but they do get a byproduct of the threshing business. When the machine is in operation it separates the chaff from the grain. The chaff is caught in sacks for poultry feed, and how the chickens do like to scratch around in it and get a meal out of it!

The boys were working the combine yesterday in the oat field on the extreme eastern side of the Wheaton farm. They started to work on this field rather late in the morning after deciding that they had better not delay the harvest any longer although rain during the night had wet the grain.

It was a mighty slow operation because the oats were pretty well bent down to the ground. The machine took about two-thirds of a regular swath at a time and was set to cut the grain pretty high on the stalk. After finishing this field the crew moved to another field of oats to continue work.

It certainly looks as though summer were slowly coasting down hill to autumn when you hike around the farm these days. The corn has tasseled out. The boys are harvesting oats. Alfalfa fields are ready for a second cutting. Along the hedgerows I notice many wild cherry trees loaded with fruit.

The black eyed Susan, one of our most striking wild flowers and quite a favorite, too, has all the gold and brown that you associate with autumn flowers. And now the goldenrod has begun to make a bid for a color place in the landscape. Sumac berries, rich wine red clusters, are another feature of the fading summer picture.

FILENE RALLIES AFTER RELAPSE IN PNEUMONIA FIGHT

MOSCOW, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Edward A. Filene, 75 year old Boston merchant, who is seriously ill with lobar pneumonia, suffered another slight relapse this morning, but later rallied in what doctors termed a satisfactory manner. The physicians said they were optimistic, but that their patient was not out of danger. Prof. Fritz Meyer, German heart and lung specialist, reached Filene's bedside tonight after a trip from Germany by airplane.

ALL-STARS AND COACHING STAF EN ROUTE HERE

First Drill to Be Held Monday.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Two score All-American football players await the call to action Monday morning at Northwestern university. These boys, chosen by popular vote as the greatest of the university stars who competed last fall, will meet the Chicago Bears at Soldiers' field on the night of Aug. 29 in the second battle between the professionals and the all-stars.

Some of these All-Americans already have arrived in Chicago. Nearly all, particularly those who are coming from the Pacific coast, from the south and the east, are now en route. So are the men who will fashion this squad into a formidable machine, Head Coach Frank Thomas, whose University of Alabama eleven won the annual Rose Bowl game last New Year's day, will take charge on his arrival Sunday. Edward [Slip] Madigan, Dr. C. W. Spears, and Charles Bachman will be on hand for the opening practice.

Start Practice Monday.

By agreement with George Halas, coach of the Chicago Bears, Monday is the opening date for practice. The Bears leave Sunday for Delafield, Wis., where they will train at St. Johns Military academy. Both squads, however, have started getting into condition. Word has been received from Minneapolis that four of the Minnesota players—Pug Lund, Stan Kostka, Bill Bevan, and Phil Bengtson—have been working out for a week. Frank Larson, the other member of last year's undefeated Minnesota team who was elected to the All-American squad, is not in Minneapolis this summer.

The All-Americans will be quartered at the Goodrich house. The first session Monday morning will be devoted to issuing equipment, the usual number of pictures, and a light unlimbering drill.

More than 200 university, college, and high school coaches from all parts of the United States, Canada, and Mexico will be critical observers of the All-Stars practice sessions. The annual Northwestern coaching school opens simultaneously with the start of the All-Star workouts. Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern and Francis Schmidt of Ohio State will handle the football classes and Dutch Lonborg of Northwestern and Ward Lambert of Purdue the basketball.

Here Is the Squad.

Following is the list of All-Americans who have accepted invitations to play:

HALF BACKS—John Regeczi, Michigan;

Gophers in Shape

FRANK McCORMICK, director of athletics at the University of Minnesota, said yesterday that the Minnesota players who will be members of the College All-Star squad will report for practice in perfect physical condition. They have been working out for two weeks. The group includes Stan Kosta, Pug Lund, Bill Bevan, Phil Bengtson and Frank Larson.

Rockne First to See Thomas as Star Coach

University, Ala., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Knute Rockne sent Frank William Thomas south in 1923, and now the south is sending its most successful football coach north to lead the College All-Stars in their preparations for their game with the powerful Chicago Bears at Soldiers' field Aug. 29.

Elected head of a coaching staf of four selected in the national poll conducted by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and 105 associated papers, Thomas piled up the staggering total of 2,492,299 points to take first place over Charles Bachman, Michigan State, second; Dr. C. W. Spears, Wisconsin, third, and Edward Madigan, St. Mary's, fourth, who will be his assistants.

Coach of the famous Alabama eleven which visited the Rose Bowl last New Year's day to pound Stanford's great eleven into a 29-13 defeat, Thomas and his teams have compiled remarkable records in southern football.

Howell Threatens Gipp's Fame.

Knute Rockne, at the request of Kid Woodruff, head coach at Georgia, told Thomas to start his coaching career at Georgia. Rockne first saw Thomas in a basketball tournament at Notre Dame in 1919, and later on the Alabama coach was a teammate of George Gipp, the greatest of all Notre Dame back field men. Until the advent of Dixie Howell, who was the outstanding back field star at Alabama last year, Thomas called Gipp the best of them all. Now he isn't so sure.

In 1921 Thomas was the regular Notre Dame quarter back, and the following year played with one set of backs which included Elmer Layden and Chet Wynne. A year later Frank received his degree in law, but never has practiced.

He came south in 1923, introduced the Notre Dame system at Georgia in the spring of 1924, and then left

LOUIS AND BAER MATCHED FOR SEPTEMBER BOUT

Joe Louis yesterday was signed by Mike Jacobs to meet Max Baer in a 15 round bout in Chicago or New York in September. The date for their bout is expected to be Sept. 26 or 27. Jacobs said he obtained the match as an outsider and not as matchmaker of the Twentieth Century Sporting club, as he now is officially known.

Consequently, the groundwork is laid for a bidding spree between the Century club and the Sporting Club of Illinois. The latter organization, headed by Sheldon Clark, aided Promoter Joe Foley and Matchmaker Mickey Farr promote the Louis-Levinsky battle at Comiskey park Wednesday. Louis scored a technical knockout in 2 minutes and 21 seconds of the first round of the scheduled ten round contest, the result of which stunned the 39,195 who had paid $192,000 to see a fight.

Best Offer Gets Bout.

"The club making the best offer will be given the bout," Jacobs said. "Of course, the managers [Ancil Hoffman for Baer and John Roxborough for Louis] will have something to say about picking the site, but in the final analysis the matter rests with me."

Both Hoffman and Roxborough said they preferred to have the bout held in Chicago, not only because this city possessed an ideal arena in Soldiers' field and is centrally located, but because the state boxing commission cooperates more wholeheartedly than does the New York commission.

It is believed that Baer and Louis each will receive 30 per cent of the net receipts in the impending match.

Manager Hoffman last night boarded an airplane for Newark, N. J., where he will be met by Baer. The two then will go to Long Branch, N. J., where the former heavyweight champion has

IN A LITTLE GYPSY TEAROOM!

What a heluva place to spend the night of Aug. 29! Why, you'll be the forgotten man if you're not at Soldiers' Field, where the College All-Stars play the Chicago Bears.

Step right up, boys. First come, first served. No pushing, no waiting. Today—40,000 seats at $1.65 and $1.10. No more, no less. Tomorrow—Well, nothing lasts forever.

Every seat reserved; every seat with an unobstructed view of the world's greatest football spectacle. No, sir; we're sorry. There are no more $2.20 seats. Don't you remember? We warned you four weeks ago. Don't forget again, mister, or it's you for the tearoom.

Rush right up to the ticket window in the Tribune's Public Service offices, 1 S. Dearborn and in the lobby of the Tribune Tower. Too busy? Well, just mail a check or money order made payable to the Chicago Tribune to the Football Ticket Manager, Chicago Tribune.

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1935: By The Chicago Tribune.]

GOV. HENRY HORNER jokingly remarked at Sheldon Clark's party before the Louis-Levinsky match that the Democrats probably will run Frank Thomas, head coach of the College All-American football squad, for Vice President in 1936. . . . "Any man who can poll more votes in Alabama than President Roosevelt did in 1932 ought to have a place on the ticket," the governor said. . . . The governor, incidentally, predicts that the Bears will win in a walk. . . . He didn't see last year's game. . . . An odd accident put Frank Crossetti out of the Yankees' lineup. . . . He displaced a cartilage in his left leg trying to untie a stubborn shoe lace in a Pullman berth. . . . Twenty-eight New York boxing experts got a free ride to Chicago for the Louis bout as guests of the promoters. . . . Mike Mitchell, the old fighter, operates a tavern called the College Keg at Indianapolis. . . .

MAX BAER.

JACK DEMPSEY.

Harvey Woodruff, who has seen and covered more boxing matches than any other writer in Chicago, is of the opinion that Joe Louis as he fought against Carnera and Levinsky would have whipped Jack Dempsey when the latter was at his peak. . . . Mr. Woodruff explains that both Louis and Dempsey pack terrific force, but Dempsey was easier to hit. . . . Dempsey had great recuperative power, as he demonstrated in the Firpo fight. . . . Louis probably has, but has had no occasion to prove it. . . .

The United States Golf association in the last 14 years has spent more than $335,000 in research and development work for the benefit of its member clubs. . . . Mayor Edward J. Kelly has been a member of the Beverly Country club for 13 years. . . . Mary Ryan, secretary to President William Harridge of the American league, claims to be able to sing the first line of 200 songs, but the second lines have her stopped. . . . Bud Shaver, Detroit sports writer, prefers not to be asked about his full name. . . . It's Manila Grant Shaver, the Manila part of it being traceable to a relative who was with Admiral Dewey's fleet during the capture of that city. . . . Grantland Rice and Paul Gallico are among the New York sports writers who will return to Chicago for the All Stars-Bears game. . . .

There are almost as many 1933 Cubs in the Cincinnati lineup as 1933 Reds. . . . Only five Reds survive, Derringer, Frey, Johnson, Lombardi and Bottomley. . . . Four 1933 Cubs, Cuyler, Leroy Herrmann, Gillie Campbell, and Babe Herman, are now working for Cincinnati. . . . Two Pirates, Gus Suhr and Paul Waner, have hit as many triples as the Braves. . . . A St. Joseph, Mo., prep athlete has an "agent" who is offering him to the highest bidder. . . . Ancil Hoffman, manager of Max Baer, said he would rather fight Louis in Chicago than New York, even if the gate were $100,000 less. . . . Which, no doubt, was a compliment to the Illinois athletic commission. . . . Not until he had been graduated was it known that Jim Arnold, Marquette football guard, was Police Judge James Arnold of West Milwaukee, Wis. . . . The judge had asked the Marquette publicity department to forget about him or be found in contempt of court.

Ten Years Ago Today—The Mickey Walker-Billy Wells fight was called off when the Englishman ran out on the promoter. . . . Helen Wills defeated Molla Mallory in three sets at Rye, N. Y. . . . Cranston Holmon defeated Bill Tilden in straight sets in the Detroit invitational tournament at Detroit. . . . Rogers Hornsby was leading both leagues in home runs with 29. . . . Gabby Hartnett was second with 24.

HENDERSON, N. U. END, IS INJURED IN WORKING OUT

William J. Henderson, 20 years old, 1057 Columbia avenue, regular end on the Northwestern university football team last year, suffered a fractured right ankle yesterday afternoon as he began training in Farwell park, near his home, in preparation for the opening of the season. He received treatment at the Evanston hospital, then was removed to his home.

TIGERS CHECK SOX, 5-2; MAKE 4 DOUBLE PLAYS

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 8.—John Whitehead's inadequate pitching and Vernon Washington's flair for hitting into double plays this afternoon furnished the salient reasons for the failure of the White Sox to extend their noble success in competition with the league leading Tigers. The Tigers with Alvin Crowder presiding, won the opener of the four game series, 5 to 2, their fifth victory in 13 starts against the Chicagoans this season. The outcome gave the Tigers a five game lead over the second place Yankees and a nine game edge on the Sox.

It took until today for the American league to make a .500 pitcher out of Whitehead, the silent young man from Texas who won his first eight games as a major leaguer, before he became engrossed in northern victuals, much to the enlargement of his subchest and the lessening of his pitching wizardry. But Big John had kept his winning string ahead of his losing tabulation until today. Now he has won ten and lost ten.

Whitehead Has 2 Good Innings.

Whitehead worked six innings this afternoon and was good in the first and sixth, in each of which he retired the champions in order. In the second inning he gave up a double and a single to enable the Tigers to tie the score at one-all, in the third he yielded two singles and passed one to load the bases, but escaped damage. In the fourth another double and a single netted a run and three singles and two walks gave the Detroiters two runs after two were out in the fifth.

The Tigers made four double plays. Washington hit into two of them and Luke Sewell hit into the other two. The ones on Washington were the fatal ones. Washington came up three times with runners on bases and once with no one on. The time there was no one on he singled. There were runners on first and third when he hit into a double play in the first inning. There were men on second and first with two out when he fouled to Owen on a 2 and 0 count in the sixth inning. The bases were full in the eighth when he grounded into a double play for the second time.

Crowder Yields Ten Hits.

The Sox made ten hits off Crowder, three of them by the first three batsmen in the game and two of them by the first two batsmen in the ninth. These hits, by Radcliff, Piet, and Simmons, in the first instance and a double and single by Appling and Dykes in the latter instance, produced the two Chicago runs. There was no inning between the first and the last in which the Sox made more than one hit.

The Sox found some consolation in the fact that the Yanks also lost. Tomorrow they will try again to win their 53d victory of the year. This will tie their victory record for all last year, in which they lost 99 games as

4 Cash In on Lincoln Fields $1,997 Double

BY FRENCH LANE.

Another bumper daily double payoff—it amounted to $1,997.60—caused many eyes to bulge and stirred blood pressure to a new high among 9,500 patrons at the Lincoln Fields race course yesterday afternoon.

Only four in the mid-week gathering invested two dollars to win that amount, still, everybody was excited about it. Mysterious, too, were the members of the lucky quartet. Only one would reveal her identity after the horses, Flight of Gold and Prom Girl, had won the second and third races.

One fellow, whose trousers were frayed at the ankles and whose shirt was worn through at the elbows cashed one of the tickets.

Asks Secrecy and Small Bills.

"Cash it in a hurry, I'm on relief and I'll be taken off if they find out about this bolt of lucky lightning that hit me," he whispered to the cashier.

His money—nineteen $100 bills, nine tens, a five and two one dollar bills—was pushed out to him. He pushed it right back. "Give me fives and nothing bigger than a ten," he pleaded. 'How's a guy with a wardrobe like I'm wearing going to get a century note cracked up?"

He got away before anybody was able to find out who he was or from which relief station he hailed.

Another holder of a winning ticket was Mrs. Cleora Coleman, a comely widow who lives at the Stevens hotel. She took a check and danced a bit of a jig while the check was being made out, but this business of winning a big daily double was not entirely a new thrill for Mrs. Coleman. She won a daily double at Lincoln Fields last year that paid off at slightly more

BRUINS GAIN ON GIANTS; TRAIL BY TWO GAMES

Pound Guy Bush for Deciding Runs.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs, after several lean days of run production, stepped out yesterday and demonstrated that a four run handicap was merely incidental to the job on hand. First they chopped at the handicap until it became a tie and then, after going in arrears for the second time, slammed their way to a 9 to 5 victory in the final with Pittsburgh's Pirates for a 2 to 1 margin in the series. And none other than Guy Bush, serving as a rescuer, was present when his former mates touched off the blast that proved decisive.

The big hitting revival, incidentally linked with a brilliant piece of relief work by Tex Carleton, served a double purpose for the Cubs in the percentage column. Defeat would have sent them tumbling from second to third place, a few points behind the Cardinals. Instead they now are tearing along two games behind the top place Giants, who came a cropper in their twin engagement with the sometimes indifferent Phillies.

Carleton Replaces Lee.

Carleton drew his chance to attain his tenth victory because of a hurried fadeout by Gen. Bill Lee. The poker faced southerner yielded two runs in the second and went his way in the third, leaving the bags loaded and none out. Two scored, giving the Pirates their four run advantage, before Carleton could eliminate the distress. Then Tex fairly tore through the six remaining innings, fanning seven and restricting the Pirates to three hits. One of these was a homer by Earl Grace, giving the enemy a one run lead in the sixth.

The Cubs had to wait until the third before coming up with even one hit off old Red Lucas, but once they started there was no stop. An error cost a chance to retire the side runless whereupon the north siders' contingent piled up a string of safe drives. Bush was hustled forth and he brought a quick halt to the firing but by that time four runs were across and the count was tied. Then Bush continued to be an able workman until the sixth when with a one run edge, he was flattened with a four run barrage, part of which was suffered by his successor, Waite Hoyt.

Herman Leads Attack.

Bill Herman, who has a weakness for two baggers, paced the Cubs attack with a pair of doubles and one single, a performance which more than erased an error with which he had annoyed Lee in the second inning. Herman's first double drove home half the four runs scored in the third. His single drove in the second half of the four scored in the deciding sixth. His other double, making No. 40 for the season, came in the eighth off Mace Brown but it went to waste.

Lee almost had himself on the ropes in the first inning so subsequent happenings weren't surprising. Jensen opened with a bunt, a continuation of the Pirates' tactics the day previous, but Lee hopped over in a hurry and threw him out. Young filed to Galan for the second out. Vaughan then walked and Hafey splashed a drive against the brick wall in left but the cross wind sent it foul by inches. A passed ball followed to put Vaughan on second and Hafey walked. Pirates Score in Second.

The second when the Pirates came into possession of their first pair of runs opened with Thevenow's single to center. Suhr bounced a two base drive off the front of the bleacher in left center and Thevenow legged it around to the plate. Suhr took third on the throwin and pounded there on Grace's roller to Cavarretta. Herman then gave the Pirates some help by

BROWNS, WHYTES TIE FOR FIRST IN 32D PATER FILIUS

Hampton and Son Win Plaque for Pros.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Remember way back when pa brought you to the circus for the first time? and to your first big league baseball game? Well, yesterday there were a couple of young men whom pa not only brought out to their first golf tournament, but joined them in playing it. The occasion was the 32d annual Pater-Filius event of the Midlothian Country club, one of the outstanding tournaments of the game.

Among the very young men whose fathers brought them to the big south side club were Byron Gayer, 7 year old son of Eddie Gayer of Twin Orchard, and 9 year old Tom Kelly Jr., eldest son of the Sunset Valley professional.

Whytes and Browns.

The Pater-Filius trophy will carry four names on it for the ensuing year, since two teams tied at 36 holes low net, the standard for deciding the title. The twosomes were James J. Brown and son, James of Oak Park, and John S. and George K. Whyte of Glen Flora, each of which finished the day with net 138s.

The Browns had 87—14—73 in the morning, followed by a 79—14—65 in the afternoon. The Whytes started out with 80—12—68 and followed that up with a matinée performance of 82—12—70.

Harry Hampton, Beverly veteran, and his son Bryce took the Pater-Filius plaque among professionals who were inaugurating a special division this year. Harry and Bryce had a morning round of 85—12—73, and came back in the afternoon with 83—12—71 for a net of 144.

Foulis and Cooper Boys Play.

Fifteen professional teams competed in the new bracket, including a couple of gentlemen whose sons have been doing fairly well in the business. They were Dave Foulis of Hinsdale, who brought along son Jim from Ruth Lake, and Syd Cooper of Glen Oak, who turned up with his boy Harry, who is said to be a comer, in the afternoon round.

The best gross among the members and their sons was submitted by W. M. Witt of Midlothian and son Lawrence, who had a 79—78—157. It was the second straight year that the Witts had failed by a stroke to capture the Pater-Filius proper, for their net was 139, a shot back of the Browns and Whytes. For the second year in a row it also was the last three holes which cost them the low net honors for the full distance.

BECKA WINS PLAE-DAE

Chuck Becka, a persistent young man, who has been swinging clubs for the last four years in an earnest effort to win the Plae-Dae, annual invitational of his home lot, the Calumet Country club, finally achieved success yesterday.

Becka started his morning round with a 75, leaving him five shots behind Johnny Lehman of Olympia Fields, who opened with a 70, and Russell Martin of Flossmoor, with a 72.

In the afternoon Chuck smashed out a 69, three under par and two over the course record. This gave him a total of 144, even par, and the best card of the 250 turned in by members and guests who took part in the south side club's yearly get-together party.

First low gross, 18 holes, members, A. O Breit, 39—39—78; first low gross, 18 holes, guest, John Lehman, Olympia Fields, 70; first low net, 18 holes, member, G. A. Mathisen Goes to Semi-Final of City Golf

As a result of two torrid rounds in the city amateur tournament at Jackson Park yesterday a champion, two past title holders, and a promising prospect will meet in today's semi-final round. They are Harold Mathisen, Henry Foley, Pete Miller, and Carl Jankowski.

Mathisen, the compounding chemist of Big Run, concocted enough birdies and pars to win both his matches, 8 and 7 from Joe O'Hanley of Southmoor and 6 and 5 from Tom McInerney in the quarter-finals. Mathisen is the defending champion. Henry Foley, a former champion, won 1 up from young Frank Newell, Southern California Junior college champ, and 3 and 2 from Bud Swats of Lincolnshire.

Miller Beats March.

Pete Miller of the home club, another former title holder, erased Mush March, the Blackhawks' right wing, 4 and 3, and the golfing cop from Lincolnshire, Frank McNamara, 6 and 4. Jankowski of Westgate, who is playing stellar golf this week, forged ahead with victories of 3 and 2 over Del Walker of Southern California, and Bobby McLean 4 and 3 after being 2 down at the turn.

Foley Shoots 67.

The best golf of the day came in the fourth round when Foley won 1 up from Newell. They turned in cards of 34—33—67, two under par, for Foley, and 35—33—68, one under for Newell. The latter lost his chance to prolong the match on the eighteenth green by trying to sink a thirty foot putt instead of playing safe with his one stroke advantage. As a result he rolled way over and missed coming back to go out of the running.

The summary of yesterday's two rounds:

FOURTH ROUND.

Harold Mathisen, Big Run, defeated Joe O'Hanley, Southmoor, 8 and 7.
Carl Jankowski, West Gate, defeated Del Walker, Long Beach, 3 and 2.

QUARTER-FINALS.

Mathisen defeated McInerney, 6 and 5.
Foley defeated Swats, 3 and 2.
Miller defeated March, 4 and 3.
Jankowski defeated McLean, 4 and 3.

Miller and Jankowski.

RACING DRIVERS SEEK TO BREAK RECORD TONIGHT

Ronney Householder, Ernie Carlson, Jimmy Rogers, Wally Zale, Johnny Baldwin, Wally Mitchell and Duke Nalon are among the drivers who will attempt to break Curly Mills' record of :15 3-5 for the one-fifth of a mile oval at the Wolf Lake auto races tonight.

Calicum chloride has been applied to the racing surface and the Hammond track is lightning fast. Householder and Carlson will clash in a special match race. Eight events are carded, with time trials beginning at 6:30 o'clock and the first race at 8:30.

GABLEMAN CARDS 330 TO CAPTURE PRINTERS' GOLF

Cleveland, O., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Ed Gableman of Cincinnati today shot an 83 to win the annual tournament of the Union Printers' International Golf association at the Ridgewood Country club. Gableman finished the four rounds with a total score of 330.

E. Merkel of Washington took second place, finishing one stroke behind Gableman. Merkel carded an 81 this afternoon. Fred Stringer, also of Washington, was third with a total score of 332.

U. S. Players to Defend Wightman Cup Are Chosen

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The nation's first four ranking players and two others whose tennis exploits have attracted attention this summer were chosen today to represent the United States in the Wightman cup series against Great Britain's leading stars at Forest Hills Friday and Saturday of next week.

The team announced by the United States Lawn Tennis association is made up of Helen Jacobs, three times national champion; Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Brookline, Mass.; Carolin Babcock of Los Angeles, Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of New York, Mrs. Ethel Burkhardt Arnold of San Francisco, and Mrs. John Van Ryn of Philadelphia.

The British team, which arrived here Tuesday, has been practicing at Forest Hills. It is probable their singles assignments will go to Dorothy Round, Kay Stammers, and Mrs. Phyllis Mudford King. Freda James and Miss Stammers and Nancy Lyle and Evelyn Dearman are slated to play doubles.

Louis, Baer Sign to Meet Next Month

been in training for some days. Monday the manager intends to visit Speculator, N. Y., with the thought of establishing a camp there.

Hoffman's tentative plans to have Max train at Speculator indicates New York has preference as the battle site. This was denied by both Ancil and Promoter Foley, however.

Prefers That Max Battle Here.

"Gov. Horner has informed Clark that he will go the limit and back him personally and officially in order to swing the bout to Chicago," Foley stated. "Triner [Chairman Joe Triner of the state commission] also said that he would use all the influence of his office to get the match for Chicago."

Foley added that Clark already has opened negotiations for the use of Soldiers' field in anticipation of holding the encounter in this city. In the event Soldiers' field is not available, Comiskey park is, the promoter said.

Several fans who missed the Louis-Levinsky bout when it was moved up to 9:15 o'clock by the state commission because of the threat of rain, tried to get their money refunded yesterday, but both promoters and commissioners explained that the show had been advertised to start at 8:30 and that it was within their rights to stage the main bout at any time thereafter. The only rule on time is that the windup boxers must be in the ring by 10 p. m.

Louis changed his plans and returned to his home in Detroit yesterday. Originally he expected to remain in town for the colored all-star baseball game at Comiskey park Sunday.

Promoters Make $30,000.

It was learned that Wednesday's Louis-Levinsky bout made a financial profit of about $30,000 for the promoters. An approximate table of what the expenditures were follow:

Gross receipts, $192,000; net, $156,000.
Levinsky's share, 20 per cent, or $31,000;
Louis' share, 30 per cent, or $47,000.
Park rental, 10 per cent, or $15,000.
Park lighting, $6,000.
Ushers and other park employés, $4,000.
Manning park, $5,000.
Expense to maintain fight headquarters, $4,000.
Purses of preliminary fighters and other expenses, $14,000.

TOURNEY AT MORRISON.

Morrison, Ill., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Thirty golf clubs in eastern Iowa and western Illinois will be invited to an open golf tournament at the Morrison Country club Sept. 1.

Shields, Wood Eastern Tennis Semi-Finalists

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Frank Shields, motion picture visitor from Hollywood, and Sidney B. Wood, recently returned Davis cup alternate, reached the semi-finals of the men's singles in the Eastern Grass Courts tournament as expected today, while both favorites to reach the women's final round were defeated.

Mrs. Dorothy Andrus of Stamford, Conn., top seeded and fourth ranking player of the country, and Katherine Winthrop of Boston, seeded fourth, failed to survive today's semi-finals. Mrs. Andrus lost in three sets to Mrs. Mary Greef Harris of Kansas City, Mo., 5-7, 6-3, 6-3, and Mrs. Agnes Lamme of Rye, N. Y., eliminated Miss Winthrop, 6-2, 6-2, in surprise victories.

Shields Beats Hines.

Shields, on a vacation from California, beat Wilmer Hines of Columbia, S. C., 6-2, 0-6, 6-1, and Wood whipped Hal Surface of Kansas City, Mo., 6-2, 6-2.

Wood and Shields meet tomorrow afternoon in one of the men's semi-finals and Frankie Parker, defending champion, Milwaukee, and Bryan Grant of Atlanta, Ga., national clay court champion, meet in the other. Mrs. Lamme and Mrs. Harris clash for the women's crown Saturday morning.

Speed Fails to Help Mrs. Andrus.

Steadiness off the ground brought Mrs. Harris her victory over Mrs. Andrus. The Stamford veteran tried to win on her speed alone, and that proved insufficient to turn back the Kansas City matron, who was erratic in the opening set but who had her shots under control once the second set opened.

GREENBERG GOES TO SEMI-FINALS OF BOYS' TENNIS

Culver, Ind., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—California and Florida junior tennis stars collaborated to fill the semi-final brackets of the national junior singles championship play today. The middle west fared better in the boys' singles.

Seymour Greenberg of Chicago advanced to the semi-finals of the boys' singles, by eliminating Marvin Carlock of San Diego, Cal., 6-0, 6-1. Greenberg, paired with Richard Hainline of Rock Island, Ill., won two matches in the boys' doubles to go into the final round. In the quarter-finals they defeated Wilson Barnes of Bronxville, N. Y., and Richard McKee of Miami Beach, 6-1, 6-1, and then defeated Isador Bellis of Philadelphia and Harper Ink of San Diego, 6-0, 7-5.

Hainline also advanced to the boys' singles semi-finals, whipping Billy McGehee of New Orleans, 6-0, 6-4.

Peacock Leads Touring Athletes to Easy Victory

ZURICH, Switzerland, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Eulace Peacock, Temple university's Negro star, again led the way as America's touring track and field athletes scored a near clean sweep against foreign opposition today.

With the Swiss furnishing the bulk of competition, the Americans won twelve of the thirteen events. John Lyman of the San Francisco Olympic club was beaten in the discus throw by Jules Noel of France, who tossed it 145 feet 8 inches. Lyman's best effort was 144 feet 3½ inches.

Peacock won both his specialties, the 100 meter dash and the broad jump. He was clocked in 10.5 for the dash, beating the Swiss, Haenni and Jud, handily, and then went on to clear a fraction of an inch over 23 feet to take the broad jump from Gehring of Switzerland, whose best jump measured 21 feet 1½ inches.

Ivan Fuqua of Indiana took the 200 meters in 22 seconds, with Vries second, and won the 400 meters in 51.5 seconds, with Waltvogel as runnerup.

Mrs. Atwood Advances in Western Golf

Cleveland, O., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Margaret Russell of Detroit, Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. P. T. Atwood of Chicago, and Marion Leachman of San Francisco won their way into the semi-finals of the Women's Western Golf tournament today.

Miss Russell will meet Miss Riley, Trans-Mississippi champion, in the semi-finals tomorrow, while Mrs. Atwood will play Leachman; both matches to be over the 18 hole route.

In today's matches Mrs. Atwood defeated Barbara Thompson of Los Altos, Cal., 8 and 6, the California girl going 10 over par for the 12 holes the match lasted.

Miss Leachman defeated Miss Eva Shorb, Massillon, O., 17 year old school girl, 4 and 3, after being 2 up at the turn.

Miss Russell defeated Elizabeth Abbott, Los Angeles, 1 up, with a birdie on the last hole, on which she stymied Miss Abbott. Miss Abbott was 2 up at the turn as the Detroit co-ed carded a 44, 6 over par.

Peggy Wattles of Buffalo, N. Y., staged a game fight with Miss Miley, but succumbed, 3 and 2. The Trans-Mississippi champion was 4 up with four to play, but took a 6 on the fifteenth hole, which Miss Wattles won. The match ended as they halved the sixteenth in par fives.

Rockne First to See Thomas as Star Coach

Georgia for a head coach's job at the University of Chattanooga. He won three championships in four years at that institution.

Goes Back to Georgia.

Harry Mehre asked Thomas to return to Georgia in 1929 and that year, the Bulldogs beat Yale, Alabama, North Carolina, and Georgia Tech. The next year Georgia beat Yale, Georgia Tech, New York university, and North Carolina, losing to Alabama and Tulane. Both Alabama and Tulane were undefeated in the Southeastern conference.

The Alabama people liked Thomas, and when Wallace Wade left for Duke, the Alabama delegation went out to get Frank. He was given a three year contract. The wise boys thought everything was lost at Alabama. They didn't believe it was possible for another Wade to come along in a lifetime.

Thomas had one good back left in 1931—the brilliant Johnny Cain. The team won nine games and lost one. The next season Thomas had a "terrible" season, his team losing games to Tennessee and Georgia Tech.

And Then a Title.

And then came 1934. Alabama was rated among the top notchers, although few gave the Crimson Tide a chance to come through undefeated. Alabama came up with its greatest team, a squad that could do anything needed to be done to get the touchdowns. Howell to Hutson ranks with the greatest passing combinations the game has produced.

It's a Great System.

Alabama's coach introduced the Notre Dame system with such success he has five championships and a Rose Bowl victory to his credit. Thomas' five championship teams include two in a row at Alabama, where his record is 34 victories, one tie and four losses.

The man elected to lead the All-Stars is a thorough coach. He likes to experiment with new offensive maneuvers, and is one of the craftiest offensive coaches in the game. Thomas is modest. What you learn about the Thomas system you learn from friends.

While Thomas made the south a stamping ground of Notre Dame coaches, the south taught him to be a good southerner. He married Frances Rowe, a daughter of an Athens, Ga., publisher, and he is the father of two boys and one girl.

Frank was born Nov. 15, 1898, in East Chicago, Ind., and prepped at East Chicago High school under Floyd Murray, who was his campaign manager in the coaches contest.

ALL-STAR SQUAD, COACHES HEAD TOWARD CHICAGO

FULL BACKS—Stan Kostka, Minnesota; Paul Sulkowsky, Washington; Inky Wotkyns, Southern California; Irving Kupcinet, North Dakota.

From this group a mighty good team can be fashioned, or should we say four teams. Certainly there will be ample reserve strength and it is quite likely that at least two regulars can be trained for each position. Numerically, the All-Americans seem to have an advantage over the Bears.

Shepherd Is Powerful.

Bill Shepherd of Western Maryland, a sensation in eastern play for three years, may be the outstanding back on the team. Many coaches have said he was the best man on the field in the east-west charity game at San Francisco last January. Certainly he can run with the ball, but there's at least one other man the coast backs as equal to Shepherd. This is Cotton Warburton, who when the Trojans boasted a famous line raced through all opposition.

It's too early for comparisons of ability in the fight for positions. The All-American coaches will have their own worries naming a starting backfield. Melinkovich, leading scorer at Notre Dame, and one of the best blockers on last year's Irish team, must be considered. Then Purvis and Carter of Purdue, not forgetting Pug Lund, Minnesota's great star, are other players from the central states who certainly can hold their own with Shepherd and Warburton.

Tickets Going Fast.

A more pressing problem for the fans than naming a starting team at this stage of practice is securing tickets. All $2.20 seats have been sold for ten days. The $1.65 and $1.10 tickets are going fast, so fast, indeed, that there is every indication that Soldiers' field will be sold out before Aug. 29. Tickets may be bought at THE TRIBUNE Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and in the lobby of Tribune Tower, and in Room 530, the office of the ticket manager.

BEARS GET READY

Members of the Chicago Bears began assembling yesterday for the get-away Sunday to Delafield, Wis., where they will train for three weeks in preparation for the All-Star game at Soldiers' field, Aug. 29.

Eleven members of the squad worked out yesterday at the Skyline Athletic club in the Steuben building. A thirty minute basketball game, in which Bernie Masterson's team defeated a five captained by Luke Johnsos, 2 to 1, and a round on the rowing machines revealed early arrivals to be in good condition.

Those who engaged in the drill were Red Grange, Luke Johnsos, Bernie Masterson, Ookie Miller, Jules Carlson, Gene Ronzani, Fritz Febel, John Turley, Red Pollock, Ed Kawal, and Beattie Feathers. Turley is a new quarter back from Ohio Wesleyan; Febel, a new lineman from Purdue, and Pollock a 200 pound full back from the Pennsylvania Military academy.

PHILLIES POUND GIANT STARS FOR 7-4, 6-3 VICTORIES

Schumacher and Hubbell Are Victims.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 8.—(AP)—The New York Giants' lead dwindled to two games today as the Phillies, pounding Hal Schumacher and Carl Hubbell, captured a double-header, 7-4, 6-3, while the second place Cubs were whipping the Pirates.

In the opener the Phils landed on Schumacher for nine hits in the four innings he was on the mound. They bunched seven in the third and fourth innings to score all their runs.

Bucky Walters, the converted infielder, held the Giants to seven hits and one run until the ninth. He weakened in the last inning and had to be helped by Orville Jorgens, who retired Leiber for the third out with the bases full and three runs home.

Curt Davis, chalking up his third victory of the year over Hubbell in the second game, had the Giants shut out until the ninth, when New York again rallied and scored three runs on three hits and an error. Davis finished the game, however, for his thirteenth victory of the season.

The Phils got to Hubbell for twelve hits, scoring four times in the fourth on four hits, including Al Todd's homer with two on bases.

DETROIT PRINTERS BEAT NEW YORK TWICE, 10-6, 9-6

Cleveland, O., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Detroit's entry in the national union printers' baseball tournament came from behind twice today in a double-header with New York, winning the first game, 10 to 6, and the second, 9 to 6.

The two defeats eliminated New York.

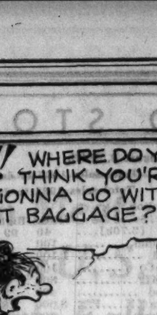
A's Beat Yanks, 9-6; Gehrig Hits Homer in 1,600th Game

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Although Lou Gehrig celebrated his 1,600th consecutive game by cracking out his 18th home run of the season, the New York Yankees were unable to halt the Athletics' ninth inning rally today, falling before Philadelphia, 9 to 6, in the opening game of the series.



LOU GEHRIG.

The Yankees headed into the ninth with a 6 to 5 lead, but the Athletics drove Vito Tamulis from the mound and continued their attack on Pat Malone. Five hits, including a double by Paul Richards, sent four runs across the plate.

Gehrig's homer, his only safety of the game, was hit No. 2,087 and his 366th home run in 5,997 times at bat since he started his record string, June 1, 1925. It also gave him a batting average of .343 for 1,600 games.

SARATOGA SALE OF 48 YEARLINGS BRINGS $160,100

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—In a return to the spirited bidding of pre-depression days, 48 yearlings passed through the sales ring here tonight, bringing a grand total of $160,100. This made for an average of $3,335 per head, a figure unheard of in recent years.

Still more encouraging, from the standpoint of the breeder, was the average of $4,905 per head brought by the 31 head from the Idle Hour farm of Col. E. R. Bradley. Col. Bradley was present and was warmly congratulated on all sides because of the high prices brought by his stock. The total for Mr. Bradley's yearlings taken was $152,050.

Top price of the night was $20,000, but it is not certain whether or not the winning bid was for the protection of Mr. Bradley. George Read was the successful bidder, acting as agent. The yearling in question was a bay colt by Blue Larkspur from Knockaney Bridge. He is a full brother to Bloodroot, which has done so well this year. It was not announced for whom Mr. Read was acting.

Frank E. Brown, well known as a trainer, was the successful bidder on a half brother to Black Helen, Mr. Bradley's American Derby winner. This chestnut colt was by Bubbling Over-La Troienne and went for $13,000. He was foaled in February, 1934.

One of the most active bidders was Mrs. F. C. Mars, proprietor of the Milky Way farms. Mrs. Mars succeeded in getting the third highest priced youngster of the night—a brown colt by Chicle-Baba Kenny, which went for $9,500. Another youngster which went to Mrs. Mars was the brown colt by Blue Larkspur-May Bird—which she bought for $8,000.

Cubs Will Start Warneke Against Cardinals Today

The St. Louis Cardinals, owners of the world title and ambitious to grab another, will open a three game series with the Cubs today. Lon Warneke, whose record is 12 victories and eleven defeats, will welcome the titleholders. The Cards' starter will be Paul Dean.

Paul Waner joined Brother Lloyd on the Pirates' hospital list yesterday. Paul remained out of action because of a sore shoulder, which resulted from his accidental collision with Billy Herman at first base the previous day.

Larry French discovered yesterday that language is expensive at times. He spoke only three words to Umpire Dolly Stark in Wednesday's game, an address that caused the southpaw to be banished. Freich was fined $50, or $16.66 per word.

CUBS BUNCH HITS OFF BUSH; BEAT PIRATES, 9 TO 5

picking up Lucas' grounder and throwing wild to the plate, Suhr scoring and Lucas taking second. Lee was able to get the next two men on pops to Jurges.

The Pirates came up with only one hit in the third and Lee did the rest, two scoring. The first happening was Lee's fumble of Vaughan's slow roller. Hafey walked and Lavagetto filled the bases on a bunt to Lee along the third base line. This was where Carleton came to Lee's rescue. Vaughan scored while Hack was throwing out Thevenow. Hafey registered on Suhr's fly which Demaree had to chase to the left field bleacher. A pass to Grace and his force out on Lucas' tap completed the inning.

When the Cubs launched their four run episode in the fourth Jurges was on first as the result of an infield single and two were out. Galan also beat out a hit to Lavagetto. A double steal was put on and Jurges was nailed at third but Thevenow dropped the ball. That was the break the Cubs wanted. Herman slapped his 39th double past third, Jurges and Galan scoring. Klein singled through Lavagetto and Herman counted. O'Dea singled to right and when Jensen fumbled the ball, Klein went around to the plate with the tying run. Bush came to Lucas' rescue and Demaree grounded to Vaughan.

Grace Hits Homer.

Carleton got by easily in the fourth although Jensen led off with a double and also had easy sailing in the fifth when he fanned two of three batters. But there was an occurrence in the sixth he couldn't hurdle. Grace banked his homer into the right field seats with none out putting the Pirates in front by 5 to 4. Then with one out Jensen walked and stole second. Young fanned and while Vaughan was at bat Jensen moved to third on a wild pitch. He died there when Vaughan tapped gently to Carleton.

The big push against Bush in the home sixth was launched by O'Dea's single to left. He pulled up at third on Demaree's two bagger down the left field line. The base runners didn't move on Cavaretta's fly to Young. Hack rammed a two bagger past third, O'Dea and Demaree scoring. Jurges singled to left, Hack stopping at third and Bush turning the pitching job over to Hoyt. Carleton bunted on the fly to Thevenow, Galan walked to fill the bases and Herman drove in two of his mates with a single to center. The fun stopped on Klein's bounder to Suhr.

The Cubs were on Hoyt's heels again in the seventh, one scoring. O'Dea singled to left but was forced on Demaree's bunt. Cavaretta slapped a single to right, Demaree going to third. He went in on Hack's fly to Young.

The Sox started out for a million runs in the first inning, but there was a sudden fadeout after a brilliant start. Radcliff opened the game with a single over Rogell's head and stopped at second on Piet's line single to left. Simmons ran the count to three balls and two strikes. He then singled to center, Radcliff scoring and Piet taking third. Bonura also ran the count to three and two, but popped to Gehringer. Washington laid down a perfect double play ball to Gehringer and the big rally was over. The Tigers went out in order in their half.

Fox made a fine running catch into right center to pull down Appling's drive at the start of the second inning, after which Dykes socked a single to center. Another double play called another halt.

Sox Argue Over Greenberg's Double.

The Tigers tied the score in their second inning. Greenberg doubled off the scoreboard in left center. Simmons played the ball perfectly, throwing cleanly to Piet at second. The game was delayed while the Sox argued that Greenberg had been retired. On resumption of play Goslin singled to right, scoring Greenberg. Rogell fouled to Sewell, Fox forced Goslin and Owen grounded out to Dykes.

After the Sox had gone out in order in the third inning the Tigers got busy in their half to the extent of loading the bases. White singled to right with one out. Cochrane's grounder took a hop over Dykes' head and went into left for a single, White stopping at second. Appling made a snappy play in front of second to get Gehringer. Greenberg was given an intentional pass, filling the bases, Goslin bounced to Bonura to end the threat.

Owen's Single Scores Rogell.

Rogell opened the home fourth with a double to right. He moved up on Fox's sacrifice. Owen singled to center, scoring Rogell. Crowder hit into a double play, Piet to Appling to Bonura.

White opened the Tiger fifth with his second single to right after which Cochrane walked on five pitches. Gehringer lined to Radcliff and then White was out, Sewell to Dykes on the front end of an attempted double steal. Cochrane reached second. Greenberg walked, the last ball being a pitchout, the second intentional pass for Hank. Goslin didn't accommodate on this occasion as in the previous inning—he singled, scoring Cochrane. Rogell singled to left, Greenberg scoring and Goslin stopping at second. Whitehead threw twelve foul strikes to Fox before he tossed a wide one. Then, on the fourteenth pitch Fox fouled to Dykes.

Radcliff singled to right to get the eighth inning under way. Piet drew a walk. Simmons sent a long foul to Fox, Radcliff taking third. Bonura walked, filling the bases. For the second time in the game Washington tapped into a double play, this time Rogell to Gehringer to Greenberg.

Fox opened the eighth with a double off the loud speaker device at the top of the scoreboard in left center and went to third on Owen's sacrifice. He scored on Crowder's grounder to Dykes. White fanned.

Appling doubled off the scoreboard to get the Sox ninth inning under way. He scored on Dykes' single to center. Sewell hit into the fourth Tiger double play. Conlan, batting for Salveson, reached second when Greenberg cuffed his grounder into the White Sox bull pen. Radcliff was out, Greenberg to Crowder, to end the game.

GOSSOON II. WINS FIRST RACE OF LIPTON SERIES

In the closest finish recorded by the Chicago Yacht club's fleet of R class sloops in three years, the Gossoon II. won the first round of the Lipton cup series, which began yesterday off Belmont harbor. Three yachtsmen, Malcolm Vail, Sterling Morton and Joseph Moller, own Gossoon II. jointly, but Skipper Vail was at the helm.

Six of the nine R boats racing crossed the finish line within 43 seconds, and it was not until a few feet from the finish that the winner or runner-up was sure of his place.

Ardelle Is Second.

Ardelle, C. E. [Chick] Waltman's entry, finished second, only three seconds after Gossoon II. Ardelle had led during the first part of the twelve miles sailed, but was cleverly overhauled by Mal Vail.

Aquila Leads Eagles.

Upholding their boat's title of 1934 Nutting Cup champion, the Robinson brothers, Sanger and Ted Jr., sailed their Aquila to first place in the Nutting cup race for Eagle class sloops. The Eagles sailed over the same course as the R's, and will race again today and tomorrow.

WIDENER SAYS HE LOST $45,500 ON RACING STABLE

Government Claims Back Taxes of $164,500.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—The government today discovered a man who claims to be in the horse racing game on a business basis, and strictly for the purpose of realizing a profit, but who insists he suffered a $45,500 loss in one year.

The man is Joseph E. Widener, wealthy Philadelphia sportsman, whose colors have been carried to victory by many famous horses. Mr. Widener's protestation that he is in the horse racing business for profit, but nevertheless, net losses have run him afoul of the income tax laws. The government claims he owes $164,500 in back taxes.

Mr. Widener's trouble appears to be that holding companies, which the New Dealers are attempting to drive out of the utility field, have invaded horse racing. In 1931, while Mr. Widener himself was losing $45,556 on his horses, there was a company named Elmendorf, Inc., which he owned. Elmendorf, Inc., in turn, owned race horses which were winning the tidy sum of $55,931 as Mr. Widener lost $45,556.

The New Dealers, who have no use for holding companies, anyway, have brushed aside Elmendorf, Inc., and added the winnings of its horses to Mr. Widener's own income, demanding that he pay tax thereon. According to the government, the Widener-Elmendorf horses won $24,224 at the Queens County Jocky club, $17,407 at Saratoga, N. Y., and $14,229 from Westchester Racing association during 1931.

than $1,300. Mrs. Coleman comes from Mattoon, Ill.

Does Joe Allen Ever Lose?

The holders of the other two tickets cashed in a hurry, one in the clubhouse and the other in the big ring, and disappeared. One was reported to be Joe Allen, the Cincinnati plunger, who has been in on nearly all the big daily double payoffs here this season.

Flight of Gold paid $13.80 when he won the six furlong second race. Prom Girl was coupled in the field when she won the third, and paid $80.80 to those who play field horses. Prom Girl, a daughter of Col. Edward R. Bradley's famous Bubbling Over, is owned by M. T. Cox, Kentucky. She was ridden by Jocky Fred Grill and was in front from start to finish, but lasted just long enough to beat the favorite, Legal Gamble, to the winning post by a head.

The Balmoral purse at six furlongs for 3 year olds was the feature number on the program and Be Shy, purchased by Charley Peck of the board of trade from Col. Edward R. Bradley only a week ago, turned in a brilliant performance to get the decision by a neck margin over Court Song and Surcouf. The favorite, Illeanna, from Ald. Coughlin's barn, was unable to be any closer than fourth.

The tiny hearted Very Wise, from the Southland stable of New Orleans, jumped out into an early lead of six lengths and seemed to be well on his way to victory when the stretch run started. Then he heard somebody come from behind and proceeded to get curious. He stopped and waited for Be Shy, Court Song, Surcouf, and Illeanna to race on past him. They split up the purse among themselves.

Be Shy Returns $12.00.

Mr. Peck made a good purchase in Be Shy if the ex-Bradley color bearer's race yesterday is a good indication. While badly outrun by Very Wise in the early stages Be Shy always was a powerful factor. He went a trifle wide heading into the stretch, but that didn't bother him. Just as soon as he got back into stride he raced on by Very Wise and the race was over. The payoff was $12.00 in the mutuels.

Twenty horses may go to the post in the $5,000 added Crete handicap, which is to feature the Lincoln Fields racing program tomorrow. It is the first of a series of five stake events to be run at Lincoln Fields during the 25 day season.

Trainer H. G. Bedwell plans to send Vicar, the Saratoga handicap winner, to the post in an overnight handicap at Lincoln Fields in a short time. Vicar and Sir Beverly, purchased by A. C. Compton, wealthy Californian, from William Woodward's Belair Stud stable, arrived at Lincoln Fields yesterday from Saratoga.

U. S. FORECASTS LARGER COTTON CROP THIS YEAR

Estimate Causes Sharp Break in Prices.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—A cotton crop of 11,798,000 bales this year was forecast today by the department of agriculture. This compared with 9,636,000 bales harvested last year. The estimate was about 400,000 bales in excess of trade expectations. Crop condition was placed at 73.6 per cent of normal against 60.4 per cent a year ago, and a 10 year average of 68.6 per cent.

In issuing the report Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said that if world consumption is maintained at present levels, foreign and domestic mills could be expected to require considerably in excess of 11,000,000 bales of American cotton. He also said that the stocks of approximately 5,000,000 bales held by the government would not be available to purchasers except at a price in excess of 13 cents a pound, and therefore this cotton would not be in competition with the new crop until prices reached that level.

Loan Figure Not Announced.

The department did not announce what amount would be loaned on cotton this season, but Wallace said that if, when the new crop began to move in volume, there appeared to be a tendency for prices to be depressed the administration would not hesitate to offer ample loans that would immediately absorb excess supplies.

"The administration sees no cause for anxiety in the present crop estimate," Wallace said. "There are ample resources available to carry the present stocks financed by the government for an indefinite period."

Ginnings from the new crop prior to Aug. 1 were reported by the census bureau at 94,241 running bales compared with 99,536 bales in 1934 and 171,254 bales in 1933.

COTTON PRICES DECLINE

The government report on cotton led to a selling movement yesterday which carried prices off as much as 42 points, or $2.20 per bale. Rallies later lifted quotations to within 13 to 24 points of the preceding close.

Spot cotton closed 20 to 25 points lower, equal to $1 to $1.25 per bale. New Orleans and Galveston closed at 11.45 cents, Houston 11.40 cents, and New York 11.65 cents. All deliveries of futures in the New Orleans market dropped below the 11 cent level at one time, or more than 1 cent a pound below the government loan basis for the 1934 crop. Prices follow:

RECORD LOW HOG SUPPLY SHUTS PART OF YARDS

AAA Killing Results in Fewer Jobs.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

With receipts of hogs this week setting a new all time low record officials of the Union Stock Yards and Transit company yesterday ordered the closing of half the hog pens at the stock yards as an economy measure.

Commission men, through the Chicago Live Stock exchange, immediately made strenuous protests to O. T. Hankle, general manager of the stock yard, arguing that the closing of half the facilities for handling hogs would increase their operating expenses. A conference was arranged for this morning to thresh out their differences.

Employment, already at an extremely low mark, is not expected to be affected by the economy move. Only about 200 hog handlers are now employed by the stock yards company, compared with 860 a year ago and a normal average of between 700 and 800.

Shortage Laid to AAA.

The extreme shortage of hogs, which has curtailed operations and employment in the packing and live stock industry and caused prices of pork and lard to skyrocket to levels at which consumers refuse to buy, is attributed largely to Secretary Wallace's AAA hog destruction campaign two years ago which resulted in the removal of six million sows and small pigs.

Lack of hogs has reduced jobs not only in the stockyards but in packing plants. Walter Hegeman, organizer for the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Workmen of North America, said yesterday that only about 1,050 of the 3,500 hog killers and butchers who are normally employed in Chicago packing plants now have jobs. Under an agreement with the workers the plants guarantee these men at least 32 hours of employment per week. Due to the shortage of hog supplies, however, Hegeman said that the workers would shortly agree to reducing this minimum to 25 or 30 hours in order to prevent additional layoffs. Most of these employés have families.

Packers Tell of Fewer Jobs.

Packing company officials yesterday verified the accuracy of Hegeman's figures. A representative on one of the "Big Four" said yesterday that his company's Chicago plant was employing only 5,500 employés, excluding office help, compared with 7,000 a year ago and 6,200 two years ago.

Other big packing companies reported that employment throughout the industry in Chicago is about 25 to 30 per cent below the average for the last five years. For the nation as a whole packing plant employment is about 40 per cent below the five year average. Some of the smaller cities in the central states have been hit even harder than Chicago. One big concern operating many plants throughout the country reports 18,000 employés now compared with an average of 27,000 for the last five years.

The packing industry has prided itself on its high level of employment during the depression. Prior to this year it was able to keep a larger percentage of employés at work than most other industries. The great shortage of hogs this year, following the AAA hog destruction, has resulted in a sharp curtailment of jobs.

Receipts at Record Low.

During the first four days of this week the Chicago stock yards have received only 32,600 hogs, including animals shipped direct to packers, and only 5,000 are estimated to be on the way here for today's market. In the corresponding four days last year hog receipts here totaled 88,631 and two years ago the four day run was 88,652.

Records dating back to 1878, thirteen years after the stockyards were opened on the present location, show that there has not been a time when this market has handled so few hogs. Never before has it been necessary to close any part of the yards because of low volume of receipts

Back in 1924 Chicago handled 122,749 hogs in one day without a hitch in the day's business. Lately receipts have been running very little more than 50,000 weekly and this week's receipts will not even reach that figure. A few years ago weekly receipts of 250,000 to 300,000 were not unusual. To date this year Chicago has received only 2,229,000 hogs, compared with 4,045,000 for the corresponding period of 1934.

The hog alleys, half of which have been ordered closed, consist of a double deck structure, reaching to within a city block of Halsted street on the east and extending almost to Racine on the west. It is less than half a city block wide. Trading is done on the upper deck. The pens below are used mostly for surplus hogs and for holding the animals after they are bought by the packers.

Permit Hanrahan to Hold Interlocking Rail Posts

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—William J. Hanrahan, who recently succeeded the late J. J. Bernet as president of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, was authorized today by the interstate commerce commission to hold the positions also of president of the Pere Marquette railway and director of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railroad and the Cleveland Union Terminals company. Bernet also was president of the Pere Marquette. The commission also authorized Herbert Fitzpatrick, vice president and general counsel of the Chesapeake and Ohio, to be a vice president of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad company.

Foreign Meat Pours In; U. S. Exports Fall

Further evidence of the breaking down of this country's meat exporting business and the dangerous increases in importation of meats and meat products from foreign nations was given out by the department of commerce yesterday.

Imports of chilled, fresh, frozen canned and cured beef, pork, other meat and poultry, as well as edible gelatin and beef and mutton tallow, for the first half of 1935 reached 196,015,246 pounds, compared with 17,832,611 pounds in the first six months of 1934. This is an increase of 1,000 per cent.

Of this amount 5,514,354 pounds consisted of beef, an increase of 1,106 per cent over the 456,945 pounds brought in during the first half of last year. Pork imports at 3,070,765 pounds, compared with 733,600 pounds in 1934, a gain of 318 per cent. Other meat at 463,259 pounds was up 171 per cent, and poultry gained 37 per cent.

Imports of Canned Meats Soar.

Imports of canned meats for the six months totaled 38,615,125 pounds, compared with 15,725,496 a year ago, an increase of 145 per cent. Edible gelatin at 829,962 pounds increased 42 per cent. Beef and mutton tallow imports were the biggest item on the list, totaling 147,324,956 pounds. There were no imports of beef or mutton tallow during the first half of 1934.

June imports of beef, pork, other meats, poultry, canned meats, edible gelatin, and beef and mutton tallow aggregated 33,282,121 pounds, valued at $2,178,749, compared with a combined total of 19,674,389 pounds with a value of $1,189,291 in January and only 2,995,224 pounds, valued at $284,628 in June, last year.

Pork imports rose to a new high for the year during June, the higher level of the American pork and hog markets being the incentive to bring in foreign pork to offset the meager supply in this country.

Pork Imported From Canada.

Imports of fresh, chilled, and frozen pork during June were 412,509 pounds, all from Canada, with a value of $67,545, compared with 51,449 pounds, valued at $9,018, in January and only 3,371 pounds, worth $540, in June, 1934.

While imports of pork are increasing, exports from the United States, the greatest pork exporting nation, are falling rapidly. Lard exports from Jan. 1 to July 27, inclusive, totaled only 73,483,000 pounds, compared with 297,539,000 pounds during the same period last year.

Pickled pork exported in this time at 5,713,000 pounds, compared with 10,249,000 pounds a year ago, while exports of bacon at 4,576,000 pounds, compared with 12,912,000 in 1934, and exports of hams and shoulders at 34,491,000 pounds, compared with 36,341,000 pounds a year ago.

Although beef imports still are running far above a year ago, they have tapered off in the last few weeks.

EXPORT BANK WON'T AID ITALY COTTON BUYING

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Official announcement was made today that, because of "generally unsettled" conditions, the Export-Import bank will take no action on the several applications filed by American exporters for extension of credits to finance cotton shipments to Italy.

Previously it had been stated that the bank would refuse credits for anything savoring of munitions shipments to foreign countries, but that a decision was yet to be reached with respect to the Italian cotton applications. Normally Italy takes 500,000 to 600,000 bales of American cotton annually for her textile industry. The several applications contemplated shipments running about 40,000 and 50,000 bales each. Italy may still purchase cotton, but only by cash or her own credit arrangements.

The decision on the applications was understood to be based in part on the prospect that the cotton might be used for munitions. No decision was made with respect to Ethiopia, as no applications involving her are pending, but it is assumed that the general rule for avoiding credit extensions for munitions shipments will apply to her also.

Little Change Expected in July Steel Shipments

Shipments of finished steel products by the United States Steel corporation in July are likely to show only a moderate change either way from the 578,108 tons sent out in June, Dow, Jones & Co., Inc., said today. Present indications are that there may be a small decrease, it is said.

MILWAUKEE LINE'S FAST TRAIN CLAIMS PASSENGER RECORD

After having established a number of world's speed records, the Milwaukee road's streamlined train, the Hiawatha, is now establishing records for number of passengers carried, W. B. Dixon, general passenger agent, said yesterday. During July the Hiawatha carried 20,237 passengers, which, Dixon said, exceeds all previous records for passengers carried on a newly established regular train.

Dixon said the figures include both through passengers and those traveling to intermediate stops, though through passengers predominated. The train on its northbound trip in July carried 10,230 and southbound 10,007, an average of 653 per day on the combined trips. This was an increase of 3,673 passengers, or 22.2 per cent, over the 16,564 revenue passengers carried in June.

Dixon pointed out that the public's acceptance of high speed travel is evidenced by the fact that 101 more passengers a day rode the train in July than in June.

The greatest number of passengers carried in one day last month was on July 27, when 526 rode the Hiawatha northbound and 464 southbound, a total of 990. This record was shattered last Saturday, when 592 were carried northbound and 476 southbound, a total of 1,068.

Gen'l Motors '35 Sales Pass Million Mark

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—July sales of General Motors cars to dealers in the United States and Canada, together with shipments overseas, totaled 167,790, compared with 134,324 in July a year ago. Sales in June were 181,188. Sales for the first seven months of 1935 totaled 1,056,350, compared with 884,600 for the same seven months of 1934.

Sales of General Motors cars to consumers in the United States totaled 108,645 in July, compared with 101,243 in July a year ago. Sales last month were the largest for July since 1929. Sales in June were 137,782. Sales for the first seven months of 1935 totaled 757,480, compared with 596,215 for the same seven months of 1934.

Sales to Dealers Increase.

Sales of General Motors cars to dealers in the United States totaled 139,021 in July, compared with 107,554 in July a year ago. This also was the best July record since 1929. Sales in June were 150,862. Sales for the first seven months of 1935 totaled 849,245, compared with 700,421 for the same seven months of 1934.

Sales and shipments of the Hudson Motor Car company during July were the best for the month in six years, William R. Tracy, vice president in charge of sales, announced yesterday. Retail sales in the United States totaled 7,079 units, the largest since 1929 and a gain of 14 per cent over July of last year. Shipments of 6,299 cars for the month, also the best since 1929, were 96.2 per cent higher than a year ago.

The sales gain over 1934 is being sustained during the first part of August, Tracy said, with the week ended Aug. 3 showing a gain of more than 30 per cent over the corresponding week of last year.

Last Year's Output Beaten.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 8.—[Special.]—General Motors has built its one millionth 1935 motor vehicle in United States and Canada factories 64 days ahead of the date on which the millionth car was turned out last year, William S. Knudsen, executive president of the General Motors corporation, announced today.

The one millionth vehicle this year, a Chevrolet, rolled off the assembly lines at Flint at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Knudsen said. The one million mark was reached last year Oct. 10. These figures, Knudsen said, do not include production in Germany or England.

COMMODITY RULE BILL IS SENT TO SENATE FLOOR

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—(AP)—Early senate action on the commodity exchange bill appeared likely today as the agriculture committee reported it out, conditioned, however, upon exemption of cotton exchanges. The bill passed the house June 3 and since then had been dormant in the senate committee.

An agreement was reached to report the bill out of the committee for passage provided house leaders would in turn agree to the cotton provision. Conferences were scheduled over the week-end on the issue.

Chairman Smith [Dm., S. C.] objected to inclusion of cotton declaring the cotton futures act was "working splendidly" and could be further bolstered by amendments he proposed offering next week, the principal one of which would regulate market operations of big holders of cotton.

FIRST DIVIDEND ON COMMON PAID BY ATLAS CORP.

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The Atlas corporation, largest of the general management type of investment companies, declared today its first dividend on Atlas common, amounting to $1,277,884 at 30 cents a share on 4,259,616 shares. Floyd B. Odlum, president, said in a letter to stockholders:

"Business conditions thus far in 1935 show an improvement which indicates that the forces of economic recovery may now be on sufficiently firm foundation to continue despite many adverse factors."

Net assets value of Atlas common as of June 30 was reported at $11.08 per share compared with $10.66 as of Dec. 31, 1934. Total gross assets as of June 30 were $110,713,000 compared with $110,517,000 as of Dec. 31, 1934.

The consolidated income account showed a net profit of $920,489 for the first six months of this year. Total income from dividends, interest and miscellaneous was $1,326,117, and the net profit on sale of securities was $893,685.

FRANC, GUILDER ADVANCE; FRENCH BANK RATES CUT

Paris Institution Shows Big Gain in Gold.

New York, Aug. 8.—[Special.]—Sentiment toward the gold bloc currencies improved today, helped by the Bank of France's reduction in the discount rate from 3½ to 3 per cent and the bank's statement showing a heavy inward flow of gold last week.

A reduction was also made in the rate on loans on gold bars, being cut from 7 to 6 per cent, and the first reduction on gold loans since the financial crisis in May caused the rate to be advanced from 3½ per cent. The bank also announced today the lowering of loans on securities from 5 to 4 per cent and on 30 day loans from 3½ to 3 per cent.

The reduction in the discount rate served to give notice that French authorities are confident of the franc's stability, and was in line with expectations in banking circles.

Rate Boosted to Retain Gold.

Last spring the French bank boosted the rate in order to bolster the exchange level of the franc and to halt the outflow of gold. The franc has shown considerable strength since the government recently embarked on an economy program planned to cut living costs and reduce government operating expenses.

The bank's weekly statement showed that gold reserves increased 354,000,000 francs last week, while circulation was up 1,086,900,000 francs.

Today the franc rose ⅝ point in New York to close at 6.62⅝ cents, which reduced the value of the dollar against francs to $1.0011 from $1.0016 yesterday. Based upon the old parity of the franc the dollar was worth 59.13 cents today, against 59.16 cents yesterday.

More Gold Comes from Holland.

Gold continued to pour into New York from Amsterdam. Today's arrivals were valued at $17,237,979, the largest receipts for a single day since the current movement out of Holland began with the recent cabinet and financial crisis there. Imports of the metal from Holland so far total $46,512,979.

Swiss francs gained 2 points today to close at 32.75 cents and Italian lire were ½ point higher at 8.22 cents. German marks advanced 4 points to 49.40 cents. Pound sterling was ¼ cent higher at $4.96½, while Scandinavian currencies were unchanged to 2 points higher.

Bar gold in London was up 1 penny at 140 shillings 6 pence a fine ounce, equivalent to $34.86.

Gold imports at New York for the week ended Aug. 7 totaled $12,622,000, the federal reserve bank reported. There were no exports. Receipt of $275,000 in gold from China was reported at San Francisco.

LIBERALS PLAN TO NATIONALIZE BANK OF CANADA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 8.—The Bank of Canada, the dominion's venture last year into the central bank field, will be nationalized if the Liberal party wins next month's federal elections, which is generally expected. Opening campaign speeches of the Liberal leader W. L. Mackenzie King confirm this intention on the part of the Liberals, who, during the parliamentary session which approved the institution, advocated a publicly owned Bank of Canada, giving the government "control of currency and credit."

The bank was opened in September, last year, as a private incorporation, with directors chosen by the government from various parts of the dominion and with 230,000 shares allocated to 12,200 private citizens who made application. The shares have a par of $50 and have been selling at $58. A selling flurry knocked the price down $3 today. The Liberals plan to buy in the shares at their par value.

POLAND, DANZIG SETTLE QUARREL OVER CUSTOMS

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The customs disagreement between Poland and Danzig, which threatened serious international complications, was settled amicably today with the signing of a four point accord by representatives of the two governments.

Under the agreement Danzig will cancel a decree permitting German goods to enter the Nazi controled free city without payment of duty; Poland will revoke an order prohibiting the collection of Polish customs fees in Danzig on imports destined for Poland,

FARM AND MAIL ORDER SHARES RISE SHARPLY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 8.—Farm and mail order shares were prominent in a moderately bullish stock market today. Sears Roebuck rose more than $2 a share to a new price peak for the year and Montgomery Ward reached a new high on a slightly less impressive move. Among the agricultural implement issues, Case and International Harvester were active and strong throughout the session. Case finished 1⅝ points higher and Harvester's net gain was almost as much.

The list developed some thin markets in places but most of the recognized leaders edged ahead. Secondary issues were unusually active, particularly in the early dealings. Fifty-seven new 1935 highs were established.

Political News Ignored.

The market ignored the domestic and world political situation, being influenced primarily by reports of improvement in basic industries and the favorable earnings statements of leading corporations. The technical position of the list, it was pointed out, had been strengthened by the development of a moderate short interest.

Declaration of the usual quarterly dividend of $1.50 by the Union Pacific shot that stock up to 101 from a price of 98½ at which it sold before the publication Monday of six months' earnings. This report had raised fears for the dividend and brought heavy selling into the issue causing a drop of around 6 points in one session. Profit taking sales turned the stock down again in the late trading today causing it to settle back to 98¾, a net gain of only a point.

Other rails were stimulated for a while by the flurry in Union Pacific, but few issues of the group retained gains of more than a fraction.

General Motors at New High.

Another dividend beneficiary to claim popular attention was General Motors, which sold up to 42⅝, the highest level since 1931. Brokers report considerable switching from other motor shares, but Hudson and Studebaker managed to register fractional progress.

Airplane issues came in for a larger share of attention and some of them went to new price tops. United Air Lines appeared in large blocks above 7, and Douglas and United Aircraft were prominent.

Steel stocks continued to make headway. Bethlehem preferred jumped 5 points, recovering much of the ground it lost on realizing sales following its runup on the $1.75 dividend declaration awhile back. Another feature was a 16 point jump in Omnibus preferred.

American Hide and Leather preferred, a bright spot in yesterday's dealings, moved forward another 3 points as the reorganization plan became better known, but slipped back somewhat in the later dealings.

Hurlin Chosen Secretary of Junior Commerce Body

Stanley Hurlin has been appointed executive secretary of the Junior Association of Commerce of Chicago, succeeding Letcher Lusby, who has resigned to become affiliated with the Young Republican headquarters in Des Moines, Ia., it was announced yesterday.

Urge Chicago Firms to Finance Here; Drop in New Bonds Cited

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Recent declines in the prices of bonds offered to the public in the last few weeks have directed attention to dissatisfaction expressed by leading La Salle street investment houses regarding the practice of large Chicago companies in going to New York to do their financing. The local houses assert that had the Chicago companies done their financing in their own city results would have been more favorable because of La Salle street's knowledge of middle western conditions.

Two cases cited were recent offerings of obligations of Armour & Co. of Delaware and the Pure Oil company, both of which have their headquarters in Chicago. In each case offerings by these companies were handled by syndicates headed by eastern investment houses.

Prices Much Lower.

The Armour offering was $48,000,000 first mortgage twenty year 4 per cent bonds priced at 98¼. The agreement binding the members of the syndicate offering the bonds expired on Wednesday. During yesterday's trading the bonds were priced at 93¾ bid and 94⅛ asked.

The Pure Oil issue of $15,000,000 of 4¼ per cent fifteen year notes was offered at 100. The syndicate closed last Saturday and yesterday the notes were quoted at 95½ bid and 96½ offered.

In each of these cases prospectuses filed with the securities and exchange commission disclosed that the houses selling the bonds received compensation of three points, which amounts to $30 per $1,000 of bonds sold. This spread provides for the cost of selling the bonds, offers protection should the prices of the bonds decline while in the dealers' hands, and provides dealers' profits.

The fact that these bonds are selling more than three points below the offering prices means that bonds left in the dealers' hands will be sold at a loss to them unless prices move upward again.

An official of one investment house said yesterday that Chicago organizations are in a better position to establish prices which will move bonds in the middle western territory. He said that it is possible for the local houses to operate on a smaller spread because of their knowledge of conditions here.

On the other hand, eastern houses are apt to handle deals with eastern institutional buying—life insurance, trusts, etc.—in mind, and when this ends they must market the bonds where they can, but particularly in territory where the names back of the securities are best known.

Delay Illinois Qualification.

An official pointed out that the Pure Oil syndicate manager failed to qualify the securities in Illinois and a number of other western states at the time of issue, a fact which lost the bonds considerable of the selling impetus connected with first day's market push. They have since been qualified.

"Chicago companies should do their financing in Chicago," another investment house official said. "Financing can be handled just as easily here as in the east. Chicago companies are interested in building up their companies. They can do this by helping to build up Chicago as a financial center.

"Financing in Chicago means work for Chicago lawyers, Chicago banks, and other Chicago companies. It all helps the companies directly involved. Further, financing can be done at lower cost here than in New York."

CHICAGO AUTO SHOW TO BE HELD EARLIER; NEW DATE NOV. 16-23

The annual Chicago Automobile show will be held from Nov. 16 to 23 instead of in January, when it has been held since the first show in 1900. The date was set yesterday by a committee of the Chicago Automobile Trades' association at a meeting in the Congress hotel.

The reason for the change, according to A. C. Faeh, manager of the association, is because President Roosevelt has asked automobile manufacturers to produce their new models at an earlier date in order to give work during the winter months, when plants ordinarily would be closed.

Although the location of the show has not been definitly decided yet, it was said that many of the association members favor the International amphitheater at the stockyards. A decision is expected next week.

CHICAGO SELLS NEW BONDS AT RECORD PRICE

Banks Bid 103.692 for 3½% Issue.

A syndicate of 31 banks, headed by Brown, Harriman & Co., Inc., of New York, yesterday submitted a high premium bid of $356,843.50 on $9,647,000 of the city's 3½ per cent refunding bonds to be issued to meet maturities of Jan. 1, 1936. Eighty banks competed in the bidding, which brought highest bond prices in the city's history.

Of the total issue $5,000,000 will mature Jan. 1, 1953, callable Jan. 1, 1946, and the balance will mature Jan. 1, 1955, callable Jan. 1, 1951.

City Controler Robert B. Upham, who was empowered by the city council to accept the high bid, announced the transaction will be closed Sept. 1. The purchase money will be held in escrow until Jan. 1, when it will be used to redeem 4 and 5 per cent bonds falling due.

Mayor Calls Credit Sound.

"We have checked the records and cannot find a time when the city received better prices on its bonds," he said. "We also believe it is the first time that the leading banks of the entire country showed such interest in Chicago securities.

"I think the spirited bidding for these bonds fully demonstrates Chicago's credit is now perfectly sound. It was not so many years ago that governments in this area were forced to sell bonds at 90, and it was an achievement to obtain par. This price of 103.692 received today is certainly a fine tribute to Chicago's financial structure."

A syndicate of eight Chicago banks, headed by the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, was third in the bidding with an offer of $251,642 premium.

Eastern Syndicate Is Second.

The second bidder was another eastern syndicate led by Chase National bank and the National City bank, both of New York. The offer was $350,186.10 premium. Halsey-Stuart headed a fourth place syndicate with a bid of $179,916.

Almost every leading city and bank in the country were represented in the various syndicates, it was pointed out. This is in contrast with similar Chicago bond transactions in recent

HINTS HUGHES GOT FUNDS OF APPRAISAL FIRM

Employe Quotes Concern Head at SEC Hearing.

William J. Howard was quoted yesterday by a former employé as having said that Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes had taken funds of William J. Howard, Inc., a firm recommended by the "blue sky" division of the secretary's office to make appraisals prior to qualification of securities for sale in Illinois. The testimony was given at a hearing by the Securities and Exchange commission in its offices at 231 South La Salle street on an action to bar registration of securities of the newly formed Peoria Distilleries, Inc.

SEC officials refused to say whether Secretary Hughes will be asked to testify at the hearing, but it was understood they planned to communicate with the main office at Washington for instructions on the matter.

Charles A. Ordway, 3326 Pine Grove avenue, a consulting engineer and former employé of the Howard firm, was the witness from whom the testimony was extracted by E. Forrest Tancer, trial attorney for the SEC, over the constant and vigorous objections of D. E. Terrill of the law firm of Chapman & Cutler and counsel for Howard.

Many Appraisals Made.

Ordway said he was sure more than 100 appraisals had been made for the Illinois commission in the 13 months he was with the Howard firm. He knew of no other company doing such work in that period. He left the firm in August, 1934, when told its funds were depleted and that nothing more than temporary work could be arranged. At one time he had been told he was vice president.

"Did Howard tell you what happened to the funds?" asked Tancer.

"Howard stated to me that Hughes had taken the funds," Ordway said. He also said he had talked with Howard after leaving the firm with regard to qualifying securities of the Arizona Comstock corporation.

"Why did you discuss this with Howard?" asked Tancer.

Sought to Qualify Stock.

"It was the only manner in which it could be done," Ordway replied.

"You mean you couldn't qualify securities otherwise?" the attorney pursued. "And that was the reason you discussed the matter with Howard?"

Ordway assented. He explained that Howard told him he [Ordway] couldn't do the job alone; that the matter at least would have to pass through Howard's office.

"Do you know if Howard received stock from any of the companies for which he did work?" Tancer continued. The only case Ordway knew of concerned a now defunct company in which securities never were issued. The stock was for services, he explained. The stock for Howard was made out in the name of William J. Garvy, a deputy assessor in the railroad division of the county assessor's office. Ordway said this was done as a matter of expediency and no dishonesty was involved.

Tancer obtained from Ordway testimony that Howard told him there were stockholders in the company aside from his family. Howard testified on Wednesday that all stock was owned by his family.

BONDHOLDERS CRITICIZE PLAN TO REVAMP 'MOP'

New York, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Strong objections to the Van Sweringen plan for reorganization of the Missouri Pacific railroad were made today by the protective committee for holders of the road's 5 per cent first and refunding mortgage bonds.

The objections were stated by the committee in a letter to holders of the bonds. They follow:

"The retirement fund provided in connection with the proposed creation of new convertible income general mortgage bonds is most objectionable.

"The proposed capital structure leaves the company topheavy with debt and affords no permanent or satisfactory solution of its financial problem.

"The plan contemplates continuance of control in the present management. This the committee believes unsatisfactory, as it feels that control, at least of the financial policy, should rest with the bondholders during the adjustment period.

"No provision is made for the greater part of the past due and unpaid interest on the first and refunding bonds.

"No limit is placed on future borrowing.

"Purchase of terminal properties at Kansas City and St. Joseph, Mo., is suggested at a price believed by the committee to be more than double the real value to the Missouri Pacific."

REACTION IN LARD FUTURES AFTER REACHING NEW HIGHS

Lard futures after selling at new levels for the season at the opening yesterday developed a reactionary tendency in later trading, with the May delivery closing with a net loss of 50 cents, the maximum permitted for one day's operations under exchange regulations. There was no material pressure on the nearby futures, however, which finished unchanged as compared with Wednesday. The latter were affected to some extent by the strength in the cash article which advanced 10 cents to $16.10 per 100 pounds. Bellies [salt pork] were nominally unchanged.

Profit taking was largely responsible for the recession in prices following the opening, due to the sensational advance which has taken place in the past few weeks. Loose lard was quoted at $15.80, leaf at $16.00, and bellies at $19.10 per 100 pounds. Liverpool lard futures after being strong early reacted and late cables reported the market there at 6 pence to one shilling 3 pence lower per 112 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds:

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 8.—Unsettlement in the market for United States government loans was the feature of bond trading on the New York exchange today. Trading in the federal issues expanded sharply, with sales reaching $3,350,000, compared with $700,000 on Wednesday.

The announcement that the treasury department will market another block of $100,000,000 of the 2¾ per cent issue next Monday on a competitive basis caught the government bond trade by surprise, and a reflection of their disapproval was shown in rather extensive declines throughout the list.

Treasury 3⅛s Weakest.

Losses ranged from 1-32 to as high as 7-16 of a point, with the treasury 3⅛s of 1949-'52 losing most in the heaviest turnover. The 2¾s declined 11-32 on sales of $967,000. The financial district had expected that the government would forgo another issue of the 2¾s in favor of a substantially larger issue with a medium maturity.

Speculative interest continued to center in the securities of local traction companies, with further good sized gains ruling in that group. New York Railways prior lien bonds responded briskly to the demand with advances of 2 to 3 points, while Manhattan Railway and Interborough issues extended their recent gains to reach new high levels for the year.

Secondary Rails Improve.

Secondary rail lines displayed a slightly better tone during the day, while many of the public utility issues attracted a fair demand and made fractional gains. Warren Brothers 6s were again under pressure and had a further loss of about 3 points.

Dribbling liquidation continued to affect the market for Italian dollar bonds as the outlook for ultimate settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute was darkened by persistent reports of troop mobilization by both countries. Losses in those issues ranged from fractions to over 2 points.

Niagara Hudson Power.

Investors' Guide: Will you please give me information about Niagara Hudson Power?—Miss T. E.

Answer: Niagara Hudson Power corporation is a utility holding company. On its board of directors are members of J. P. Morgan & Co., Bonbright & Co., Inc., and United Corporation.

Through operating subsidiaries it operates a completely interconnected electric system across New York state from Buffalo to Albany. Branch power lines extend north to Watertown and Ogdensburg.

The corporation has abundant cheap hydroelectric generating capacity and ample sites for potential capacity. A large portion of output is to industrial consumers, the supplying of large quantities at low rates. These contracts call for minimum charges, which provisions helped the company maintain its output and income when normal industrial takings were low.

Gross revenues in the first quarter of 1935 increased about 4 per cent over the corresponding 1934 period and net income increased about 3 per cent to total $1,773,000, or 20 cents a share.

1934	$73,567,000	$ 4,052,000	$ .46
1933	69,000,000	5,778,000	.66
1932	71,806,000	9,378,000	1.07
1931	77,449,000	13,410,000	1.54

The downward shift in net income in the face of higher gross represents the million dollar tax increase, cut in rates, higher takings by low rate users and increased costs of raw materials and labor.

On Dec. 31, 1934, the excess of current liabilities over current assets was $1,859,000, against $2,884,000 the year before.

Niagara Hudson has no funded debt of its own, but subsidiaries' funded debt totaled 218,143,000, down more than $6,000,000 from the year before. Capitalization consists of 8,738,559 shares of $15 par capital stock on which nothing has been paid since 1933.

The company operates in a rich territory that shows promise of future growth, and operating costs are comparatively low. Earnings, however, have not reacted quite satisfactorily to increased gross revenues, due to taxes and other factors. Anti-holding utility legislation adds another unsettling factor.

Tobacco Products Corp.

Investors' Guide: Will you kindly send whatever information you have on Tobacco Products corporation debentures due Nov. 1, 2022?—G. T. J.

Answer: This issue of bonds was called for payment on Jan. 31, 1935, at par and accrued interest. They are therefore no longer available as an interest-bearing security.
